BRIEFS AND PERSONALS.

Fate.

He wrote a rondeau on her arms,
A sonnet on her face;
In quatrains he described her charms,
In triolets her grace.
He wrote an octave on her hair,
A couplet on her nose,
And then he lost the maiden fair
By stepping on her toes.

Our girls will soon be coming home, and other girls will soon be going home. Coming or going our good wishes attend them—a warm welcome and a sad good-bye.

A strong effort was made this week in the grand jury room to find indictments for gambling, but as the law required that $20 or more be won or lost at one sitting, no person amenable could be located.

Rev. Dr. Richard McIlwaine, formerly the president of Hampden-Sidney College, preached morning and night at the Presbyterian Church in the absence of the pastor who was attending the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Alabama.

The schedule on the Tidewater and Western which allows one train a week to arrive here in the morning returning in the afternoon, is quite a benefit to the town. Every Thursday morning a number of persons from all along the railroad may be seen about our streets shopping.

Mrs. Egbert Jones, State Regent, D. A. R., for Mississippi, and her daughter, are visiting their aunt, Mrs. George M. Robeson. Mrs. Jones has been in Washington for the D. A. R. Congress, and also in Richmond attending a meeting of Colonial Dames, going with them to Jamestown on May 11th for the dedication of the old church. She is Registrar for the Colonial Dames of Mississippi and received many social courtesies while in Richmond.

At the athletic meet in the Armory last Friday night, Mr. Ben Baldwin met with a serious accident. He was the acting clown in the performance of wrestling, racing, tumbling and all the various stunts of the evening. The crowd was immense and all were enjoying the performance when Mr. Baldwin was fallen upon by one of the athletes. When he arose from the floor it was found that his left arm was broken and the elbow disjointed. His suffering was intense.

A petition has been circulated asking the Department at Washington not to remove the postoffice higher up town than its present location. It had been suggested that the Chappell building opposite the courthouse would be a convenient room for the office, and following this an inspector was sent here and effected arrangements with Mr. Chappell which looked very much like there were to be some improvements made. A counter petition, however, has been circulated and very numerously signed asking the Department to make for the new postmaster a larger and more comfortable home.

Dr. Wm. E. Anderson has secured the services of Dr. R. Lester Hudgins, of Richmond, Va., as an assistant in the practice of medicine and surgery. Dr. Hudgins graduated at the University College of Medicine one year ago with distinction, and had the honor of being the president of his class. He received the appointment from that institution as physician to the City Home Hospital, in which position his duties have been faithfully and efficiently performed for the past twelve months. Dr. Hudgins will commence the practice of his profession here next Tuesday. He comes highly recommended, professionally, socially and morally and we bespeak for him success.

Boy Goes up for Short Term.

Frank Carter, colored, charged with attemped rape upon a small girl of his own race, was tried in the Circuit Court Monday and sent to the penitentiary for five years. In this case the prisoner first entered a plea of not guilty, and afterwards changed it to guilty and threw himself upon the mercy of the Court and jury. He was apparently not over 14 years of age.

New Democratic Chairman.

The Executive Committee of the Democratic party of Prince Edward met last Monday in the Council chamber for the purpose of transacting such business as might come before it.

Mayor Blanton was called to preside, and Mr. Edward L. Dupuy acted as secretary of the meeting.

Owing to his impaired health Mr. W. H. Ewing, who has been for several years the party's able chairman, tendered through Hon. J. J. Owen his resignation, which was accepted with regret, and a committee composed of Messrs. Owen, E. G. McGhee and J. R. Morton was appointed to present at another meeting suitable resolutions of appreciation for his services, and sympathy for him in his continued sickness.

The Committee then elected unanimously Mr. E. L. Dupuy to fill the unexpired term of Mr. Ewing as chairman.

The primary for nominating county and district officers was ordered to be held at the same time as the senatorial primary which date is to be fixed later. The chairman was directed to make such assessments on the different candidates for county offices as may be necessary to raise sufficient funds to defray the expenses of the primary, and to pay an account now outstanding.

Women Given Five Years.

In the Circuit Court this week, Anna and Cora Ward, daughter and mother respectively, were tried for killing a new-born baby.

At the conclusion of the evidence of the first witness counsel for the accused women withdrew the plea of not guilty and entered one of guilty, and the Commonwealth's Attorney asked the jury not to inflict a greater punishment than five years each in the penitentiary. This the jury did without retiring to their room.

A Four-Days Trip to the Jamestown Exposition. June 18-21.

Glorious Southside.

A farmer from the Valley of Virginia visited his daughter at the Normal recently, and in a conversation remarked on the poverty-appearance of Southside lands. This suggested to us to ask him a question or two. How much hay do you cut from an acre on lands in your county? His reply was "two to two and a half tons," and then it was our time to say that Mr. T. O. Sandy, a Southside Virginia farmer, cut from four to four and a half last season, and now says he will cut six. How much corn do you raise to the acre? "From 40 to 45 bushels" was his answer, and then we took special delight in saying Mr. Sandy raised 75 to the acre last season and now has his eye on 100 bushels to the acre. It was a revelation to our visiting brother and he returned to his home realizing that all the valuable things in Virginia were not to be found in the Valley.

A New Pastor Called.

At a meeting of the members of the Farmville Baptist Church held last Monday night in the lecture room, by a unanimous vote Rev. Henly M. Fugate was called to succeed Rev. J. D. Harte, recently resigned. Mr. Fugate preached for the congregation here last Sunday morning and night and deeply impressed his hearers. He is a native of Abingdon, Va., and at present is doing successful pastoral work in the town of Tazewell. In case he accepts the call to Farmville it is probable that he will be ready to enter upon the duties here about July 1st.

Many Indictments Returned.

This has been a lively term of Prince Edward Circuit Court. The grand jury was kept in session from Monday morning until the closing hour of Wednesday. They returned many indictments, among them being a score against Paschal Fowlkes, charging him with selling whiskey to minors, selling it on Sunday, and one or two other offenses.

On yesterday the case of L. D. Jones against the Norfolk and Western Railway was called for its second trial.

Farmville's New Enterprise.

The officers of the Home Development Company, a corporation recently formed and charter applied for, to take over a tract of land in Charlotte county, on the Tidewater R. R., went over on Tuesday to inspect the property with reference to its development.

The holdings of this company consists of 2700 acres in four farms adjoining each other and known as the Daniel's estate, situated in the finest agricultural section of the county and as fine as any in the State, this particular locality being noted for its superior tobacco, also for its abundant yeild of grains and grasses. Several hundred acres are in flat lands of almost inexhaustable fertility. About 2000 acres are in oak, hickory and pine timber, which is very valuable, as the railroad runs through it for two miles reducing the loging and loading on cars to a minimum. There will be a depot on the property with fine prospects for the development of a town, the local conditions and fine back country demanding it. There have already been a number of applicants for sites.

The lumber asset insures a quick return of every dollar invested. The property will then be divided into small farms of from 40 to 100 acres each; for which there is great demand for colony purposes, and the town will be mapped out so that it can symetrically grow.

The officers of the company are; J. W. Long, cashier of First National Bank, President; R. S. Chamberlayne, Jr., Tobaccoist, Vice President, and Frank Hubbard, cashier Citizens State Bank, Secretary and Treasurer.

Too Severe.

Editor Herald:—I attended the annual "Field Meet" at one of our leading institutions of learning in the State and while the program was so interesting one in the whole, some features were objectionable and should be eliminated in the future. The two-mile race for example was not only difficult but exceedingly dangerous. Out of seven who began the race with flushed faces only two were in at the finish, and the winner was well nigh dead from exhaustion, and all of them dangerously near to nervous break down.

Our forefathers used to delight in four-mile races for their best horses but for years the one mile has been the rule. The next thing may be the college boys will be taking up the four mile venture and then there will be some dead on the "field of honor." Hammer flinging, pole vaulting, broad jumping, 100 yard dash and such like are permissible and enjoyable, but no college boy should make sport at the risk of his life.

I enjoyed the afternoon with the boys, however, and looked on admiringly at these stalwart young Americans with "sound minds in sound bodies." VISITOR.

"Money" and Here is the "Stuff."

Editor Herald:—And now I appreciate as I did not before why the "anti-saloon" leaders denounce the dispensary as the most active and efficient agent of the devil in the promotion of the liquor traffic, since I learn that wherever there is "money" there the dispensary goods are sure to go, and this under the direction and with the sanction of some of the church members of the community. I really was under the impression that in order to buy goods at this business center the party purchasing had to stand at the counter and hand over the cash and take in the goods. I am no fanatic nor the son of one on the liquor question, I am no reformer nor kin to one, but having learned something of the workings of a dispensary I did not know before, I am still convinced that the whiskey-beer-wine problem has not yet been solved. The New England States, with one exception, have abandoned prohibition, and South Carolina is sick of the dispensary project. What next?

Has the Summer Normal a Claim on the County Funds?

Editor Herald:—I read an article in a recent issue of your paper, in which some one condemned the board of supervisors of Prince Edward for not making an appropriation of the county funds to the Summer Normal which is to be held in Farmville. What claim has the Summer Normal on the county? It is a State school and we are taxed by the State of Virginia, and from these taxes the State makes a large appropriation to its school in Farmville. Is it right, then, that our supervisors should take the taxes collected from the county levy, and levied by them to meet the current expenses of the county, and use them to support an institution of the State, in whose treasury are thousands of dollars, while our county funds are not sufficient to meet the necessary expenses of county?

The writer also seems to think, on account of two dispensaries in this county, the supervisors should be more liberal with their funds than the adjoining counties. He ignores the fact that the dispensaries are not county but district dispensaries, and only the districts in which they are located, get the benefit of its funds, hence the supervisors, as a board, have no control of its proceeds. I think our present board of supervisors have handled the county funds economically and very judiciously, and have frequently defended the interest of our county against the extravagant wishes of some of its citizens.

Good Words for Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

People everywhere take pleasure in testifying to the good qualities of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Mrs. Edward Phillips of Barclay, Md., writes: "I wish to tell you that I can recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. My little girl, Catherine, who is two years old, has been taking this remedy whenever she has had a cold since she was two months old. About a month ago I contracted a dreadful cold myself, but I took Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and was soon as well as ever." This remedy is for sale by Winston Drug Co.

Itching piles provoke profanity, but profanity won't cure them. Doan's Ointment cures itching, bleeding or protruding piles after years of suffering. At any drug store.

Notice.

The citizens of Farmville were offered a good thing in the stock of the Home Development Company, and the entire issue has been spoken for and subscribed.

Dr. Anderson attended the annual meeting of the Society of Alumni of the Medical College of Virginia, in Richmond on Tuesday. We notice that he took an active part in the discussions and deliberations of the society.

THE HOME CIRCLE COLUMN.

A Child's Rebuke.

The pet of the household had overslept,
While breakfast was waiting below;
And the Auntie was chiding the little boy
That he was dressing slow.

A shoestring was missing, a button was off,
And everything seemed out of place,
The clouds of discouragement gathered around
The dear little fellow's face.

At length his toilet was all complete,
But the little boy still delayed,
And cried, "Dear Auntie, I cannot go down
Till my morning prayer I've said."

"Wait till breakfast is over," his Auntie cried,
"For once it will not be wrong,"
The little boy, startled and grieved, replied
"What, keep God waiting so long?"

If I Only Had Capital.

Young man, you already have capital. You have hands, feet, bone, brain, muscle, health, and are not these capital? What more capital has God given to anybody?

"Well, if I only had a few thousand dollars in cash capital" But these are better than cash capital, for no one can take them from you, and with these you can earn cash. Our men of wealth and influence did not start with any cash capital. They went to work with their plow, the hoe, the jack plane or broad axe, and in time their capital brought them a rich harvest. Ah! this is the rub, you don't want to work; you want money on credit, so you can play the gentleman, and speculate, and by playing vagabond. You want to marry a rich girl who will support you. You want to wear fine clothes and smoke cigars and be a gentleman of leisure.

Shame on you, young man! Go to work with the capital you have, and you will soon make interest enough upon it to give you as much money as you need. If you cannot make money upon what capital you have, you could not if you had a larger amount in cash. If you waste your present capital you would waste money if you had it. Then don't stand around a helpless fellow, waiting for something to turn up, but go to work. Take the first work you can get to do, and do it well. Always do your best, and if you manage your present capital well you will soon have plenty more to manage.

Can I Become a Millionaire?

Yes you can become a millionaire by eating the bread of carefulness, rising early and lying down late; getting and keeping, and caring little or nothing about other men's wants, sufferings or disappointments, and not minding or caring that your great wealth may involve the poverty of any others. You must never give away money except for a material equivalent, nor go meandering about nature, nor spend your time enjoying air, earth, sky and water; for there is no money in it. You must not distract your thought from the great purpose of your life with the charms of art and literature, nor let philosophy or religion engross you during this secular period, or even allow your wife and children to occupy much of your valuable time. You must abandon all other ambitions or purpose, and finally you must be prepared to sacrifice ease and all fanciful notions you may have about tastes, luxuries and enjoyments, during most, if not all of your natural life. Now if you think the game is worth the candle you can die rich—some of you can.

Keep It To Yourself.

You have trouble, your feelings are injured, your husband is unkind, your wife frets, your home is not pleasant, your friends do not treat you fairly, and things in general move unpleasantly. Well, what of it? Keep it to yourself. A smouldering fire can be found and extinguished, but when coals are scattered you can't pick them up. Bury your sorrow. The place for sad and disgusting things is under the ground. A cut finger is not benefited by pulling off the plaster and exposing it to somebody's eye. Charity covereth a multitude of sins. Things thus covered are cured without a scar; but, once published and carried to meddling friends, there is no end to the trouble they may cause. Keep it to yourself. Troubles are transient; and, when a sorrow is healed and passed, what a comfort it is to say: "No one ever knew it till it was over."

A Mean Man's Thoughts.

Sometimes we wonder what a mean man thinks about when he goes to bed; when he turns out the light and lies down: when the darkness closes in around him and he is alone and compelled to be honest with himself. And not a bright thought, nor a generous impulse, not a manly act, not a word of blessing, not a grateful look, comes to bless him again. Not a penny dropped into the outstretched palm of poverty, nor the balm of a loving word dropped into an aching heart; no sunbeam of encouragement cast upon a struggling life, the strong right hand of fellowship reached out to help some fallen man to his feet—when none of these things come to him as the "God bless you" of the departed day, how he must hate himself! How he must try to roll away from himself and sleep on the other side of the bed. When the only victory he can think of is some mean victory, in which he has wronged a neighbor. No wonder he sneers when he tries to smile. How pure, and fair, and good, all the rest of the world must look to him, and how cheerless, and dusty, and dreary, must his own path appear. Why, even one lone, isolated act of meanness is enough to scatter crumbs in the bed of the average, ordinary man, and what must be the feelings of a man whose life is given up to mean acts? When there is so much suffering, and heartache, and misery in the world anyhow, why should you add one pound of wickedness or sadness to the general burden? Suffer injustice a thousand times rather than commit it once.

A Narrow Escape.

G. W. Cloyd, a merchant, of Plunk, Mo., had a narrow escape four years ago, when he ran a jimson bur into his thumb. He says: "The doctor wanted to amputate it but I would not consent. I bought a box of Bucklen's Arnica Salve and that cured the dangerous wound." 25c at White & Co., Druggists.

CHARLOTTE COUNTY.

Eureka Mills.

May 20th, '07.

A large crowd was at Bethlehem Presbyterian Church Sunday morning to witness the installation of Rev. C. C. Anderson as pastor of the church. Rev. R. L. McNair, of Charlotte Courthouse preached a very fine sermon from the text found in first Corinthians 3: 21-22. After the sermon Mr. McNair charged the pastor, and Rev. J. A. Parsley delivered the charge to the people. In the afternoon Rev. Mr. Anderson was installed pastor of Douglas Church. Revs. Hugh Henry and R. L. McNair took part in these interesting exercises.

A surprise was sprung upon the congregation at Bethlehem Church Sunday when it was announced that immediately after the installation services a marriage would take place. The parties to the contract were Mr. William H. Rosser, of Madison county, an employee of the McDermott Contracting Co., and Miss Eulia Frances, the pretty daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Morris. Mrs. C. C. Anderson played the wedding march and Rev. C. C. Anderson was the celebrant. Mr. Geo. Cook acted as best man, while the bride entered the church with Mr. John Childress. The following couples acted as attendants: J. S. Vincent and Miss Fannie Blackstock, J. B. Smith and Miss Gladys Morris, R. Keeting and Miss Margaret Davis, J. M. Morris and Miss Effie Nelson, H. D. Hester and Miss Hallie Frank.

BUCKINGHAM COUNTY.

Arcanum.

May 21, '07.

The stave making plant under the management of Mr. J. W. Clark, which has been operating near Sheppards since the 1st of January, has moved to Arcanum neighborhood, where the company have purchased five tracts of oak timber sufficient to make probably a million and a half of staves.

There are within 2 or 3 miles of this place three other sawing outfits and the shrill steam whistles of all four creates the impression that it is truly a populous community.

These plants have demoralized our farm labor and white men are doing all the farm work that is being done, consequently the tobacco crop is much curtailed.

Mr. Heblitch set out 5000 plants on the 16th, but tobacco plants are generally late and not yet ready for transplanting.

WOMEN'S WOES

Farmville Women Are Finding Relief at Last.

It does seem that women have more than a fair share of the aches and pains that afflict humanity; they must "keep up," must attend to duties in spite of constantly aching backs, or headaches, dizzy spells, bearing down pains; they must stoop over, when to stoop means torture. They must walk and bend and work with racking pains and many aches from kidney ills. Kidneys cause more suffering than any other organ of the body. Keep the kidneys well and health is easily maintained. Read of a remedy for kidneys only that helps and cures the kidneys.

Mrs. W. C. Hudnall, residing at 611 Thirteenth street Lynchburg, Va., says: "My back never was strong, and from sharp twinges at first it developed into aching so prolonged of late that I often felt like lying down, while performing even the slightest household duties was irksome. If on my feet much, or if I over-exerted myself my back easily tired, and I have been so lame and sore that I was unable to perform the most trivial household work with any degree of ease. The kidney secretions were disordered, and realizing that the kidneys were the cause of my troubles, I procured Doan's Kidney Pills. Improvement set in shortly after a dose or two, and continued until the attack stopped. I never used a medicine which brought as convincing proof of merit as Doan's Kidney Pills."
