A FINE FERTILIZER.

Alfalfa Not Only Has Great Feeding Value, But Rivals Clover as a Soil Restorer.

The great value of alfalfa as a feeding stuff, especially in the western and southern states, is well understood. This has been established by long practical experience and by the scientific investigation of a number of the experiment stations. These investigations have not only demonstrated its value as a feed for all kinds of stock, including pigs and poultry, but have shown the stage of growth at which the plant contains the greatest amount of nutritive material and the best ways of curing and ensiling the crop.

The value of alfalfa as a fertilizer has perhaps not received so much attention, although a number of stations have investigated this phase of the subject. Prof. Buffum, of the Wyoming station, has shown that the crop is especially valuable for increasing the nitrogen of soils of the arid or semi-arid region, for improving the tilth and for destroying weeds by crowding them out.

In experiments at this station it was found that land which had previously been in alfalfa produced $8 to $12 more value in wheat, $16 worth more in oats and $16 worth more of potatoes per acre than land which had grown potatoes and grain before, and these increases of yield and value were produced with absolutely no cost for fertilizing the land. The results were obtained on land which had been in alfalfa five years, leaving nothing but the stubble and roots in the soil.

According to analyses reported by the Colorado station, a ton of alfalfa hay contains 44 pounds of nitrogen, 827 pounds of phosphoric acid, 59.95 pounds of potash and 40 pounds of lime. Alfalfa is a leguminous plant and is therefore able to draw the larger part of its nitrogen from the air, thus causing an actual increase of nitrogen in the soil.

It can readily be seen from the above figures that if the alfalfa is turned under a considerable increase in the available fertility will result, but even if the crop is removed the soil is improved in tilth and fertility by the shading of the ground and the decay of the large, deep growing roots of the plant, as was demonstrated in the experiments above referred to.

FOR HARNESS and Saddle Sores Mexican Mustang Liniment is just what you need. It takes effect at once, and you will be astonished to see how quickly it heals sores.

It's this way:

You can burn yourself with Fire, with Powder, etc., or you can scald yourself with Steam or Hot Water, but there is only one proper way to cure a burn or scald and that is by using

Mexican Mustang Liniment.

It gives immediate relief. Get a piece of soft old linen cloth, saturate it with this liniment and bind loosely upon the wound. You can have no adequate idea what an excellent remedy this is for a burn until you have tried it.

A FOWL TIP. If you have a bird afflicted with Roup or any other poultry disease use Mexican Mustang Liniment. It is called a standard remedy by poultry breeders.
