

BRIEFS AND PERSONALS.

New Year's Eve.

Tryst of the Old Year and the New! Come from the utmost bounds of the time...

The new Normal begins to present an imposing front. The new side walks are better than the old.

The new telephone conveniences are great luxuries. Messrs. Sandy Gray and Venner Crale, of Richmond, were with us on Sunday.

Dr. Thos. Armistead, of Roanoke, has been visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. A. Armistead.

We have known calves to be cheaper than turkeys have been of late. Maybe you will raise more turkeys next season than you did this.

Mrs. J. R. Atwood, of West Appomattox, is the guest of Mrs. Robert Louis Freear.

If your hogs are fat kill them and bring some sausage to town. Freezing weather is not the best killing season.

Why can't a substitute be found for the laying hen just as there has been for the sitting hen.

President Jarman has recently visited the Eastern Shore in the interest of educational work.

Prof. Jones, of the Normal, went to Lynchburg during the Thanksgiving holidays.

Sportsmen are saying that birds are unusually scarce. With us even old barns have not been with in evidence.

We heard a gobbler on yesterday so that at least one turkey escaped the Thanksgiving slaughter.

The "new woman" is the improvement on the old. Some one has said of her, "she is neither lady nor gentleman."

Mrs. Laura Wilson, who is well meaning her daughter, Mrs. J. W. Womack, returned to her home in Charlotte on last Saturday.

Mrs. R. B. Berkeley has been called to the bedside of her sister, Mrs. Humphreys, who is sick in Lynchburg.

The cry of a baby is about the only noise which is heard above the rattle of a railway train in motion.

McCue enjoys at least one advantage over the rest of us. His creditors must hands off.

Mrs. Snow, mother of Miss Snow of the Normal faculty, has returned from a visit to Baltimore and is with her daughter again at Mrs. Berkeley's.

When the weather does get to be rainy, snowy and blowy, just remember the flood of sunshine we have been basking in all fall and you will not find fault of the change.

"The hand that made us is divine." That makes the full moon of last Monday night fall in the face. "The fool hath said in his heart there is no God."

Mr. Cleveland's Thanksgiving turkey, the one sent him during the first year of his first term, weighed 46 pounds. We haven't heard from Mr. Roosevelt's as yet.

The value of a line of advertisement in the columns of a live newspaper can not be estimated. The Herald is a live newspaper and the cost is only 5 cents a line.

The dispensary sales on last Saturday amounted to $305. What are the profits? Should a temperance town make use of whiskey-made money?

Some of our contemporaries are complaining that the American people are not good money savers, and how can it be expected of them when turkeys are 30 cents a pound?

Hon. Carter Harrison, of Powhatan, visited his daughter at the Normal during the Thanksgiving holidays. He also spent the night at the homes of Judge Watkins and Mr. Colin Stokes with whom he served in the legislature.

Thanks to our city fathers and the skill of Mr. Buck for those new and most acceptable side walks. Let the spirit of improvement permeate and prevail until Farmville is the cleanest and altogether most attractive little city in the country.

Go to the Normal School tonight and tomorrow night at 7:30 to see copies of the pictures drawn by the mother hands of earth. Admission only ten cents. Go and carry the children with you. Farmville should always be ready to aid the Normal.

Don't forget the picture entertainment to be given in the Kindergarten room at the Normal this evening and tomorrow evening at 7:30. Admission fee only 10 cents. Enjoy an hour, and help the school.

Farmville is no finished town. There will always be something more to do. Newer side walks, better streets, improved lights, fresh paint, more white wash, and as a result of it all, more and happier people.

The first half of the Normal session hurried to a close, and yet we have had no letters for the Herald from all those hundreds of girls. This has been a sad disappointment to us and a distinct loss to our readers.

President Jarman and Dr. Frazer met on the same platform in Accraec recently and discussed educational interests to the delight of an overflow audience. The people of Virginia are waking up to the fact that better teachers and better school houses will insure better citizenship. No State money is better invested than that devoted to our schools.

Mr. A. H. Porter, of Norfolk, but who should always have been of Farmville, reached us on last Saturday and began at once shaking hands with old friends. His hat was so tall and his coat was so long that some of us didn't readily recognize him, but when the hat and coat were at once slung off the old friend was at once identified. He is still loyal to Farmville, and the following will emphasize that fact. Talking to a number of friends in the Herald office he said, "Every member of my family except myself visited the St. Louis Exposition, but I said to them I propose to go to Farmville and that shall be my trip for the season." He indignantly said.

Essema, seal head, hives, itchingness of the skin of any sort instantly relieved, permanently cured. Doan's Ointment. At any drug store.

Wooden Wedding Celebration. One of the most delightful of the season's social events was the celebration of the fifth anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Louis Freear, at their residence Tuesday evening last, the hours of reception being from nine to twelve.

During the reception there were numerous callers, and Mr. and Mrs. Freear were the recipients of many congratulations and good wishes. There were scores of beautiful gifts from their friends, cut, carved and fashioned out of wood appropriate to the occasion and useful in the sweet home of the recipients.

Mr. and Mrs. Freear were assisted in receiving by Mrs. J. H. Pettit, of Richmond; Miss Annie Lee Freear and Mrs. John A. Garland. As the guests arrived they were first introduced and then invited to the library where a delicious fruit punch was graciously served by Mrs. John Randolph Atwood, of Appomattox, assisted by Miss London, of the Normal school faculty. The dining room was tastefully decorated, and the long table beneath the shaded lights from crystal candelabra presented a scene of unusual beauty. The centre piece was a large basket filled with tropical fruits. Assisting in the dining room were Misses Grace and Locke Walton, Elizabeth Verser and Ethel Ligon.

Among the guests were: Mrs. P. M. Tabb, Mrs. P. W. McKinney, Mrs. J. E. Garland, Mrs. S. W. Paulett, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Davidson, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Paulett, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Watkins, Rev. and Mrs. R. R. Claiborne, Dr. and Mrs. Paul W. Beckman, Misses March Edmunds, Janie Tabb, Eva Minor, Frankie McKinney, Mary Moore, Lila London, L. K. Hillis, Eloise Harrison, Miss Snow; Messrs. G. M. Robinson, J. M. Venner, V. P. Paulett, Archibald Wade, W. B. Agnew, Demetrius Farrar, J. L. Bogg, F. M. Bogg and J. L. Hart.

The following tribute is from a Fayetteville paper: Rev. H. T. Graham, the beloved pastor of the Farmville Presbyterian Church, is expected to occupy his pulpit on next Sunday and enter upon his duties as head of that congregation.

Mr. Graham is not altogether a stranger to the people of this community, having graduated from both Hampden-Sidney College and Union Theological Seminary. After leaving the Seminary he devoted several years to mission work in Japan. For the last seven years he has been pastor of a large and growing church at Fayetteville, N. C. Besides thorough training and varied experience, Mr. Graham belongs to a family of preachers. His father is Dr. James Graham, of Winchester, and a brother is pastor at Davidson, N. C.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Jenkins, of Lynchburg, are visiting their sister, Mrs. J. L. Hart.

Tobacco is coming to market and selling at satisfactory prices, as far as we have heard.

Mrs. Fred Glenn, of Lynchburg, spent several days of last week with Farmville relatives, and returned home Monday.

Mr. Jos. E. Garland, of the firm of Paulett & Garland, is attending the Insurance Agents Convention at Philadelphia.

Superintendent Stetson, of Maine, will deliver an address at the Normal School next Thursday evening, and the public is given a most cordial invitation to be present.

Mr. L. R. French, who resides at the home of Mal. A. R. Venner, Jr., has been appointed and qualified as Inspector of Cattle for the county of Prince Edward.

The announcement has been made of the marriage of Miss Susie Scott to Mr. Eugene Gill, ceremony to take place next Wednesday, the 7th instant, at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John A. Scott.

Mr. Len Amos went to Roanoke Thursday to see his daughter, Miss Mattie, who is still at the hospital with typhoid fever. While there he will visit his three married children and five grandchildren who live there.

We are requested to announce that an oyster supper will be given in the armory on next Friday evening, the 9th instant, for the benefit of St. Johns Guild.

Mr. Irmen, who owns and cultivates the Booker farm, brought some fine logs to town on last Tuesday. They were perfect specimens of the Poland China breed—fat, shapely and altogether excellent.

Martin Walker. On Wednesday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock at the home of Col. C. M. Walker, his daughter, Miss Mary Booth, was married to Mr. Edwin S. O'Neil, of Farmville. The wedding was very quiet, being attended only by relatives and intimate friends, and was impressive in its dignity and simplicity. The handsome parsons of Col. Walker's home were tastefully decorated.

Dr. Chas. B. Crute acted as best man and Miss Robbie Blair Berkeley played the wedding march. The bridesmaid, Misses Elizabeth Martin and Frankie McKinney, of Farmville, and Miss Anne Jameson, of Boynton, entered from the west door, followed by the bride and groom together. They proceeded through the rooms to west end, where Rev. John B. Winn performed the ceremony according to the beautiful Methodist ritual. The couple left at 5:32 for Palm Beach and Havana.

Mrs. Martin is the only daughter of Col. and Mrs. C. M. Walker, and a grand-niece of the late Governor Phillip W. McKinney. She is well known in various parts of Virginia and the South and is a favorite wherever known for her exceptionally attractive personality.

Mr. Martin is the only son of Major John R. Martin, of Farmville. He is a prosperous insurance agent, and a young man of fine character and sterling worth.

Sunday in Farmville. The day in the world of nature was ideal and in the spiritual world rich in blessings.

Rev. Mr. Stuart, who has been conducting a most successful revival at the Baptist church, preached to an overflow audience both morning and evening, and addressed the Y. M. C. A. at 4 p. m. This servant of the Master has been preaching the word with great power, nor have his labors been in vain. God has richly honored his own word and daily the ranks of his people have been strengthened while his own people have been made to rejoice as the wanderers have been coming home. The church has not been large enough to furnish every standing room for those who went to hear the earnest faithful preacher, and surely his labors have not been in vain.

Rev. Mr. Winn, brother of the regular pastor of the church, preached at the Methodist church, while Mr. Stuart, a student of the Union Theological Seminary, occupied the pulpit of the Presbyterian. Children were out in full at the Sunday School and studied together the world-wide lesson on Temperance. Surely all Farmville can unite in saying "the lines have fallen unto us in pleasant places and ours is a goodly heritage." And since these things are so they should not forget that to whom much is given much is required.

"The servant who knew his God's will and did it not was beaten into many stripes."

Boxes Brighten Things. During the Thanksgiving holidays numerous boxes were received by the girls of the Normal from home folks. Turkeys and hams, pies, pickles, cakes and cookies, home made biscuits, crackers from the hands of the old cook, doughnuts, celery, catsup, canned goods, and in at least one case systems by the barrel and in their native shapeliness, made up a combination that brightened the day and made night luminous. Many were the impromptu and informal gatherings and glad the laughter as the lids were removed and the very depths of the mother-packed treasures were exposed.

The Thanksgiving dinner at the Normal was of the highest order of excellence, composed of the choicest luxuries, of land and sea, cooked according to the very best art and served in exquisite style, and so the diners in the homes of Farmville, and yet the girls turned from well-laden boards to well filled boxes with appetites whetted upon that upon which they had been feeding. Neither the cigar nor the pipe ever satisfies the craving of the man in love with the cigarette, and so the girl with a box from home is never satisfied with that which she finds on the table. Happy the girl from a happy home, where "goodies" do grow, and from which they are boxed, express paid in advance.

An Interesting and Instructive Entertainment. Last evening there was introduced at the Normal a pictured entertainment having for its object the instruction of the public, and the better equipment of Virginia's foremost school devoted to training of Virginia girlhood.

"This exhibition of pictures is one of more than ordinary interest. It consists of carbon photographs and engravings, loaned by A. W. Elson & Co., of Boston, Mass. The collection is a large one and contains only the very best reproductions of the masterpieces of art of different countries and periods. Nearly every gallery and country in the world would have to be visited to see the original pictures which are here brought together in one collection."

The object of this entertainment is to secure funds with which to purchase copies of these masterpieces to be hung in different rooms of the Normal, where they will afford permanent interest and instruction. There will be a repetition of the entertainment this evening and tomorrow evening, in the Kindergarten room at 7:30. The admission fee is only 10 cents, and surely this amount could not be more profitably invested. Remember that by attending you secure an evening of enjoyment and make permanent contribution to the good of the school.

Fewer Gallons; Wears Longer. The X-Rays Machine. Farmville is entitled to the best of every thing and we are glad to welcome the X-rays machine, if we may so designate it, which has been introduced by Dr. Crute. It is an impressive looking combination of mechanism. The value of it consists in the fact that with the aid of that mysterious and subtle something, known as electricity, it enables the physician to locate trouble and so better to fight it. Diagnosis has always been the difficult first step in the treatment of the diseases to "which flesh is heir," as it is in every walk of life, and when science offers its assistance kindred science is ready to shake hands. But this helping hand not only points out the seat of trouble, but is remedial as well. In this hurried age of rush and push the nervous disorders have increased alarmingly, and what's most needed is tonic bracers that accomplish their work without taxing the stomach, and they are found here. Animal magnetism or animal electricity is supplied, and under its influence the tired nerve returns to work refreshed just as the whole body wakes to new endeavor after a night of refreshing rest. In the name of suffering humanity we congratulate the newest of our doctors on the introduction into our midst of the newest of remedial influences. Enterprise will find its sure reward.

What Will Farmville Do About It? The Richmond News-Leader says: "W. L. Boatwright, of New Canton, was in Richmond yesterday and completed arrangements whereby he will buy most of the tobacco of Buckingham, Cumberland and surrounding counties for private shipment."

Is Prince Edward one of the surrounding counties? And what will Farmville do about it? Surely she will not rest on her ears and see most of the tobacco of her legitimate territory slip from her.

Why Not? Editor Herald: I have been told that the dispensary wasn't closed on Thanksgiving day. If not, why not? A reply will oblige.

THANKS. Death of Youth. Harry North Spencer, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Spencer, died on Saturday last at half past 7 o'clock, aged eleven years. The youth had been ill of fever but a few weeks, and there were hopes of his recovery until a short while before his death.

The funeral took place Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock from the residence in the western suburbs of town, conducted by Rev. J. B. Winn, of the Methodist church, and the interment was made in the Farmville cemetery. The pall-bearers were Messrs. A. A. Cox, Jno. J. Walker, H. E. Steger and W. J. Cox.

The bereaved family have the sincere sympathy of all their friends and acquaintances.

Experience. It has required more than two hundred thousand dollars to pay the fire losses occurring in our agency. Every cent of this money has passed through our hands. We are acquainted with every detail of the adjustment and settlements. Seventeen years have passed by while we have been doing this. That's experience, and that kind of experience is a real genuine asset to our policy holders, because it has taught us how to write our policies, how to proceed to the mutual interest of both company and policy holder, when a fire occurs. It has also taught us the absolute importance of watching every detail of the adjustment and settlements of insurance that will give to our patrons insurance that insures.

PAULETT & GARLAND, S. W. Paulett, Jr., Jos. E. Garland.

Fewer Gallons; Wears Longer. Honey's Boys. The first number of the 1904-5 Star Course was given at the Opera House last Wednesday evening when "Honey's Boys" presented one of the most unique concerts ever witnessed in Farmville. While the little fellows sang with exquisite sweetness, it was perhaps their bright faces and well bred manners upon the stage that won the hearts of their audience. It was an artistic performance and much enjoyed by the patrons of the Star Course.
