THE DAIRY BUSINESS AGAIN.

WILL INCREASE VALUE OF LAND.

It has Enriched Other Places and Other People, and Will Do the Same For Us.

The more we study the dairy business the more are we satisfied that it is the friend of Southside Virginia farmers, and being their friend is the friend of all of us.

The history in Wisconsin reads like romance. In that we are told that dairying led to the renovation of the soil and to greatly increased values of land, and these conditions reacted more against the growing of wheat, until the latter industry has been almost entirely driven from the State. Dairying required the exercise of a far more discriminating intelligence and unremitting care than the growing of wheat, and afforded a much larger sphere for the application of technical knowledge. The compact organization of the dairy farmers, which the co-operative nature of the industry and the high range of intelligence among dairymen furthered, afforded another telling advantage over wheat growing as a pursuit. Favorable rates for transportation were secured for dairy products and a permanent market was insured by the development of a high grade product of uniform quality. And what has been done in Wisconsin where the winters are long and cold can be better done in Virginia, and especially in this section of the State.

To grow tobacco you must have able bodied labor and at the proper time, while even the chaps about the home can aid in caring for cows. And man the cow is a land improver while tobacco is a land impoverisher. How much more pleasant too to handle milk than handle the weed.

The market for dairy products is said to be safe and steady. In this connection we are reminded that the cities of Virginia buy immense quantities of cream and butter from Western sources. Virginia farmers should supply this Virginia want.

But why go to the far off State of Wisconsin in search of object lessons to recommend the dairy business? We need only take time to call on neighbor Sandy who will not only tell us about it but will show just how the work can be profitably done.

The Concrete Pavement.
We have somewhere read that it is a practical and economical to make pavements entirely of concrete. It is a sanitary pavement and is easily kept clean, as the concrete surface sheds the street dirt readily, and it appears suitable for both light and heavy traffic, affording excellent foothold for horses. This pavement, although having a rigid surface, is not noisy, having a rumbling, instead of a sharp, clicking sound customary in brick pavement.

What say you, Mr. Slocombe? Our Main street pavement is rough at this rate.

Farmville Building and Trust Company.
At a meeting of the Directors held July 6, appropriate resolutions were adopted in the death of Dr. Jas. L. White, who has been the president of the Company since its organization, April 28, 1905.

Capt. E. S. Martin was elected a Director to fill the vacancy. Mr. H. E. Wall was elected president. Capt. A. W. Patten was elected vice-president. Dr. C. B. Crute was elected in place of E. S. Martin.

Mayor's Monday Morning Court.
The case charged with larceny of a watch, was sent on to the Sheriff. An incorrigible youth, charged with larceny in life was sent to the reformatory.

Attention, Co., 3rd Va. Cavalry.
The 3rd Va. Cavalry will you kindly remember your valuable space in the Herald, who yet remain of the 3rd Va. Cavalry Troop to express their appreciation and promise attendance at the old company reunion at Farmville Fair. Capt. J. M. Haskins, Lieutenant Haskins, and others are all alive, and are waiting for you on a raid around the State, and around the world. Write to A. A. Haskins, 1015 1/2th St., Washington, D. C. or to the undersigned at Meber's, 1015 1/2th St., Washington, D. C. We will know who to expect in a few years, etc.

W. H. Ewing.

Notice to Teachers.
The regular summer examinations preparatory to the granting of certificates to teachers will be held this year on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, July 29th, 30th and 31st. This is the last chance for teachers without certificates, as the first set of examinations were held in the Spring. Examinations will be put up each day promptly at 9 a. m., in the rooms of the High School buildings of Farmville.

P. TULANE ATKINSON, Superintendent.

Cleaning Up Day.
Don't forget that Monday next, the 12th, is general cleaning up day for all Farmville. Sweep the premises clean and clear of all that offends the eye, put it in receptacles on the side walk in front of your home and the wagons will do the rest. No one should neglect the very reasonable request of Mayor Blanton, and let the work be well and thoroughly done. The chain is no stronger than its weakest link, and Farmville will not be clean unless every spot in it is made clean.

Delay in taking Foley's Kidney Remedy if you have headache, kidney or bladder trouble, hastens the disease upon you and makes a cure more difficult. Commence taking Foley's Kidney Remedy today and you will soon be well. Why risk a serious malady? Sold by all druggists.

DISTRICT CONFERENCE.

LARGE NUMBER OF DELEGATES IN ATTENDANCE.

Pleasant and Profitable Session, Marked by Spiritual Uplift.

The Farmville District Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, met at the Methodist Church in this place on Tuesday morning last at 9:30, and after introductory religious services entered at once upon the business of the session. A complete list of delegates was given in last week's issue of the Herald.

At 8 p. m. the Rev. George Smith of the Cumberland circuit, occupied the pulpit and preached an interesting and instructive sermon, with "Ideals" as his subject.

Missions was the key note of the Conference. The layman's movement was discussed by Messrs. J. P. Pettyjohn, Paul Jones, J. E. Clark and H. E. Barrow. The Orphanage was endorsed earnestly and the prospect of raising $20,000 was received with pleasure.

Mr. Earnest Lee Copley, of Lunenburg, was licensed to preach.

Rev. Hanas P. Clarke was recommended to the Annual Conference for admission trial.

Dr. H. E. Johnson, the gifted pastor of Charlottesville, was a visitor to the Conference and stirred the body with his strong exposition of Methodist doctrine.

Rev. B. M. Beckham, of Memorial, Lynchburg, and brother to Dr. Paul Beckham, greatly encouraged the body with a report of the way in which his Church had raised $5,000 for missions this year.

The Farmville Methodist Church will be the banner missionary Church of the district.

At 11:30 a. m. on Wednesday, Dr. E. H. Rawlings delivered a forceful and impressive address on Missions, and at 8 p. m. of the same day Rev. Dr. Winn, of Petersburg, preached, and as is his wont, a sermon of rare power and beauty. He had as his theme the scene of the "Transfiguration," and drew from it the necessity of the spiritual vision in order to properly discern spiritual truth, and then told in eloquent and soul-stirring manner of visions caught by the favored three as they communed with the Savior from the mountain's top of privilege, learning lessons of God's dealings with his people through the ages as they have come and gone.

The mere mention of the sermon which we are forced to make gives but poor conception of its fullness and but mars its beauty and symmetry. To have heard again this gifted pulpit orator was a much prized privilege and genuine pleasure. At the conclusion of the sermon Conference adjourned with the benediction by the venerable and venerated Mr. Littleton.

A Few Questions.
Editor Herald:—As a citizen of Farmville I would like to ask a few questions of the town Dads:

If one of the councilmen were to contract with a man to do a piece of work, would he be willing to employ another man at $2.00 per day to watch the contractor, if not why do they spend the people's money thus?

Next—Does the Street Committee get a salary, if so, how much, and what is he supposed to do? What is a street Committee?

A FAMILY OF TEACHERS.

MOTHER, DAUGHTER AND GRAND DAUGHTER.

Three Generations Engaged in the Good Work Sitting Side by Side

Something unique in the history of teaching is to be observed at our Summer Normal for this session, mother, daughter and grand daughter sitting in the same class-room, listening to the same teachers and preparing for better work in the school rooms of Virginia. The grand mother is only so many years young, while daughter and grand daughter are so many years old. And the enthusiasm of the one is just as great as that of the other two. This is said to be the age of young men, but let us hope that the old woman will be given a fair chance. In the opinion of some people it is a little impertinent to be living past fifty, but it may be that in the larger school room of experience, some things of real value may be learned that are not taught out of the books. The young are not all wise nor are the old all foolish. The boy fresh from college may "know it all," and yet the "old man" at home may teach him a "thing or two."

Some men past eighty have taken up new studies and mastered them, and yet we are told to lift our hats to the young men who on yesterday had on shirt breeches and who today parade around in full length trousers "monarch of all they survey."

But the angels are all young, and on some of them wings are yet to be found.

Formally Declared Nominees.

Senator John W. Daniel, for the United States Senate; Joseph D. Eggleston, Jr., Superintendent of Public Instruction; Asher W. Harman, Treasurer of the State, and David Q. Eggleston, Secretary of the Commonwealth, were formally declared the nominees of the Democratic party by State Chairman Elysson, and their names will not appear on the ballot.

Elysson is vested with authority in the matter, and there was no opposition to either of them. He exercised his authority, and declared the men the nominees. This will obviate the printing of their names on the ballots to be used in the State primary August 5, and will greatly lessen the work of the officers.

Must be rather comfortable feeling to the boys who have to face no primary in August, and no foe in November of whom they have any fear. All summer dullness gone out of their lives.

Loafers Nuisance.

I notice in passing along the street at all times of the day, a crowd of young men loafing on the streets. If there was no work to do in Farmville, there would be some excuse, but there is a plenty of work for every body in town. Now if these young men were in a strange city, they would not be allowed to loaf on the streets. And if a crowd of strangers were to come here and loaf on our streets, the policeman would order them to move on or would be arrested.

Now, why should these young men be allowed a privilege here that would not be tolerated elsewhere, or would not be allowed others coming here? We all know they or their parents are not able to keep them in idleness.

Citizen.

NEW TELEPHONE SYSTEM.

Contract has Been Let Western Electric Co., For Latest and Best in Telephone Construction.

Negotiations have now been completed for a new telephone system for this town, and work will begin immediately. The Farmville Telephone Company, composed of R. B. Johns, President; R. B. Johns, Jr., Gen'l. Manager; E. R. Booker, Secretary-Treasurer, and W. C. Newman, G. M. Robeson, Dr. W. E. Anderson, J. Taylor Thompson, F. M. Bugg and J. L. Bugg, Directors, has contracted with the Western Electric Co., of Atlanta, Ga., for one of their new No. 1256 Switchboards, and for cable and all material necessary for a modern telephone exchange.

The lines of the Southern Bell Telephone and Southside Telephone Companies will terminate in this switchboard, which feature will prove of inestimable value and convenience to their patrons, in that subscribers can call or be called at their respective homes or places of business to or from any place on the Southern Bell Telephone Company's lines.

Their new switchboard represents the latest ideas in engineering and operation, and is designed for use where high class service is demanded by the subscribers. With it the operator can handle calls at a much greater speed with less effort, and almost no chance for errors. When a subscriber rings, a white signal appears before the operator and remains there until the operator answers the call which act automatically restores the signal to its normal position. All lines in the town will be run in lead cables, which insures better transmission and eliminates all the open wires which are now an eye-sore to our people.

The local company has contracted with Mr. C. J. Huie, of Blackstone, Va., for the installation. He is said to be one of the foremost telephone engineers of this State. Mr. C. M. Dunklee, representative of the Western Electric Company, was in Farmville a week measuring the cable runs and determining the best methods for operating and distributing the lines.

The Farmville Telephone Company is using every effort to put in the best equipment, and to give the people of this community an up-to-date service, and will no doubt receive the co-operation of our people in the enterprise.

Don't think that piles can't be cured. Thousands of obsolete cases have been cured by Doan's Ointment. 50 cents at any drug store.

The Fourth in Farmville.

Last Monday, the 5th, was observed as National holiday the country over, and was attended by the usual number of deaths, bruises, wounds, etc. In Farmville we went about our everyday work as though no immortal paper had ever been penned, and no great struggle ever been made for independence. Even the bill collectors went their rounds, but fortunately the banks were closed and no stunning "drafts" blew upon us. None of our young folks suffered harm and only here and there a stray fisherman was seen on the shore. The day in the natural world was simply perfect. Cool and bracing, sunny yet stimulating. We popped no pop crackers and yet we are patriotic.

Union Services.

Union services were held at the Methodist Church, on last Sunday evening, when Rev. Dr. Hatcher preached an impressive sermon with the "Pearl of Great Price" as his text. Revs. Fugate and Boogher, assisted in the service and the audience was a splendid one, the summer students being out in full force.

Delay in commencing treatment for a slight irregularity that could have been cured quickly by Foley's Kidney Remedy may result in a serious kidney disease. Foley's Kidney Remedy builds up the worn out tissues and strengthens these organs. For sale by all druggists.

A good sister of the Methodist church said to a good sister of the Presbyterian church, "If you Presbyterians will wait until our Conference meets next November we will send you a good preacher." And it looks as though they would have to wait, and if Dr. Hatcher should be ordered by the Bishop to take charge of the church here he wouldn't have far to move, and might remain in Farmville for another four years.

Every bottle warranted, but not one returned, is the report regarding Dr. SETH ARNOLD'S BALSAM, (the best Summer Remedy) from a large number of Druggists in the South. This balsam is warranted to you by White & Co.

You must apply yourself before you will get others to.

SHOT TO DEATH.

NEGRO MURDERS WIFE IN PRESENCE OF CHILDREN.

Surrenders to Commonwealth's Attorney. Locked in Jail.

James Henry Scott, colored, is in Prince Edward jail charged with the cruel murder of his wife, who had left his roof. The crime was committed on Wednesday evening about sundown near Sandy River Church, and after being sure of his wife's death Scott came towards Farmville until he reached the home of Commonwealth's Attorney Watkins, to whom he related what he had done. Judge Watkins telephoned to Chief of Police Fogus to come for the negro.

From his own statement it appears that Scott and his wife had parted, the three children remaining with the mother. This latter circumstance seemed to weigh mightily upon the father, and, as he stated to the officer, he could stand it no longer. Going over to where his wife lived he found her sitting in the doorway sewing with her children about her. He asked to be allowed to take away his children, and being refused he told his wife that both of them had as well die, and pulling a revolver quickly fired a bullet into her body. She fell dead.

It is believed by the officer who arrested Scott that it was the negro's intention to turn the pistol upon himself, but his nerve failing in this he deliberately surrendered regardless of consequences. After being taken in charge by the police he talked very much and was exceedingly nervous.

SATURDAY STREET SCENES.

Our Main Street Gay and Lively.

Walking down our Main street on last Saturday between the hours of 5 and 6 p. m., we became interested in the moving throng, the crowds in the stores, the vehicles standing on the streets, the varied costumes, the swing of the maidens, the ha! ha's! of the men, and the general good humor that prevailed and pervaded the whole scene. If any one of the number was tired from the work of the week there was no evidence of it, if any were care worn we could not detect it, if any were short of the ready cash nothing was said of it, and if any left town without bundles we did not observe the fact. The grocery stores and the five and ten cent store were crowded, and in all the stores the crowd gathered, and buying and selling seemed to be the order of the day. Saturday is a great day, and our one regret is that we haven't two Saturdays in each week. Chief Fogus stood in the midst with one of his assistants, Policeman Fretwell, hard by, but the complaint was "nothing doing." All quiet along Main street was repeated from post to post. The millennium hasn't come but, let us hope, the world is getting to be better.

Miss Topsy Turvy.

"Miss Topsy Turvy," a comedy of three acts, was given at Sunny Side by local talent on Wednesday, June 30th. From the beginning to the end the interest of the crowd did not wane, but each appearance brought forth an applause which made the building shake as it laughed with the large audience.

The leading character, Topsy Turvy, was played by Miss Mollie Byerley, who in her naive and attractive way charmed the whole audience. Topsy, with the help of her cousin, Frank Golden, (Cabel Branch) delighted the audience with the jokes and pranks they played upon their household.

The most ridiculous and amusing couple was Deacon Jones and Miss Spriggs. The maiden lady succeeded in bringing the Deacon around in many ways. These two characters were presented by Miss Mollie Byerley and Mr. Maynard French. Other characters were Lord Clarence, Mrs. Clarendon, May Golden and Ned, which were very successfully and well rendered by Mr. Thomas Clarke, Miss Janie Clarke, Miss Kathleen Frayser and Mr. Tom Johnson.

A minstrel show and ice cream supper also added charm to the evening. The whole entertainment was a success both financially and as a theatrical performance.

Sunday Office Hours.

The Sunday office hours at the Farmville postoffice are as follows:
From 8:30 to 9:00 a. m.
From 12:30 to 1:30 p. m.
From 4:00 to 4:30 p. m.
R. W. Garnett, P. M.

Recognition comes to the man of ignition—who is on fire.

AT THE MARRIAGE ALTAR.

PRETTY HOME WEDDINGS.

Wooten-Wade. Hanbury-Blanton.

On Wednesday evening at 2:30, a pretty wedding took place at the home of Mrs. Jennie Wade, when her daughter Elizabeth, became the bride of Mr. Frank Wooten, of Greenville, N. C. The ceremony was solemnized by Rev. H. Tucker Graham in the spacious parlor which was beautifully decorated with palms and ferns.

While the wedding march was being sweetly rendered by Mrs. J. M. Crute, the bride gowned in an exquisite white messaline, carrying a showery bouquet of white roses, came in on the arm of her brother, Mr. Edwin C. Wade.

The maid-of-honor, Miss Frankie McKinney, was handsomely attired in a blue silk gown with duchess lace, and carried pink carnations. The groom came in with his best man, Mr. Preston Cotton, of Norfolk, a former law-partner.

Mr. Archer Wade and Mr. V. D. Venable met the guests and ushered them into the parlor, where an aisle was formed with ribbons by Misses Virginia Richardson and Kate Cox.

After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Wooten left on the evening train for Virginia Beach, Washington and other points north. The bride's going-away gown was gray with hat, veil and gloves to match.

Among the out of town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. William Pettigrew, of Florence, S. C., Mrs. Rosa Macfarlane, of Richmond; Miss Mary Wade, of Richmond; Miss Mollie Boaz and Mrs. Eva Hamner, of Albemarle; Miss Champe Douthat, of Danville; Miss Bettie Wade and Miss Addie Venable.

The bride is the pretty and attractive daughter of Mrs. Jennie Wade, of Farmville, and leaves many friends who regret her departure.

Mr. Wooten is a prominent citizen of his town, having held the office of Mayor for a number of years, and is now President of the Chamber of Commerce. A host of friends will welcome them in their future home.

Home Marriage.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles William Blanton announce the marriage of their daughter, Martha Virginia, to Mr. Fred Hall Hanbury, of Norfolk, at 9:30 a. m., Tuesday, sixth of July. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. H. Tucker Graham, president of Hampden-Sidney College.

The parlor was beautifully decorated with palms and ferns, while many pink candles shone from the handsome old brass and cut glass candelabra.

Mendelsohn's wedding march was sweetly rendered by Miss Harriet King Bugg at the piano, accompanied by Miss Mildred Elizabeth Blanton with the violin. The bride wore an exquisite travelling gown of green messaline satin, trimmed with Irish point lace and buttons, and carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley.

Miss Emma Elizabeth Blanton, a sister of the bride, was her maid of honor. She was dressed in a pretty pink silk mull, princess style, with beaded trimmings, and carried pink carnations and ferns. Mr. Raymond D. Hall, of Norfolk, acted as best man. Messrs. Frank S. and D. Burton Blanton, brothers of the bride, were the ushers.

The bride is a young woman of rare personal charms and the groom, one of Norfolk's successful business men. The popularity of both was manifested by the many handsome and useful presents of furniture, silver, cut glass, china and linen.

Mr. and Mrs. Hanbury will make their home in Norfolk, 37th street, Colonial Place. The marriage was very quiet on account of the extreme illness of the groom's sister, only the immediate families being invited.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Burton Blanton (uncle and aunt of the bride) of New York City, accompanied the couple on the 10:30 Norfolk and Western train.
