Notes of Happenings and People You Know.

Harmless. The Aerial Family

Dad is on the barn roof launching a balloon. With wooden wings beneath his arms he says: "I'll soar soon."

Miss Lelia Jackson has returned from her school work in North Carolina.

It makes no difference as to the size of the job, we are prepared to execute it at the Herald office.

Mr. L. A. Smith attended the Baptist encampment at Ocean View last week.

Miss Snow, a former member of the Normal faculty, is here to teach in the Summer Normal.

Miss Bessie Price leaves today for Richmond, where she will be the guest of her friend, Miss Carrie Renzie.

Mr. Ernest Jones, who has been located at Buckingham Courthouse, has moved to Alta Vista, where he has opened a law office.

Mrs. C. M. Walker will go to the Yellow Sulphur, and have as her guests Mrs. Mattie Lee Walker and Miss Walker.

The evenings will soon be longer, and you can't afford not to have the Herald as companion after the labor of the day are ended.

In the olden day "cherry bounce" was reckoned among the good things of life, but who hears of cherry bounce now-a-days?

In the world of nature after the storm comes the sunshine again. And the same is true in the world of men.

The local happening worth repeating to your neighbor is worth sending into the Herald. Do so and accept our thanks in advance.

If you rise now-a-days with the dawn and work until the sun goes down you have done full day's work, and you retire to bed tired good.

Drop in and look at the new machine at work but be sure not to talk to the operator. His whole time is occupied and time is money.

Whenever a stranger is starting to drive about town most of us would remind him or her to take in the Normal, but no attention is called to the High School.

The old seedling peach trees are on duty this season, and the fruit from some of them is most excellent. The green apple pies are as good as yore.

Mr. C. A. Price and family have moved into the new home, and Mr. A. R. Hurd with his family now occupy the place made vacant by them in the home of Mr. C. C. Cowan.

All of us are grateful when the shadows of evening fall on a day of burning sunshine, and yet with each going day we have lost so much of time—that which we cling to so tenaciously and value above price.

A sudden darkness gathered in the sky on Friday afternoon of last week, and for the time it looked as though there would be a hurricane, but the rain came down and the clouds rolled by.

The next time you meet with a stranger who has come to us with the purpose of buying a home, don't you play pessimist and drive him away. We have a glorious country whether you have succeeded in it or not.

As there is not to be any observance of the Fourth in Farmville, suppose you run over to Chase City and learn how they do things since "Bob" West has become a citizen of the town, and the Progress is using an enlarged P.

The man who begins a job and stops before completing it is reckoned a failure. What is true of that man is just as true of the other man who begins to advertise and then quits before the end has been reached.

A fire is rarely heard of in the country where the property is insured. This strikes one as reckless. Few persons are rich enough to do without the protection of insurance. And there are many strong and safe companies.

If you imagine that the page advertisements in the Herald are not worth the price you are simply mistaken. Ask Wauquaker whether or not such advertisements in the papers of Philadelphia pay, and then learn from him the cost of the same.

Mrs. Laura Hall, of Richmond, is guest of Mrs. Monroe Jones.

Mr. N. B. Davidson is adding to his residence on South Main street.

Dewberry cordial is fine to the taste and useful household remedy.

Miss Lelia Jackson has returned from her school work in North Carolina.

Wouldn't be surprised to learn that Mr. R. H. Walton was topping tobacco.

We have heard no farmer complain of the quality of this season's wheat.

Wednesday evening prayer meetings are well attended though the weather is scorching.

The Normal bell sounded again on Wednesday morning for breakfast, and it made music in the air.

Miss Carrie Bland, who has been attending school in Portsmouth, Va., has returned to her home in Buckingham.

Mr. John L. Burger is having a handsome residence built on one of the choice lots bought at the recent sale of the Venable lots.

The entertainment which the ladies of the Presbyterian Church had planned for the 8th of July, has been postponed.

Many suggestions are being made as to the site for the government building, but we have to catch the hare before cooking it.

Some people jump when it thunders, and sit unmoved when the lightning flashes. But the thunder never did hurt anybody.

Yes, Main and Third streets are kept well cleaned, and yet some people are careless enough still to throw waste paper on the sidewalks.

The one trouble about all marriages is that the bride has to say "goodbye" to the home circle. Friends may smile, but mother sheds tears.

Read over the receipts at our postoffice, compare them with others, and you will know that Farmville is entitled to a government building.

The squares in the Prince Edward Hotel garden upon which grew the early vegetables, are now being prepared for other crops. No waste of space nor of time allowed there.

Comfortable benches are now being placed at convenient points in the cemetery, affording pleasant resting places for those who walk out to the city of the dead.

Cumberland is respectfully asked to get busy, and build a macadam to Raines. It is selfish, we admit, and yet a degree of selfishness is mixed with most human transactions.

Mrs. George E. Cox sent to the Herald Friday, choice specimens of cabbage and cucumbers. The cucumbers were the first of the season from local gardens, so far as we know.

Miss Bessie Lindsey, who teaches school in Richmond, has been on a visit to her old home friends in this place. She left Tuesday for Wytheville, where she will be with friends for the remainder of the vacation.

The "special delivery" letter is said to be unsafe mode of sending letters with money. Many are lost and the government in no wise responsible. Register your letters of value in the safe and sane way.

The Presbyterian ladies of Burkeville realized $200.00 from their entertainment of last Friday, and during the recent past have made $1,600 to be used in the building of a manse.

Saturday was one of those "rare days in June"—the sun bright and the air bracing. Main street was crowded, but we do not know that buyers and sellers were busy. It is to be hoped that everybody got business.

The dispensary receipts on last Saturday amounted to $525.40, due in part to the fact that the Norfolk and Western had paid its employees, and the money from harvest was in hand. And the beer was cool and refreshing.

Mr. J. W. Hazelgrove was in town on Saturday and gave out good news from the farm. Wheat all cut, some tobacco in top grass growing, fruit maturing and "all's well" He added, "all good men are born on the farm." The noblest profession known among men.

People are dying from the effects of heat the country over, while in Farmville most everybody goes about daily tasks and to bed when night comes, cool and comfortable. There may be exceptions, but these are confined to persons given to imprudence or intemperance in some things. Bathe freely, eat and drink moderately, work cheerfully, and all's well.

Miss Rosa Williams has returned from a visit to friends at Arvonja.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Armistead are at home again after a stay in the country.

Mrs. Ann Atkinson Burmeister and daughter, Wilhelmina, of Dresden, Germany, are at Mrs. Berkeley's.

Mr. Horace E. Pankey, of Harrisonburg, Va., has been a visitor this week in the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Garnett.

Ward, the chef, is on deck again, but the kitchen is a large and airy one and the work is done under comfortable conditions.

Mrs. Lelia Pierce, formerly of the county of Buckingham, now of Florida, is with her sister, Mrs. R. W. Garnett, for the summer months.

Mr. Hatcher Coleman, of Nottoway, is now superintending the building of the macadam to Wilborne's bridge in place of Mr. A. F. Brown, who was ordered to Spottsylvania.

Mr. M. M. Lampe, traveling manager of the Consolidated Mercantile Co., is personally conducting R. W. Garnett & Co's. sale. Mr. Lampe is known as the world's greatest bargain giver.

Two Hearts That Beat as One

The home of Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Cox, on Buffalo street, was the scene of an unusually brilliant home wedding, when on the evening of the 23rd their daughter, Beverly, became the bride of Mr. James G. Nesbit, of Big Stone Gap, Va.

Friends of the family and the contracting parties had been invited in large numbers, and when they gathered there the soft and many-colored lights fell upon as much of beauty and chivalry as ever met to go honor to a social function in the history of Farmville. The goddess of fashion had, with exquisite taste, dictated the dress of the maidens, in colors as delicate as those, with which Nature paints the lips of the lily, or makes beautiful the rose. The matrons in gowns more subdued, and yet of finest fabric and finish, moved about in stately grace and dignity, while the cavaliers, in full dress, were as gallant and chivalrous as were the knights of old.

The Rev. W. E. Hill, pastor of the family, performed the ceremony.

The attendants were: Mr. W. H. Polly, of Big Stone Gap, best man, and the bride's twin sister, Miss Sallie Cox, was maid of honor. Miss Edna B. Cox, cousin of the bride, was bridesmaid. The bride's gown was of duchess satin, with pearl and chiffon trimmings, and her veil of tulle fell from a coronet of orange blossoms. The bride's father gave her away. She carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley and wore the groom's gift, a sunburst of pearls and diamonds. Both the maid of honor and bridesmaid wore pink crepe de chine gowns, and carried L. France roses. The flower girls and pages wore white costumes and the ringbearer was frocked in pink.

Mrs. Joseph M. Crute played the wedding march. Masters Frank Offutt and Shirley Baughman were pages; Miss Ruth Cox, younger sister of the bride, was ringbearer, and little Misses Dorothy Walton and Helen Foy held the ribbons.

Among others of the friends who were present was Miss Cornelia A. Berkeley, who though in her 91st year, refused every offer of an easy chair and stood and moved about with the rest of the guests.

The lower floor of the house was made radiant and beautiful with pink and white sweet peas gracefully fringed with ferns.

The presents were arranged on tables on the second floor, and presented an array of sparkling cut glass, shining silver and articles of household utility which gave delight to the looker on and elicited enthusiastic commendation. The gift of the groom was a sunburst of pearls and diamonds, the perfect work of the perfect artist. The refreshment were dainty and delightful. In the dining room Misses Elizabeth Jarman, Martha King Bugg, Lucile Baldwin, Mary Putney, Virgilia Bugg, Lillian Bugg, Alice T. Richardson, Kate Cox dressed in white with pink ribbons, served, assisted by Mrs. A. A. Cox, Mrs. Essie C. Jamison, Mrs. R. V. Baughan, Mrs. J. C. Mattoon, Miss Courtney Cox. Punch was served in the reception hall by Misses Hattie Cox and Eleanor Jamison.

Among the guests were Mrs. M. N. Offutt and children, of Huntington, W. Va.; Mrs. H. S. Foy, and daughter, Winston-Salem, N. C.; Mrs. R. V. Baughan and children, of Lynchburg, Va.; Mrs. Alice McElroy, of Wise, Va.; Mrs. Bessie C. Jamison, Salem, Va. Mrs. Pattie F. Thackston, and Mrs. Portia Morrison, of Hampden-Sidney.

The union of hearts means the loss of a bright link from the social chain of Farmville, but congratulations go out from family and friends since assurance is given by those who know him best that the winner of the prize is a young man of sterling worth, manly and modest, clear of habit and courageous of spirit, "honest and capable."

In such keeping the home and community-treasure is safe, and good wishes and high hopes go with the wedded pair to the new life, which opens before them. The song of the birdling has died out the old home, the school room has lost an inspiration, Farmville feels for a vanished hand and listens for a voice that is hushed, but the mountains will feel the thrill of a new life and be stirred with new harmony.

Mr. and Mrs. Nesbit left on the west bound train of the Norfolk and Western, and after an extended wedding tour, embracing Atlantic City and other points of interest, will return to make a brief visit at the Farmville home, and then go to Big Stone Gap, the place of permanent residence.

PINCHOT CAN'T BE CANDIDATE

Former Forester Ineligible For Governor of Pennsylvania.

NOT CITIZEN OF THE STATE

Movement of Independents to Nominate Roosevelt's Friend Falls Flat

When It Is Learned He Has No Voting Right in State.

The reports coming from Pittsburg indicating that an independent movement had been started there to nominate Gifford Pinchot for governor of Pennsylvania fell flat when Mr. Pinchot himself declared that he did not claim and had not established a legal voting residence in this state.

The report from Pittsburg was to the effect that independent Republicans and Democrats in that section had determined upon nominating Mr. Pinchot for governor because of their dissatisfaction with the results of the Democratic state convention at Allentown, when C. La Rue Munson quit the race, and the Republican state convention at Harrisburg.

Mr. Pinchot, the former chief forester of the United States, is at Grey Towers, the home of his father, James W. Pinchot.

"Mr. Pinchot, there is a report from Pittsburg that there is an independent movement there to nominate you for governor of Pennsylvania. Have you heard of it?" he was asked.

"I have not," was the former forester's reply.

"Do you have a voting residence in Pennsylvania?"

"My residence is in New York," he replied; "that is it was in New York, but I am at liberty now to change it."

"Where did you vote last?"

"In New York."

"When did you vote in New York last?"

"At the last election, last November."

"Do you claim a legal residence in Pennsylvania?"

"I do not."

"If you were nominated for governor and could establish a legal residence, would you accept?"

"I won't talk about that. I have nothing to say on such subjects."

The clerk of the county commissioners of Pike county, of which Milford is the county seat, also declared that Mr. Pinchot had no legal residence there. He declared that Mr. Pinchot, to the best of his knowledge, had never voted in Pike county and certainly had not in the last nine years. He was most positive on this point.

The movement reported from Pittsburg was based on the assertion that Mr. Pinchot had a legal voting residence with his father at Milford, Pa., and, therefore, was eligible to the governorship. The plan announced was to hold a meeting of Independents, Democratic and Republican parties in Carnegie hall. The nomination of Mr. Pinchot, it was said, was to follow.

It was asserted that Pinchot, who is a strong Roosevelt advocate, would have the backing of Colonel Roosevelt in his campaign.

Gifford Pinchot's father, James W. Pinchot, lives at Milford, Pa., his home there being known as Grey Towers. He is now retired from business. Gifford is a descendant of French Huguenots who settled in Pennsylvania.

SUGGESTIVE QUESTIONS On the Sunday School Lesson by Rev. Dr. Linscott for the International Press Bible Question Club.

(Copyright 1910 by Rev. T. S. Linscott, D.D.) July 3rd, 1910.

(Copyright, 1910, by Rev. T. S. Linscott, D.D.) Pictures of the Kingdom, Matt. xiii:31-33, 44-52.

Golden Text—The Kingdom of God is not meat and drink: but righteousness and peace, and joy in the Holy Ghost. Rom. xlv:17.

(1.) Verses 31-32—In how many particulars was the Christian church small at its beginning?

(2.) How many are there in the world to-day who profess to be Christians?

(3.) How many nominally Christian nations are there to-day?

(4.) What is the extent of the influence of Christianity to-day upon morality, education, science, philanthropy, commerce, etc.?

(5.) In what respects does the gospel influence each individual convert, the same as it has influenced the world?

(6.) Verse 33—What is the influence of leaven upon bread?

(7.) What is the influence of the grace of God, upon a human being who receives it?

(8.) What are the conditions to be observed for putting leaven into bread, and what are the conditions to be observed for putting the grace of God into a human heart?

(9.) This woman put the leaven into "three measures of meal." Can the grace of God be received at all, if it is not taken into the body, soul, and spirit? Why or why not?

(10.) Will the day ever come when the "whole" of humanity will be "leavened" with the gospel? If so, when and how?

(11.) Verse 44—What is the real treasure of the kingdom of heaven on earth?

(12.) What is the field in which lies buried this great treasure?

(13.) How do men find this hidden treasure?

(14.) Why does Jesus lead us to infer that we must sell all we have, in order to possess the field in which this rare treasure is found?

(15.) Verses 45-46—What does the average man seek after more than anything else?

(16.) What is it, when found, which gives more joy than all else beside?

(17.) When a man finds "the pearl of great price" how much is it worth to him?

(18.) What is the one great consideration which absorbs all others?

(19.) Verses 47-48—In what respect is preaching the gospel like fishing with a drag net?

(20.) Who are they whose duty it is to throw out, and pull in, the gospel net?

(21.) When according to this parable, are the good and the bad fish sorted?

(22.) Verses 49-50—What are the angels of God who at the end of the world, will divide the wicked from the good?

(23.) How much value will be given to a man, in that day, for his belief, in estimating this character?

(24.) What will be the standard for estimating good and bad men, at the end of the world? (This question may have to be answered in writing by members of the club.)

(25.) Are we to take Jesus' words literally, about the furnace of fire into which the wicked will be cast, or in what sense must they be taken?

(26.) Verses 51-52—Is Jesus a teacher who can be understood by any man with his ordinary natural faculties? Why?

Lesson for Sunday, July 10th, 1910, Review of the Past Thirteen Lessons.

There is more Catarah in this section of the country than all other diseases put together and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable.

For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarah to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment.

Hall's Catarah Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surface of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address: F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, Ohio. Sold by all Druggists, 75c.

Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

A Few Short Weeks.

Mr. J. S. Bartell, Edwardsville, Ill., writes: "A few months ago my kidneys became congested. I had severe backache and pain across the kidneys and hips. Foley Kidney Pills promptly cured my backache and corrected the action of my kidneys. This was brought about after my using them for only a few short weeks and I can cheerfully recommend them." Sold by all Druggists.

Farmers, mechanics, railroader laborers rely on Dr. Thomas' Eclectic Oil. Takes the sting out of cuts, burns or bruises at once. Pain cannot stay where it is used.

The Evolution of Booster Bill

IX—How Many Bill Blues Have We?

Old Bill Blue's knocking was so bad he knocked out everything he had. Then he grew wise and muttered "Stung!"

"Stung!" he "Booster Bill" a new song sung.

How many Bill Blues have we here who knock and try the town to queer? You are one, then, like Bill, pray I see the error of your way.

For he who runs his own place down ruins himself more than the town, And who to lift up does his best Lifts up his fortune with the rest.

This is the golden law: WE GET what we give out. Time pays the debt if you shed sunshine it will fill your own life. Be a "Booster Bill."

Foley Kidney Pills Have Cured Me.

The above is a quotation from a letter written by H. M. Winkler, of Nashville, Ind. "I contracted a severe case of kidney trouble. My back gave out and pained me. I seemed to have lost all strength and ambition; was bothered with dizzy spells, my head would swim and I could float before my eyes. I took Foley Kidney Pills regularly and am now perfectly well and feel like a new man. Foley Kidney Pills have cured me." Sold by all Druggists.

Must Be Above Suspicion.

Kidney and bladder ailments are serious in their consequences, and are generally so often fatal that any remedy offered for their cure must be above suspicion. Foley Kidney Pills contain no harmful drugs, and are successfully stood a long and honorable test. Sold by all Druggists.
