ANOTHER MILE-POST.

With this issue the HERALD enters upon the twelfth year of life.

With a heart full of gratitude we send glad greetings and good wishes to all our patrons and comrades in arms. "May you live long and prosper."

Pardon a word of self-congratulation. Our list of readers was never so long, our job office never so complete, our enthusiasm never so great, our hopes never so bright and our weekly visits never so numerous. We are invading new States and Territories and have found our way across the seas, and everywhere waving high in midair the Virginia banner with Farmville and Southside Virginia shining out conspicuously on its every fold. This does not mean that we are cultivating the international or even national field to the exclusion of the local. We realize in full force that our chief work is to furnish our readers a local paper, and our earnest effort is to make it intensely so. We do not aspire to the dignity of a daily, and have no desire for the magazine flavor.

In our editorial columns we endeavor each week to touch upon the leading events of the day and in brief paragraphs to commend or condemn, so that the reader who has access to no other paper may not be ignorant of current happenings.

Realizing as we do that the farming interests of this section are of prime importance, that Farmville draws its very life-blood from field and forest, we go from farm to farm to gather facts, which with weekly regularity we give to our readers with the earnest purpose of encouraging home workers, and to induce others to make their homes with us.

We beg right here to express our grateful appreciation of the generous assistance received from our farmers in promotion of this good work, and to all of our correspondents for their quickened interest in the general effort of the HERALD to make itself worthy of the place where it is published and of the people by whom it is read.

With honor for the past, help for the present and hope for the future, we enter upon the work of another year.

TOUCH ELBOWS.

Democrats have no time now to waste in family rows. Differences of State scope were settled at Norfolk and those of a local kind should be settled at home. It is hardly decent to be running to Richmond with Democratic differences. We know nothing of the merits of the Norfolk controversy but we do know that Norfolk Democrats should have constituted the court of last resort. There is serious work just now to be attended to, and there is no time for foolishness.

Mrs. Roosevelt and the children have joined the president in the white house, but there will be no formal entertainments until after the 1st of January.

Col. Hoge has invited President Roosevelt to his inaugural, and the president has consented. He will get there as soon as Col. Hoge reaches Canton.

Three cheers for the mother of President Roosevelt, who gave a miniature Confederate flag to the breeze from her own window, and refused to take it down at the bidding of a mob. No wonder that from such loins sprung a brave son.

THE CONVENTION.

Three reports have been submitted by the Suffrage Committee, each too long for place in the columns of the HERALD, and so different in features that we fear no coming together will follow. We must be permitted to say that they are all too wordy, and that if either one should be accepted in its present form it would take a jury of "Philadelphia lawyers" to construe its recommendations and put into practical operation. Strange to say, Senator Daniel, chairman of the committee, signs a minority report but it is not to be wondered at that Mr. Wysox should offer one of his own. He is "flocking by himself." No good and efficient Democrat ever did that. It is useless just now, even if we had the room at our command, that we should give to our readers the various recommendations offered. It would make one's head swim to read them all over, and we will wait for such publication until something like order has been reached. Quadrennial sessions of the legislature won the day, though opposed by the most conspicuous leaders of the body and of the Democratic party of the State. An effort to reconsider will be made but our hope is that the heroes will stand by their guns and not yield an inch of conquered territory. If a saving of $75,000 annually is not to be effected in that easy and simple way, we would do well to stop all this cry about economy.

The legislative feature of the State government has been commanding attention, and is still the subject of animated debate. On this as on other features the members are differing widely. Men in general differ, and why should members of a convention not be allowed the same luxury? A caucus of Democrats has been called to consider the different reports on suffrage. We don't just know why this should be necessary, as the body is so largely composed of the "unterrified."

We are nursing the virtue of patience to keep it warm for the winter time.

WAR PAINT ON.

A company of negroes met in Charlottesville not long since, and resolved that two white lawyers be associated with the high and sacred (?) duty of fighting any suffrage plan which may be proposed by Virginia's Constitutional Convention. Good, bad or indifferent, constitutional or not, right or wrong, righteous or wicked, still it must be struck to death, for say these sable sables, no good thing can come out of this Nazareth. This is offensive, and ought to arouse burning indignation. Still our representatives will keep cool and do their duty regardless of the world, the flesh and the devil.

Wanamaker, Jr., will print a Sunday edition of his paper against the protest of Wanamaker, Sr. The trouble began with that young man when the "old man" allowed him to make a fool of himself in Paris, by giving a dinner to a few friends which cost many thousand dollars a plate. He may be too old to spank but not too old to be made to realize the condition of a man minus a bank account.

The Constitutional Convention was forced to adjourn last Monday for want of a quorum. That was simply disgraceful. The soldier who slurs duty is shot. Ballots hurt some folks as much as bullets do others.

And now staid old Yale is preparing to torture Mr. Roosevelt with the high sounding L. L. D. Leave him to the politicians, and that will be bad enough.

The assassin has broken down and cries out in terror since he knows he must die. The romance of the bloody act is all gone now and nothing but stern and dreadful reality remains.

The Convention must make room for the legislators and is looking for winter quarters. If Richmond gets to be too cool Farmville has a warm reception awaiting.

President Roosevelt will press the button and put in motion the wheels of Richmond's Carnival.

We are almost ready to say to the Convention, adopt the Pendleton suggestion on the subject of suffrage, and then adjourn.

Mr. Roosevelt isn't ashamed of his kinfolks south of Mason and Dixon, nor of their achievements, and that makes some folks mad up north. If their ancestors are living and are decent folks they would blush to own any such narrow minded and con tracted descendants.

One thing seems certain, and that is that it is right well agreed on that no idiot or non-resident will be allowed to vote.

No brave union soldier will complain of President Roosevelt because of any good thing he may be pleased to say of the old Confederate soldier. Gen. Grant, who knew them better, appreciated their virtues, and bore willing testimony to their heroisms.

We regret to read that an ex Confederate General had been to see Mr. Roosevelt asking for office. They are all worthy but let them keep away from Washington as pensioners.

Mr. Montague is making an active canvass and nobly bearing the banner high in mid-air. Mr. Willard is on the war path too, and gathering scalps as he goes.

Major Anderson is busy with Convention work, and the people will not require two things of him at one and the same time.

Perhaps You Wonder

if the tormenting cold that made last winter one long misery will be as bad this year. Certainly not, if you take Allen's Lung Balsam when tickling and rawness in the throat announce the presence of the old enemy. Do not expect the cold to wear itself out. Take the right remedy in time. Allen's Lung Balsam is free from opium.

DO YOU GET UP WITH A LAME BACK?

Kidney Trouble Makes You Miserable.

Almost everybody who reads the newspapers is sure to know of the wonderful cures made by Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy.

It is the great medicinal triumph of the nineteenth century; discovered after years of scientific research by Dr. Kilmer, the eminent kidney and bladder specialist, and is wonderfully successful in promptly curing lame back, kidney, bladder, uric acid troubles and Bright's Disease, which is the worst form of kidney trouble.

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is not recommended for everything but if you have kidney, liver or bladder trouble it will be found just the remedy you need. It has been tested in so many ways, in hospital work, in private practice, among the helpless too poor to purchase relief and has proved so successful in every case that a special arrangement has been made by which all readers of this paper who have not already tried it, may have a sample bottle sent free by mail, also a book telling more about Swamp-Root and how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper and send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Birmingham, N. Y. The regular fifty cent and dollar sizes are sold by all good druggists.

IN THE CLERK'S OFFICE OF THE CIRCUIT COURT of the County of Buckingham, on the 28th day of September, 1901:

John F. Wallon, Assignee of E. W. Hubbard, Plaintiff, against

The Administrators of Woodson Sears, dec'd, when appointed, Nancy Sears, widow of Woodson Sears, Thornton Sears, Jesse Sears, Henry Sears, Kendall Sears, 8 or 1000 Sears, Edward Sears, Eliza Sears, Jennie Sears, Emily Sears, and Nanette Sears, Defendants

IN CHANCERY.

The object of this suit is to sell a tract of land containing 80 acres lying in Cumberland county, State of Virginia, near Robinson's Bridge, to satisfy the balance of the unpaid purchase money for the said 80 acres of land evidenced by two bonds of $100 each with interest from August 2nd, 1896, till paid, and a part of another bond of same date from Woodson Sears and Edward Sears to E. W. Hubbard.

And an affidavit having been made and filed that the defendants above named are not residents of the State of Virginia, it is ordered that they do appear here within fifteen days after due publication hereof, and to what may be necessary to protect their interest in this suit. And it is further ordered that a copy hereof be published once a week for four successive weeks in the Farmville Herald, and that a copy be posted at the front door of the courthouse of this county on the first day of the next term of the County Court.

The Secret of Success. The Secret of Success is not so much in knowing how to make money as the ability to take care of it. If you are interested in saving your money investigate the plan of the Savings Department of The First National Bank, FARMVILLE, VA.

WE DON'T CARE. To do all the Clothing business this Fall, but we want to get a good share of it. We firmly believe that a concern that gives its customers exceptionally good values in every instance is bound to go ahead and deserve to. This idea prevails throughout the entire business. Every dollar's worth of goods we sell must give the wearer satisfaction, even our $10.00 DRESS AND BUSINESS SUITS AND OVERCOATS. J. B. WALL, FARMVILLE, VA.

Judgment. Whose bad opinion do you fear? Whose good opinion do you want? The most important thing to you in your business is customers. The strongest adjunct in making customers is the way you impress them. A large part of the impressing is part of the kind of printing they get from you. The only printing that you have may be your stationery, envelopes, cards and other pieces of what are called commercial printing. Even in these things it is possible to exercise good taste, as we can soon show you if you will examine some of our samples of printing. If you advertise, if only to the extent of a small folder or an occasional booklet, you should anticipate and discount the judgment of your customers by laying before them printing that is refreshing, distinct, original, clean and direct. There are all kinds of printing. There is only one good kind. One piece of good printing is worth a hundred pieces that are fair to middling. You cannot afford to do anything but the best. Therefore, you cannot afford not to know our ways and our prices. Will you come to us, or shall we go to you? HERALD JOB OFFICE, FARMVILLE, VA. Herald and New York World only $1.60.
