SALVATION ARMY A PILOT.

Gen. Booth Says It Is In the Best Position to Direct Emigration.

Boston.—In an hour's chat the other day Gen. William Booth of the Salvation Army discussed many topics, including emigration, Christian Science and race suicide.

This is the fourth visit of the founder and commander of the Salvation Army to this country. He is 79 years of age.

Emigration seemed to be the foremost thought in his mind, and in speaking of it in connection with the work of his organization he said that the Salvation Army was trying to become a transfer agent. He referred to the demand for workers, especially in Canada, in the western states and in South America, and to the great mass of human beings in the slums of Europe who needed assistance to reach such fields of labor. With its thousands of corps, the Salvation Army, he said, was in the best position to direct emigration from one country to another. It acts, in fact, as a pilot for these voyagers.

Gen. Booth is decidedly in favor of large families. With one or two children, he said, the parents always indulge them, and such indulgence creates recklessness.

Better 17 in the family, or even 24, as in Germany, than one or two spoiled children. He condemned old age pensions in the severest terms, and said it was only another scheme for idleness.

The subject of Christian Science came up, but Gen. Booth deftly parried anything in the way of criticism, saying that any breaking away from the old faiths was better than slumber and showed agitation of the waters.

JAPAN REWARDS AMERICAN.

H. W. Dennison Given $10,000 for Services During War.

Washington.—It has been announced at Tokio that Mr. H. W. Dennison has been awarded $10,000 and an annuity of $840 for valuable service performed during the mikado's war with the czar. Mr. Dennison, who is a native of Vermont, has been an attache of the Japanese foreign office over 25 years, and accompanied Baron Komura to this country in an advisory capacity. Before becoming a Japanese official he had been an attache of the department of state at Washington, had been a consul in Japan, and had practiced law in Yokohama. He is 37 years old and has been decorated with the grand cordon of the Rising Sun.

Mr. Dennison was connected with the Japanese foreign office as counselor during the far eastern struggle. D. W. Stevens, who was counselor of the Japanese embassy at Washington, and went to Korea just before the war and remained there until the end of the conflict, has been similarly rewarded.

The finest Coffee Substitute ever made, has recently been produced by Dr. Shoop of Racine, Wis. You don't have to boil it twenty or thirty minutes, "Made in a minute" says the doctor, "Health Coffee" is really the closest Coffee Imitation ever yet produced. Not a grain of real Coffee in it either. Health Coffee Imitation is made from pure toasted cereals or grains, with malt, nuts, etc. Really it would fool an expert—were he to unknowingly drink it for Coffee. Chas. Bugg & Son.

ILLNESS CAUSED INSANITY.

Defense Fighting For Mrs. Bradley's Life.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—When the defense of Mrs. Annie M. Bradley, on trial for the murder of ex-Senator Arthur Brown, began here James Hay, a reporter, was the first witness called.

He interviewed the prisoner in a police station on the night of the tragedy. He said the prisoner then appeared pale, haggard and much agitated.

She constantly moved about the room at the station, wrung her hands and said that she felt she "was far away from everything."

He cautioned her that anything she said would be printed. She did not talk connectedly, and he had to question her repeatedly. She told him she had two children and that Senator Brown was their father.

"Mrs. Bradley rambled a lot," he testified. "She said Brown had promised again and again to marry her and give a name to her poor little children, but that when the time came he refused. She was surprised when she saw that I knew her name. I told her Senator Brown had told her name at the hospital, and she cried."

She denied that she came to this city to kill Brown. She declared she was a disgraced woman, ruined and an outcast and therefore should not expect to have any friends or any help.

Dr. Johnston when called said Mrs. Bradley's conversation with him was rational. He did notice that she was nervous and excitable, weak and emaciated. He said that the tendency of the disease from which Mrs. Bradley was suffering would be to impair the mind.

Dr. Johnston said he had been called to see Mrs. Bradley on July 3, 1907. He found her suffering from excessive hemorrhage, which had weakened and prostrated her and induced great dizziness. At that time she was suffering from septic infection due to premature child birth or "badly conducted labor." The trouble probably had been present for a long time.

Mrs. M. E. Madison, mother of Mrs. Bradley, testified that when Mrs. Bradley was a child she sustained a severe accident, having been struck on the head with a hoe by a playmate. She was under a physician's care for several weeks. The accident led to the suffering by the child from severe headaches.

The prisoner, frail and weak, almost to the point of collapse, sat behind her counsel, manifesting comparatively little interest in the proceedings. Occasionally she exchanged a few words with her attorneys, but only at rare intervals. During most of the session she sat with her face buried in her hands without moving.

PROFESSOR'S SAD DEATH.

Lucien M. Underwood a Suicide From Worry Over Financial Affairs.

REDDING, Conn., Nov. 19.—Because of worry over large losses in Wall street recently Professor Lucien M. Underwood committed suicide at his country home here after severely cutting his wife's throat and attempting to kill their daughter. Mr. Underwood was professor of botany at Columbia university and was chairman of the board of scientific directors of the New York Botanical garden.

Until recently Professor Underwood had been a man of quiet disposition, who was devoted to his home and his wife and daughter. When the recent financial flurry began, however, he became intensely nervous and had suffered from insomnia for weeks. Mrs. Underwood was unable to shake him out of an intense depression he showed.

Mr. Underwood was particularly nervous at the dinner table, and his wife was alarmed. He suddenly picked up a small sharp knife, jumped to his wife's side and slashed at her, making a gash from the middle of her neck to the right ear. He then turned on their daughter, who was recently graduated from Cornell, and tried to cut her. Mrs. Underwood, despite her wound, rushed between them and knocked up the knife. It almost severed one of her fingers as she did so.

Physicians from Danbury and Bethel were summoned by telephone, but Professor Underwood was dead long before they arrived. They found that Mrs. Underwood was badly wounded, but said she probably would recover.

That his fortune had not been swept away by the recent financial disturbance and that he had been only laboring under a misapprehension is the statement made by a member of the family of Professor Underwood.

Admiral McClintock Dead.

LONDON, Nov. 19.—The death is announced of Admiral Sir Francis Leopold McClintock, retired. He was born in 1819. Admiral McClintock, K. C. B., D. C. L., entered the royal navy when he was twelve years old. His most noteworthy services were performed on arctic expeditions, in four of which he took part. It was he who discovered the fate of Franklin's expedition in 1850, which he afterward told in a book entitled "The Fate of Sir John Franklin."

O'Leary City, Alaska, Ablaze.

FAIRBANKS, Alaska, Nov. 19.—The business district of O'Leary City has been destroyed by fire. The only buildings remaining are the Grand hotel, the Arctic Brotherhood hall, E. H. Miller & Co. and Shookum Johnson. The heaviest losers are the Parsons Mercantile company and Wills & Welch. The total loss is $250,000.

MEASURES OF RELIEF

Government to Issue Bonds For $150,000,000.

TO PAY FOR PANAMA CANAL WORK.

Roosevelt's Letter to Secretary of the Treasury Cortelyou Says That Country's Finances Are on a "Safe and Sane" Basis.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—Secretary Cortelyou, with the approval of the president, has announced an issue of Panama bonds to the extent of $50,000,000.

The treasury will also issue interest bearing certificates of indebtedness, to run for one year, to the extent if necessary of $100,000,000. This action is the result of the series of many night conferences at the White House.

Fifty million dollars of the certificates will be allotted by the secretary in his discretion upon offers of subscriptions addressed to him, and the remaining $50,000,000 will be allotted through the several assistant treasurers authorized to receive subscriptions at the following points:

San Francisco, New Orleans, St. Louis, Chicago, Cincinnati, Boston, Baltimore, Philadelphia and New York and through the treasurer of the United States at Washington.

It is expected that this will enable the government to tempt from their hiding places millions of dollars which have been hoarded by persons distrustful even of national banks.

In a letter to Secretary Cortelyou President Roosevelt says:

"What is most needed just at present is that our citizens should realize how fundamentally sound business conditions in this country are and how absurd it is to permit themselves to get into a panic and create a stringency by hoarding their savings instead of trusting perfectly sound banks.

"There is no particle of risk involved in letting business take its natural course, and the people can help themselves and the country most by putting back into active circulation the money they are hoarding. The banks and trust companies are solvent. There is more currency in the country today than there was a month ago, when the supply was ample. Over $55,000,000 has been imported, and the government has deposited another $50,000,000. These are facts, and I appeal to the public to co-operate with us in restoring normal business conditions.

"The government will see that the people do not suffer if only the people themselves will act in a normal way. Crops are good and business conditions are sound, and we should put the money we have into circulation in order to meet the needs of abounding prosperity."

The treasury circular inviting proposals for Panama canal bonds reads as follows:

"The secretary of the treasury offers to the public $50,000,000 of the bonds of the Panama canal loan.

"The bonds will bear interest at the rate of 2 per cent per annum, will be dated Aug. 1, 1906, and the interest will be paid quarterly on the first days of November, February, May and August. They will be issued in denominations of $20, $100 and $1,000 of coupon bonds and of $20, $100, $1,000 and $10,000 of registered bonds.

"They will be redeemable in United States gold coin at the pleasure of the United States after ten years from the date of their issue and will be payable thirty years from such date.

"They will be exempt from all taxes or duties of the United States as well as from taxation in any form by or under state, municipal or local authority. They will be available to national banks as security for circulating notes. They will be receivable, like all other United States bonds, as security for public deposits in national banks."

Shook Manila Opera House.

MANILA, Nov. 19. — Four sharp earthquake shocks were felt in Manila and surrounding provinces on the night of Nov. 16 and the morning of Nov. 17. The first shock was felt at 11:25 in the evening. Governor General Smith and party were attending a performance of "The Mikado." A panic was averted by the presence of mind of the governor general, who rose in his box and commanded the people, who had already arisen, to sit down. The orchestra stopped playing, but the actors continued, being undisturbed, and the audience quickly calmed down.

Miners' Wages Reduced.

EASTON, Pa., Nov. 19.—The Thomas Iron company announces a reduction of 10 per cent in the wages of its employees, to take effect on Dec. 1. The reduction will affect all the mines and works of the company, including the Richards mine in New Jersey. A similar reduction has been announced at the mines and works of the Empire Iron and Steel company and at the Joseph Wharton blast furnaces and mines of the Musconetong Iron company at Stanhope, N. J.

Bryan at Lafayette.

LAFAYETTE, Ind., Nov. 19.—W. J. Bryan arrived here to greet 25,000 Indiana Democrats and sound a keynote at a banquet of the Jackson club tonight. Republicans vied with Democrats in welcoming the visitor, and a Republican county administration decorated the courthouse from basement to roof in honor of the Nebraskan.

POLITICIANS IN IT.

Probing Defunct Brooklyn Bank's Affairs.

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—Political fur is likely to fly in the court on the probing of the affairs of the Borough bank of Brooklyn, which is now under way at the hands of the grand jury in that borough, following the charges made Saturday by Attorney General Jackson.

The most sensational report current around the county courthouse, where the investigation is being conducted, had it that Senator Patrick H. McCarren, the leader of the Democratic party of Kings county, was indebted to the bank for the amount of $80,000, for which sum he gave his personal note some time ago. The rumor was not verified, but the fact of its circulation is evidently no surprise to Assistant District Attorney Robert H. Eller, who is in charge of the case.

William B. Hurley, vice president of the bank, said that "$767,000 of restitution" had been made. This assured the payment of all depositors in full, he declared.

Assistant District Attorney Eller will call Superintendent Williams and Attorney General Jackson before the grand jury to give such information as they have secured in their investigations. Commenting upon the rumors that politicians had placed unindorsed notes with the Borough bank representing large sums, State Senator Patrick H. McCarren said:

"The Borough bank has my note for $13,000 and not one penny more. If you were to make the rounds of other banks in Brooklyn you would find that several of them loaned me money as did the Borough bank, but I have always discharged my obligations, and my paper is not only good, but it is fully covered."

DIES IN AUTO WRECK.

J. H. Eckstein Killed, Judge Steckler and Two Women Dying.

ENGLEWOOD, N. J., Nov. 19.—In an automobile wreck at Harrington Park, eight miles from here, J. H. Eckstein of New York was killed instantly, Supreme Court Justice Steckler was injured, and both their wives were so badly wounded that, in spite of the efforts of specialists who were hurried out there from this city, they are expected to die. The chauffeur escaped almost unhurt.

The accident is laid at the door of the chauffeur by Coroner Lees. The coroner says that the man must have been absolutely without care. The automobile was hit by a West Shore locomotive going south. The track to the north of the crossing is open for 500 feet, and the coroner cannot understand why it was that the chauffeur did not see the locomotive coming.

Later Mrs. Steckler died of her injuries.

OUTRAGE AT SANTIAGO.

Attempt Made to Fire Government Headquarters With Gasoline.

SANTIAGO, Cuba, Nov. 19.—An unsuccessful attempt was made here to set fire to the government headquarters. At 10 o'clock in the morning a man entered the civil government department of the palace carrying a large can of gasoline.

As he was passing the office of the governor he threw the can to the floor and, then slashing it open with a knife, applied a lighted match to the liquid. The flames flared up, and the building was threatened, but help was summoned, and the united efforts of the policemen on duty at the palace, a number of officials and others served eventually to put out the fire.

Considerable furniture and draperies were burned, and the building itself sustained some damage. In the confusion the man who had attempted the outrage got away. The reason for his act is not known.

Declared Sane After Nineteen Years.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., Nov. 19.—Henry D. Shipman of New York city was declared a sane man after being an inmate of insane asylums for the past nineteen years. After being declared sane by Judge Samuel K. Phillips in a special term of the Dutchess county court Shipman was taken where there hangs over him an indictment for murder, he having killed a woman in that city nearly twenty years ago. His case will be taken up by Lieutenant Governor Lewis Stuyvesant Chanler without expense to the defendant. Shipman is now forty-seven years old.

Now Is Pasha Bucknam.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 19.—Commodore R. D. Bucknam, an American and naval adviser of the sultan, has been promoted to the rank of rear admiral in the Turkish navy, with the title of pasha. Commodore Buchnam formerly was a resident of Worcester, Mass., and has followed the sea since a lad of sixteen. At one time he commanded one of John D. Rockefeller's whaleback steamers in the great lakes.

Millionaire Hurt at Horse Show.

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—In full view of crowds of society folk at the horse show here Nicholas Dunn, millionaire horse fancier, who lives at Rye, N. Y., was thrown from the celebrated hunter Prince Chap while the animal was trying to make a hurdle and sustained severe injuries. His left wrist was broken and his left arm was fractured below the elbow.

Was Nephew of Ole Bull.

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 19. — Storm Bull, professor of steam engineering in the University of Wisconsin, died of cancer of the stomach. He was born in Norway Oct. 20, 1858. He was a nephew of Ole Bull, the famous Norwegian violinist.

A Hard Debt to Pay.

"I owe a debt of gratitude that can never be paid off," writes G. S. Clark, of Westfield, Iowa, "for my rescue from death, by Dr. King's New Discovery. Both lungs were so seriously affected that death seemed imminent, when I commenced taking New Discovery. The ominous dry, hacking cough quit before the first bottle was used, and two more bottles made a complete cure." Nothing has ever equaled New Discovery for coughs, colds and all throat and lung complaints. Guaranteed by White & Co., druggists. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

Secretary Taft Will Not Visit Berlin or London.

TO SAIL FROM HAMBURG DEC. 7.

World's Tour Party Left Vladivostok This Morning En Route For St. Petersburg to Visit Czar.

VLADIVOSTOK, Nov. 19.—Secretary of War Taft, who is here en route over the Siberian railroad to Moscow and St. Petersburg, has definitely and finally decided not to visit Emperor William at Berlin or in England.

He has sent a telegram to Charlemagne Tower, the American ambassador to Germany, expressing his regret that he will not be able to see the emperor in England. To this Mr. Tower replied by a message in which he pointed out certain considerations which might lead Secretary Taft to change his plans.

A second telegram has been sent by the secretary in which he reaffirms that he is obliged to proceed direct to America and requesting Mr. Tower to transmit to his majesty his very deep regret.

Mr. Taft will take a steamer at Hamburg for New York on Dec. 7.

The Rainbow, on which Mr. Taft arrived here, was convoyed by the cruisers Chattanooga and Galveston, which are still in the harbor. When the American vessels entered the Golden Horn they were met by the Russian gunboat detailed to escort them, and salutes were exchanged with the land batteries. As the Rainbow steamed in there could be seen the wreck of the Russian torpedo boat destroyer which was sunk during the recent naval mutiny. Secretary Taft showed considerable interest in the story of the mutiny.

The secretary and his party left Vladivostok over the Transsiberian railroad for St. Petersburg at 7 o'clock this morning. An imperial car had been placed at Mr. Taft's disposal for this journey by the czar, and the emperor detailed military and naval aids to accompany him.

General Peluge, the commandant of this port, and other naval, military and civil officials have received Mr. Taft with much courtesy.

It is probable that from St. Petersburg Mr. Taft will journey direct to Hamburg and sail for New York on the Hamburg liner President Grant.

Mr. Taft hopes to reach St. Petersburg at noon on Dec. 3, and he says he must leave there not later than Dec. 5. Mr. Schuyler is in conference with M. Iswolsky, the Russian minister of foreign affairs, and General Baron Fredericks, minister of the imperial house, regarding the date of Secretary Taft's audience of the emperor. This probably will be on the 4th.

Mother Accused of Children's Murder.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 19.—Mrs. Bridget Carey, accused of murdering two of her children by giving them poison in candy in order to secure the insurance on their lives, was placed on trial here. It is charged that she administered "Rough on Rats" to Mary, aged eight years, and Annie, aged six. At the coroner's inquest into the deaths of the children experts swore that enough poison to kill several persons was found in the stomachs of the two children. The defense will endeavor to prove that arsenic is one of the constituent chemicals of the human system and that it is absorbed by everybody from wall paper, clothing and even ornaments.

Saluta Dead After Pistol Fray.

PITTSBURG, Nov. 19.—Samuel Saluta, an Italian, proprietor of a poolroom, is dead here and Lieutenant of Police William D. Hilty is in a hospital suffering from a serious pistol wound in his face as the result of an encounter at Saluta's house. Saluta, it is alleged, fired two shots at two of his neighbors and when officers reached his house opened fire upon them. The officers fired six shots through the door, three of which struck the Italian.

Forge New Jersey Central Checks.

EASTON, Pa., Nov. 19.—The authorities here were notified that the Central Railroad of New Jersey has discovered that checks of $5 denomination which it has been issuing to employees for wages have been counterfeited to the amount of probably $10,000. The checks are declared to be easily counterfeited because they are made payable to the holder.

Guild's Adjutant General Resigns.

BOSTON, Nov. 19.—James P. Parker, adjutant general of Massachusetts and chief of staff on the governor's staff, sent his resignation to Governor Guild. Governor Guild announced the appointment of Inspector General William H. Brigham to be his successor. General Parker stated that his business duties forbade his continuing in the office.

Seven Cities Want Convention.

FRENCH LICK, Ind., Nov. 18.—The Democratic national committee will meet here on Friday, when the applications from cities for the national convention already received will be considered. The cities that wish the convention are Chicago, Louisville, Cincinnati, St. Louis, St. Paul, Atlantic City and Milwaukee.

Schurman Booms Hughes.

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—President Schurman of Cornell at Cooper Union here praised the administration of Governor Hughes and declared that if the people wanted him for president they must call him themselves, as the governor would take no nomination from the bosses.

SMART FALL GOWNS

The first costume displayed above is one of the new striped and long coated variety. The pattern is a soft green against a dark grey ground interwoven with faint flecks of color. The coat is all bound with braid, and further adorned with buttons of the striped tweed centered with braid; a green velvet collar, and a waistcoat of green cloth, where fine braiding is wrought in scrolls, being further decorative details, while the silk lining must by no means be forgotten. On the skirt graduated bands of cloth, where the stripes are arranged in contrasting form, are edged with stitching, and each finished off with one of those effective buttons so popular now.

The other costume represents an equally leading mode. It is made of fine face cloth, the coat, silk lined and the braiding which forms its chief trimming being of considerable elaboration, the back, too, being entirely covered by the lines of silken braid, whose graceful inward curve at the waist and outward spread on the little basque have such a good effect on the figure. It looks especially well in nut-brown cloth with braidings in black, and a contrast of bright green velvet on the collar which is edged first with a fine white and gold, and then with the broad black braid, cuffs to match holding in the fulness of the sleeves below the elbow. Then the almost inevitable and very decorative waistcoat repeats the note of green and the pretty scheme of braiding, while as to the skirt, its panel pleatings are connected by a braided device, the whole arrangement being entirely novel and vastly smart.

HAT CHAT

RACEFUL indeed to some faces are the new shapes of the cloche hats, which show a variation from the ubiquitous all-around shape. They are turned up slightly at the left side, close to the front, and as a result lose their quaint "mushroom" look and gain in smartness. Satin and taffetas hats will be all the rage this winter, especially satin for occasions of ceremony. In all cases the material will be drawn tightly over the shape and the best milliners use some mysterious paste to make the material stick close. Amateurs may be pleased to know that the stuff used by makers of waterproof repairs is an excellent thing for making thick satin cling to a hat shape, but, of course, sufficient time must be given for the distinctly disagreeable odor to wear off.

Another new hat which is making a strong bid for favor, is that with the brim much broader at the sides than at front or back; in fact, the front and back of these new hats are quite short, and the sides jut out in a most imposing manner. These hats are not every woman's wear; they demand a special style of hairdressing. The hair must be carried back over large frizettes at the sides and dressed very loosely. The whole effect is rather quaint, as the trimmings on these hats follow the outline of the shape, with the result that at the front and back the hat looks very large and en profile it seems as small as a toque!

And yet another novelty—this time in the world of veils. The newest veil is a length, measuring a yard and a half, of silk net covered with large chenil spots and worn in bird-cage style, without any edge or border! Personally, I think these veils exceedingly unfinished and not too becoming, but they are all the rage and adopted by the best-dressed women.

This veil in the new shade of prune is in great favor, and worn with a black hat it is not without charm; dark green is also much worn, and, of course, taupe. The taupe filet veils—bordered with tucks of chiffon are still in favor, but there is no doubt about the newest thing being the simple length of silk net, covered with very large chenil spots.

We are slowly, but surely, saying au revoir to the ultra-long veil, except for motoring. It has enjoyed a long and successful day and, notwithstanding its fine qualities, it could not remain in favor for ever.

Hats are very much more expensive this autumn than before. Even the simplest of felt outing hats has gone up a peg.

It is the most fatal of all economies to invest in a cheap hat. The price need not be high, but the velvet or felt should be of the best, for then a wetting will not injure it, dust may be readily brushed from it, it retains its color and is always satisfactory. Better have an expensive foundation and little trimming than good trimming and poor felt or velvet. In felts the soft French ones are the only first-class felts. In suiting hats where a stiff felt is required, one often has to take it, and while the best stiff felt is not as good as the average soft felt, there are different grades in it, and the best should always be purchased. Trimmings should, of course, also be of good quality, and if one cannot afford really fine ostrich plumes that will outlast several hats, it is better to get wings or quills and use fine velvets.

Quill-trimmed hats cannot be worn with formal and elaborate costumes, so that of necessity some sort of plumes or rare wings are necessary.

Living Up to Regulations.

A number of small North Delaware street girls had opened a lemonade stand at the edge of the curb. The drink was in a large glass pitcher, with sliced lemons floating appetizingly at the top. One small girl, with a red crayon, had lettered the word "artificial" and loaned it against the pitcher.

"What's that for?" inquired a passer by.

"Pure food law," said the girls in chorus.

"But why should you label it? Are not the water, the lemons, and the sugar pure?"

"Yes."

"Well, what's artificial about it?"

"The ice."—Indianapolis News.

Cured of Bright's Disease.

Mr. Robert O. Burke, Elnora, N. Y., writes: "Before I started to use Foley's Kidney Cure I had to get up from twelve to twenty times a night, and I was all bloated up with dropsy and my eyesight was so impaired I could scarcely see one of my family across the room. I had given up hope of living, when a friend recommended Foley's Kidney Cure. One 50 cent bottle worked wonders and before I had taken the third bottle the dropsy had gone, as well as all other symptoms of Bright's disease." The Winston Drug Co.

When the Stomach, Heart, or Kidney nerves get weak, then these organs always fail. Don't drug the stomach, nor stimulate the Heart or Kidneys. That is simply a makeshift. Get a prescription known to Druggists everywhere as Dr. Shoop's Restorative. The Restorative is prepared expressly for these weak inside nerves, strengthen these nerves, build them up with Dr. Shoop's Restorative—tablets or liquid—and see how quickly help will come.
