A Town Free of Taxes. The town of Silverton, Colo., gives an illustration of what can be done in running a municipal government without a cent of expense beyond an inconsiderable amount from other than taxes. All municipal public service industries are operated by the government itself, and the results are astonishing.

Last year the electric light plant earned nearly $2,000 above operating expenses, after furnishing light for the streets. $10,000 was the net earnings of the water system. They had $11,000 from licenses of all kinds, making a total income of nearly $25,000, or almost twice as much as is required for all departments of its government. The town is not only free from municipal taxes, but has a handsome surplus each year for street extension and other public improvements.

Beware of the Gloomy Mood. Never permit yourself to make any decision of importance while you are in a state of depression. Never commit the error of taking a serious step while you are measuring life by standards set up in the darkness of an unhappy mood.

Such standards are never true, never just. The estimate you make of yourself, of others and of the world while you are blinded by despondency is a false estimate always. The shapes you see are distorted shapes. Your vision is at fault.

The only time you are capable of true judgment is when your sight becomes clear enough for you to realize that life is worth living and that's right with the world.

President Elected.

At a meeting of the Board of Trustees of Hampden-Sidney College held in Richmond Wednesday afternoon, the Rev. J. Gray McAllister was unanimously elected President of the College and signified his acceptance.

Mr. McAllister expects to enter upon the work at the opening of the approaching session.

The outlook is bright for a much larger attendance of students than for several years past, and with a wise, energetic and progressive young leader, as we believe Mr. McAllister to be, the prospect is very encouraging.

Rev. James Gray McAllister is a native of Covington, Va., where he was born, November 27, 1872, the son of Mr. A. A. and Mrs. J. E. McAllister. He is the nephew of Mr. W. M. McAllister, of the Warm Springs, and a cousin to former Governor James A. Beaver, of Pennsylvania.

He received his higher education at Hampden-Sidney College, where he graduated with honor in June, 1894.

In August 1894, he founded the Bath News, a paper of Warm Springs, Va., which he edited until October, 1895. He then became presiding manager of the Central Presbyterian, in which position he continued until October 1898. At the end of that time he entered the Union Theological Seminary, where he graduated with high distinction in May, 1899, receiving the Hoge Memorial Fellowship for 1901-1902, after which he spent a year in post-graduate studies.

He was then called to the pastorate of the new Presbyterian Church at Farmville, which he held from September 1902 to September 1904. In the midst of a ministry of growing power he was called to the adjunct professorship of Hebrew in Union Theological Seminary, which relationship he will continue until September 1905. It was only on condition that Mr. McAllister would take the acting presidency of that institution that Dr. Moore consented to take a year's absence in travel through Europe, such was the latter's confidence and trust in the young man's ability.

In this position he showed rare ability, and his work has met with the strongest approval of the faculty and of the students.

He married May, 1904, Miss Meta Russell, of Winchester, Va.

In referring to the election and his due appreciation of the honor and dignity bestowed on him by the board, Mr. McAllister said to the Times-Dispatch reporter:

"The presidency of Hampden-Sidney College was offered me by the committee, to whom had been delivered the power of selection, more than one month ago. After earnest and thorough consideration, I have enlisted, by conference and correspondence, the aid of friends in whose advice I have the fullest confidence, I have accepted the offer, subject to my release by the Union Theological Seminary."

"Inasmuch as the seminary, while not officially, is vitally interested in the welfare of the college—the institution that feeds it more students than any other—I anticipate that the board of trustees of the seminary, acting through its Executive Committee, will readily grant me this release."

"I did not seek the position; indeed, the suggestion of it by a member of the Committee of Selection came as a surprise to me and his overture, informally made, was at first declined outright, shrinking as I did from undertaking such responsibility."

"Nor was the position sought for me by anyone else. This to my certain knowledge."

"The history and the prestige of the college, the wisdom and consecrated zeal with which for years its affairs have been guided and carried forward by board and by executive, the thorough work of the men who fill its chairs, the enthusiastic aid of the alumni and of many other valued friends lead me to the belief that this work to which I now devote myself cannot but be successful."

Farmville Team at Emporia.

The Farmville Base Ball team went to Emporia Monday and played ball. It is reported that the game was played in without regard to regulations as to box distance, the pitcher being allowed to stand only forty-five feet from the home plate, and to walk up some distance before throwing. This to our boys was naturally confusing, and the game resulted on the first day in a score of 13 to 1 in favor of Emporia; the second game on Tuesday resulted in another victory for the Emporians in a score of 4 to 1.

Wednesday and yesterday the Farmville team played at Suffolk—the same team which visited this place last week. The first game resulted in a score of 3 to 1 in favor of Farmville.

The Guard Returns.

The Farmville Guard returned Monday from the week's camp of the Seventieth of which it is one of the camp companies. The soldiers are shown in their praise of the treatment found them while at Basic City. The weather was perfect during the week, and no encampment of the Guard has ever been enjoyed as much as this one.

The Farmville boys declare with unanimity, "give us mountain rather than the sea shore for our future encampment."

The Guard is said to have been the largest company in the encampment, and we are informed that much praise was bestowed upon the men for their individual and general good conduct. The men had but little work to do and enjoyed all the liberty possible, deporting themselves always as gentlemen.

The correspondent of the Times Dispatch writing to that paper from the camp had this to say of Captain Hunt: "On Friday evening there was a dance and banquet at the Brandon. Captain Hunt had the affair in charge, and his splendid success is a tribute to his ability as a social organizer."

The boys did have a good time as they each declare.

Look over W. T. Clark's Bargain counter next week. It will save you money.

An excursion, consisting of eleven coaches, filled with Lynchburg colored people came to this place Monday. A majority on arrival went to the lithia springs and spent the day.

A Centenarian Tells Her Story.

One day last week a Herald reporter in company with Mr. J. J. Gilliam, visited the log hut of Aunt Laura Gauding, a centenarian, who lives a mile north of Leigh's Mountain, and is now a ward of the county. This old woman, partly Indian and partly negro, retains her mental faculties, but she is blind and decrepit, and her skin is as scaly as a fish. The reporter told her that he was going to write the story of her and put it into a paper so that everybody would know about her. She talked very freely, and we will let her tell her own story:

"Ise been a wonderful woman. Ise 'bout a hundred years old. I war born at ole Prince Edward Courthouse. My first marster was ole Marse Spalding. Marse Gauding married Marse Spalding's daughter, and then I blonged to him. I lived in Lunenburg for a while. Then Marse Gauding carried me to Farmville. Marse Gauding was Marse Billy Venable's overseer. Fust time I come to Farmville, when I was a little gyerl, to carry the children to school, there weren't only three houses dah. Atah, white dah war several houses dah. Colonel Madison kept a school. Col. Rice that had a son named Burrell, sold meat, bacon. Marse Billy and Mists Fanny Venable kep goats. They used to keep milk in de spring. De rivah used to get up sometimes some times so dat dah boats would come right up nowhar distance from Marse Billy's house. We children used to play under de ole bridge. Mists Fanny Venable had an ole cullud man named Ned dat used to sleep in de barn. Somebody sot de barn afire, and Ned burnt up. After Marse Billy died Mists Fanny went to Kaintuck and married a man named Proctor."

"My granddaddy war Indian John. He war tall and straight and had long hair that hung down ovah his shoulders. Indian John used to work for Marse Taylor Woodson. Granddaddy used to visit Marse Tom Rowlett, lotter side of Green Bay."

"Ise ben blind for three years. Ise weared wooden shoes twell Ise ruint my foots. I kin cut wood yit, but cyant tote it. I cyant wuk like a dog, but cyant no mo."

"I didn't git some 'ligion twell fo or five years ago. I played all the time when I war a young gyerl. Everywhar dah war a dance, dah I war. I see myself neely. I needed some thing to bar me from heah to God. I ask God to turn my face from hell to 'ad heaven, to fix my whole 'tention on heaven. I didn't want to go way down to hell's kitchen."

"I kin heah inside er me somethin thankin God, and I ain't open my mouth. Ise standin on de solid rock of Jesus."

"Ise alone cep my daughter, Emily Knight. My grandchildun is purty well dead out."

Various reasons may be given for it, but the vote of this county last Tuesday was the smallest known for years. Indeed this was the surprising feature of the day. Eclipse of the Sun. People rising at five o'clock on the morning of August 30th will witness a partial eclipse of the sun, which can be seen better with the aid of smoked or colored glass. Half of the sun will be obscured when it rises and the dark shadow will grow until only a bright crescent is seen, then the shadow will recede, and by six o'clock the disk will be clear again.

Scientists this year expect to learn something of the material of the sun from the rose colored flame and the brilliant corona which always surround an eclipse. Photographs of the sun of masses calculated to be larger than our earth, and fiery comets whirling about the central mass.

Accurately plotting the orbits upon which the spheres move and their schedule time of passing, scientists can now predict in 1925 a total eclipse will be visible in the United States, the first since the one of 1878; in 1999 Paris will see one for the first time since 1724.

The Great Van Amburg Show.

Our citizens will soon have an opportunity of visiting one of the good shows of the country. The Great Van Amburg Show will pitch its tents in Farmville on Sept. 11. The show promises to come this year larger and better than ever before. The many up-to-date features presented by this show are novel and startling. The horses and trained ponies are the best. Elephants, camels, lions and a large collection of trained animals are to be seen in the grand free street parade, in the forenoon on the day of exhibition.

$100 Reward, $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only medicine now known to cure the medical Fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer one Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.
