Modern Society.

It is in the home that woman raises to her truest heights and wields her widest influence. Every home is a miniature world, and the wife is a crowned queen. The wife who makes society the field of her accomplishment soon finds her husband a devoted club man. The woman who fills her head with many of the ideas and pleasures of much that is called society, soon wants to entertain her husband, any evening she may not have some other engagement, with cards. She plays just as she did to win some prize at progressive euchre or whist parties. She cheats a little, and they have a little spat over it and then another and another, and presently she fires something at his head, but misses it and hits the motto over the door "God Bless Our Home." Their little boy says: "Ma, you missed pa's head but you gave the motto hell Columbia." Often the only question to be decided in that home is, "who shall have the boy?" and the court is asked to decide it. God pity the woman who has set her heart on much that is in modern society.

EMINENT PHARMACISTS.

Everywhere Acknowledge the Superiority of Vinol.

If one person more than another should know the value of a medicine it is the retail pharmacist.

C. A. Patterson, the leading druggist of Charleston, W. Va., writes: I have used Vinol for every member of my family and have never been disappointed in the result. It is a pleasure to sell a remedy that gives such universal satisfaction.

Mr. Chas. E. Rogers, Druggist, of Elkton, Ky., writes: "I consider Vinol one of the best remedies in my store and sell more of it than any other medicine. I have also used Vinol in my family with excellent results.

Mr. J. F. Bradley, of New Brunswick, N. J., writes: "It is a pleasure to recommend the cod liver preparation, Vinol, as it gives such splendid satisfaction. As I have used it in my family, I can recommend it from experience.

The reason Vinol is so far superior to old-fashion cod liver oil and emulsions is because it contains all the medicinal body building elements of cod liver oil actually taken from fresh cods' livers with all the useless oil eliminated and peptonate-of-iron added.

As a body builder and strength creator for old people, weak women, delicate children, after sickness and for all pulmonary troubles, Vinol is recommended by over 5000 of the leading druggists of the United States. Your money back if it fails. H. C. Crute & Co., Druggists, Farmville, Va.

The heart is the bookeeper of our action. How do you keep it? Is it clean and pure enough for public inspection or is it scarred over with bad thoughts and worse deeds? Ah, keep thy heart diligently, for out of it are the issues of life.

Letter to H. A. Barrow.

Farmville, Va.

Dear Sir: Say if milk is worth 8c a quart,

If ½ water and sold at 8c, the milk in it fetches 12c a quart.

If ⅓ water, 10c.

If ¼ water, 12c.

If ⅕ water, 13c.

That's rather too stiff for milk; but watered paint is sold in all those proportions.

Pure paint, Devoe, is sold for $1.75 a gallon.

"Paint" at that price and ½ whitewash fetches $1.62 a gallon for the paint part of it.

"Paint" ⅔ whitewash fetches $1.50 a gallon for the paint in it.

"Paint" ¾ whitewash fetches $1.00 a gallon for the actual paint it contains.

And people are paying all these prices for paint, when they buy adulterated paints. There are 500 such; only 8 pure paints; only one Devoe.

Yours truly,

F. W. Devoe & Co.

P. S. J. F. Walton & Co. sell our paint.

Shake in a Bottle.

Now is the time when the doctor gets busy and the patent medicine manufacturers reap the harvest, unless great care is taken to dress warmly and keep the feet dry. This is the advice of an old eminent authority, who says that Rheumatism and Kidney trouble weather is here, and also tells what to do in case of an attack.

Get from any good prescription pharmacy one-half ounce Fluid Extract Dandelion, one ounce Compound Kargon, three ounces Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla. Mix by shaking in a bottle and take a teaspoonful after meals and at bedtime.

Just try this simple home-made mixture at the first sign of Rheumatism, or if your back aches or if you feel that the kidneys are not acting just right. This is said to be a splendid kidney regulator, and almost certain remedy for all forms of Rheumatism, which is caused by uric acid in the blood, when the kidneys fail to filter it out. Any one can easily prepare this at home and at small cost.

Druggists in this town and vicinity, when shown the prescription, stated that they can either supply ingredients, or if our readers prefer they will compound the mixture for them.

Will Not Be a Candidate.

After considering the matter for some time, and consulting with friends throughout the whole district, Judge A. D. Watkins has decided definitely not to be a candidate for Congress. Judge Watkins had received much encouragement from every county in the district, and while no public announcement had been made by him it was generally believed that he would make the run. At present there are two candidates who have announced themselves for the honor. They are Hon. Francis Rives Lassiter, the present able representative of the district, and Hon Robert Turnbull, of Brunswick county.

Death of Mrs. Lesturgeon.

Mrs. Elizabeth Lesturgeon, widow of the late Frederick G. Lesturgeon, passed into her eternal rest, Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock, at her home in Cumberland county, after an illness of two weeks of pneumonia. Age 53 years.

Her physician, Dr. W. E. Anderson, assisted by Dr. R. L. Hudgins, did all that human skill could do to save her life.

She was a devoted member of Johns Memorial Episcopal Church, of Farmville, and a consistent Christian. As a friend she was always true and in her relations as a mother no one was more fond and faithful. She leaves four sons and three daughters, besides many friends and relatives to mourn their loss.

Funeral services took place Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock from Browns Church, conducted by Rev. Mr. Lancaster assisted by Rev. J. H. Davis, and the remains were laid to rest in the church cemetery by the side of her devoted husband who preceded her four years ago.

Weep not, loved ones, she is like a flower taken from this world and transplanted in the garden of Eden, there to live and bloom forever in the light of God's presence.

This is one of Farmville women's testimony.

Miss Agnes Dowdy, living on Main St., Farmville, Va., says: "I suffered quite severely for a number of years from pains across the small of my back and I often felt miserable and little like performing my household duties. I had a feeling of langor and but little ambition. I finally decided to try Doan's Kidney Pills and procured a box at H. C. Crute & Co's drug store. I received such great relief that I procured a further supply and from the result received can only speak in the highest terms of praise of Doan's Kidney Pills. I sincerely hope that others suffering from kidney trouble will give them a trial as know they can be depended upon.

Industrial Investment.

I am enlisting capital for the extension of the business of a hot water heating company. The heater is the best on the market and its success is proved by the increasing numbers being installed every day. The company will build its own plant to make its own heaters, saving the profits now paid to other people. As a conservative industrial investment this is one of the best things that I have ever seen. Address inquiries to me at Amelia, Va. F. J. CRAIGIE, JR., Richmond, Va.

Dismiss Your Fears.

No one need feel concern as to the health-record of Farmville. True, we have been recently passing through an universal and unprecedented epidemic of measels, and it has cast a dark shadow, but for more than a century we have been blessed with a freedom from such visitations that is without a parallel in the history of towns. Our neighbor, Hampden-Sidney, is now in the 133rd year of its marvellous life-history, and the death angel, clad in the robe of sickness, has but twice in all those years, hovered over the classic spot. And Farmville can boast of a record well nigh as good.

Measels is the most treacherous of human ills. Innocent in its incipiency 'tis true, but a dreaded foe in its after-effects. And may we not say, without fear of censure, that the mid-winter method of dressing on the part of our girls has been prolific source of our recent troubles? The thin, white waist, low shoes, no wraps and no covering for the head have been defiant of all diseases, and the wonder is that the strongest survive. This is not written in criticism, but in kindness. Perhaps it would be well to adopt and enforce a uniform dress for our girls at school, and on having regard to health rather than to the pleasing of individual tastes. We believe there is mother-care in the conduct of the home-department of our Normal, but mother care is impotent in the presence of summer wear in mid-winter. The white waist is beautiful to look upon, but it so often is prophetic of the white shroud.

Farmville's health-record is peerless, but the goddess of health must be wooed and not made war on.

The Little Detective.

The story of the Little Detective, the attraction at the Opera House next Wednesday night, goes as follows: The play is not of the blood and thunder variety as the title might suggest, but a beautiful story of love and devotion, treachery and crime, brought to bay by really clever detective work. The plot tells of a polished villian who by forged letters of introduction and the accidental saving of the life of Sir Gervase Lanston's eldest daughter, so ingratiate himself in the father's favor, wins the heart of the rather frivolous daughter and becomes her affianced husband.

On the eve of the approaching marriage, his former wife, whom he abandoned and who, broken in health, has gone to Baden-Baden to recuperate, appears on the scene. In order to marry girl number two, he elopes his wife to accompany him to an old boat house on the lake, and there in the dead of night, he commits the most dastardly crime of which man is capable.

But a Scotland Yard Detective is on his trail for a bold bank robbery of which he was the instigator. This detective has enlisted the services of the Baronet's youngest daughter, who becomes so clever in collecting evidence that he calls her THE LITTLE DETECTIVE.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caus d by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness caused by catarrh, that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free.

Hampden-Sidney College.

Glorious weather, general enthusiasm, number of visiting young ladies combined to render "Intermediates," the public celebration in honor of Washington, a splendid success. On Friday evening, February 21st, took place the joint celebration of the two literary societies, the following program being rendered: Mr. Robert O. Locke, of Richmond, Va., Philanthropic Senior Orator, spoke on "The typical Small College: Its Advantages over the large Universities." Mr. A. H. Williams, Wytheville, Va., Union Junior Orator, "The South's Immigration." Mr. Wm. Hodges Mann, Jr., Nottoway, Va., Philanthropic Junior Orator, "The South: Its Present and Future." Mr. A. G. Lowry, Abingdon, Va., Union Junior Orator, "The Ideals of Men and of Nations." Mr. T. K. Young, Rayford, Va., Union Senior Orator, "Electricity." Messrs. S. L. Flournoy, of Charleston, W. Va., and James C. Scott, of Petersburg, Va., were the marshals of the occasion, and the music was furnished by Kessnich's band of Richmond. The speaking was of an unusually high order and a fine audience was present to cheer the orators to their best. It was the matter of sincere regret that Mr. Graham Gilmer, of Pulaski, Va., was prevented by sickness from taking part.

The Hampden-Sidney Dramatic Club scored a decided success on Saturday night last in the auditorium at Hampden-Sidney. After many discouragements and a great deal of work the required histrionic talent was forth coming and the club pulled off a rattling good show in first class style.

Nearly all the cast put up very clever impersonations and their efforts were greeted by repeated bursts of applause from the audience which crowded the house. They appeared before the foot lights in that exceedingly amusing comedy, "Why Smith Left Home," and amateurs will have to get up early to eclipse them.

They have been asked to go to Norfolk and show there in the Academy, all expenses being guaranteed.

Those in the cast were Geo. Diehl, of Burkeville, as Smith; Carl Fleming, of Richmond, as Mrs. Smith; Neal Williams, of Wytheville, as Bob. Walton; George Richardson, of Farmville, as Rosa Walton, his wife; W. D. Foster, of Norfolk as Major Duncombe; T. Brooke Price, of Charleston, W. Va., as General Billesdoux; W. G. Crockett, of Tazewell, as Mrs. Billetdoux; Horace Byers, of North Carolina, as Lavinia Daly the cook; W. Frank Lewis, of Tazewell, as Count Von Griggenheim; W. O. Walley, of Black Walnut, as Julia, a maid; F. C. Brown, of Lewisburg, W. Va., as Miss Smith, and J. W. Sinton, of Richmond, maid number two.

All of the characters were good, but the impersonations of W. F. Lewis the Count; T. B. Price, General Billetdoux, W. G. Crockett, Mrs. Billetdoux, H. Byers, Lavinia Daly and Carl Fleming, as Mrs. Smith, were especially pleasing. As a pretty girl George Richardson had the fairest in the auditorium enthralled and all those taking womens' parts looked every inch the real thing.

Among visitors for these exercises were Messrs. E. W. Wall, Tom Byrd and Ernest Emmett of the University of Virginia, and J. Marion Stratton, of Lewisburg, W. Va.

The Inter-Society debate, a public function, will take place next Saturday evening, the 29th, a spirited contest being promised, and examinations will begin about March 10th.

The Farmville Dispensary.

Editor Herald:—Permit me through your columns to submit to the people of the town of Farmville some inquiries as to the conduct of the dispensary. First: Has the law been complied with in the appointment of the board? As I understand the law the dispensary board was to be appointed on the first Tuesday in April, 1901, composed of three citizens of the town, whose term of office should begin on the 15th day of April, 1901, and one member should be appointed for one year, one member for two years and one member for three years. After this date the council should each year appoint a member for a term of three years. Has this law been complied with?

Another matter frequently discussed publicly and privately, is as to the character of the ardent spirits sold in the dispensary. Has the dispensary board ever called for an inspection and analysis of the stock kept on hand by a competent chemist?

Has the dispensary board caused packages of whiskey brought into the dispensary to be immediately bottled or jugged? And has there at any time been allowed to be kept in the dispensary broken or unsealed packages.

Has there ever been employed any agents or detectives to assist and aid in the detection and prosecution of any violation of the law?

Who is the purchasing agent of the dispensary board, and from whom does he buy? What provision is made for compensation of the purchasing agent? If one-fourth of the rumors be true the dispensary has not been conducted according to law. It would be well for the town council to appoint a committee of its body to familiarize itself with the law and who shall make inquiries and report to the council whether the law is being complied with. Let this report be made public, and if injustice has been done by the rumors afloat there ought to be a correction, and if the dispensary has not been run properly it would be better to change the board. The loose management of public matters has caused a good deal of scandal in the State, and such inquiries as suggested above would be of interest in view of the fact that there is soon to be a re-election of members of the Town Council. Does Ma Wish She Was Pa?

"I wish I had a lot o' cash,"
Sez pa, one winter's night;
"I'd go down South an' stay a while
Where daysare warm an' bright."
He set an' watched the fire die
(Seemed lost in thoughtful daze),
Till ma brought in some fresh pine knots
An' made a cheerful blaze.

"I wish I had a million shares
O' stock in Standard Oil,"
Sez pa; "I wouldn't do a thing"
Ma made the kettle boil,
An' mixed hot biscuits, fried some ham
An' eggs (smelt good, you bet!)
Fetched cheese an' doughnuts, made the tea,
Then pa—set down an' ate!

"I wish I was a millionaire!"
Sez pa; "I'd have a soap."
Next, from the lounge, we hear a snore:
Pa—at his ev'nin' nap!
Ma did the dishes, shook the cloth,
Brushed up, put things away,
An' fed the cat, then started up
Her plans for bakin' day.

She washed an' put some beans to soak,
An' set some bread to rise;
Unstrung dried apples, soaked 'em, too,
All ready for her pies;
She brought more wood, put out the cat,
Then darned four pairs o' socks;
Pa woke, an' say, "It's time for bed;
Ma, have you wound both clocks?"
