

Catarriets... Dyspeplets... WOMAN IS SHOT... A Mysterious Affair at New Bedford Yesterday.

Now Bedford, Oct. 11.—A woman who has not been identified, and who stubbornly refused to give the police any information, was probably fatally shot early yesterday morning under an oak tree on the old Hawthorne street golf links.

Although a man who heard the shot reached the scene within a very few minutes afterward, the woman's assailant had disappeared and up to noon effort to locate him had been unavailing.

The victim is a Portuguese woman, about 30 years old. She is now at St. Luke's hospital, and was operated on yesterday morning by Dr. W. N. Swift. Three bullet wounds were found, two in her body and one in her head.

RUELBACH THE WIZARD

Didn't Allow White Sox a Clean Crack

WAS ALMOST A SHUT OUT

Cubs Batted Both White and Owen Hard and Landed Second Game of the Series by the Score of 7 to 1.

Chicago, Oct. 11.—The magnificent pitching of Ruelbach enabled the Chicago Cubs to turn the tables on the White Sox in the world's championship series at the American league grounds yesterday afternoon. But for an error Ruelbach would have had the Sox shut out. As it was, the Cubs won as they wished by the score of 7 to 1. The losers did not get a safe crack off the great pitcher and saw first base only through the kindness of their opponents. White started to pitch for the Americans, but after four runs had been tallied off him, he gave way to Owen, who fared but little better.

The scoring started in the second inning. The Sox rooters went wild when Chance struck out, but quieted down when Steinfield made the first of the three hits of the day. Tinker followed with a safe bunt and Evers hit to Isbell, who threw wildly to second, enabling Steinfield to score and Tinker to get to third. White passed King purposely, filling the bases. Ruelbach batted and was thrown out by Isbell, but Tinker went home on the play. Hoffman singled and Evers scored, but King was out at the plate when he tried to score on the play.

The Cubs got another in the third inning on a fielder's choice to Chance, a stolen base and another appropriated when Sullivan threw low to second. Steinfield's second single scored the man.

It was in the fifth that the Sox scored their only run. Donohue got a pass from Ruelbach, but was forced out by Dougherty. Ruelbach made a wild pitch and Dougherty went to second. Sullivan put up a foul for King but Tannehill rapped to Tinker, allowing Dougherty to get in with a score. Owen, who had replaced White, was an easy out.

The Sox got through the fourth and fifth without letting their opponents score, but the latter added one in the sixth. Steinfield singled but was forced by Tinker. Evers singled, sending Tinker to second. Sullivan threw poorly to Robe to catch Tinker and the latter scored, while Evers went to third. King fanned and Ruelbach was the third out, Robe to first.

The last scoring of the day came in the eighth. Chance started with a single. Steinfield was out on a grounder to Owen. Chance then stole and came home on Tinker's hit. Tinker also stole. Tannehill got Evers but Tinker scored on a wild pitch. Ruelbach was thrown out by Owen.

Ohio Court Orders His Previous Testimony Admitted

LAWYERS IN A WRANGLE

Lawyers in Wrangle—Standard's Attorneys Strenuously Object to Bringing Forth Evidence—Says He's Not the President.

Findlay, Ohio, Oct. 11.—After a sharp legal argument of 1 1/2 hours, the testimony given by John D. Rockefeller in 1898 before the supreme court of the state was admitted as evidence in the trial here of the Standard oil company of Ohio, charged with conspiracy against trade.

In admitting the evidence, Judge Baiker said it was simply to enlighten the jury as to conditions prior to the period covered in the present suit, and not to prove any act during the past three years covered by the suit.

Before the jury was brought into court attorneys for the prosecution and defense held a preliminary argument touching the competency of admitting the testimony of Mr. Rockefeller given in the previous trial. Mr. Phelps, for the prosecution, maintained that this evidence by Mr. Rockefeller was the very essence of the case in trial.

In objecting to Mr. Phelps, for the Standard, said he would not concede even the authenticity of the statements. Mr. Phelps retorted that Mr. Rockefeller was then, as now, president of the defendant company.

Mr. Rockefeller has not been shown to be, and in fact is not president of this defendant company," asserted Attorney Troupe for the defense.

The statements he then made were years before the cause of action.

Mr. Phelps replied: "A corporation has no face except a false face. It is a mantle that covers the individuals in it, so that the head of the company, when he speaks—that is in the language of the corporation itself."

Reiterating that the evidence was not authenticated in a proper way to be accepted as evidence, Mr. Kline followed with the second objection that the president of no corporation could, by his utterances, bind the corporation.

CAR SHORTAGE SERIOUS. Traffic Managers Alarmed at Congestion of Freight.

Chicago, Oct. 11.—The congestion of freight traffic has increased so fast within the last few days that railway officials fear they are soon to be face to face with a blockade. Conditions on the eastern roads, which have not only to handle the business which they originate but have the crops of the west pouring upon them for export, are naturally the worst, but those on the western lines are rapidly becoming serious.

With the approach of winter the movement of coal has swiftly grown heavier, aggravating the congested conditions which already existed, and traffic men say that they do not know what they will do for cars when the year's enormous crop of coal is ready for market, as it will be now in a short time.

MEAT LAW A SUCCESS

Many Packers Asking For Inspectors

APPROPRIATION GOING

Government to Economize—Four Men for Each Plant the Average—Civil Service to Be Extended to Revenue Deputies.

Washington, Oct. 11.—Secretary Wilson announces that government meat inspectors under the new rules has been applied to 479 packing houses. This is a decided increase over the figures of a week ago. The law is working with great success, according to Secretary Wilson, and the department is not encountering the difficulty predicted by the opponents of the legislation. The demand for inspectors is so great that the department officers are giving special consideration to the problem of cutting down the expenses of inspection as much as possible. Secretary Wilson said that two thousand men, who will cost the department $2,500,000 annually, are already in the field engaged in inspection work. As the total appropriation is $3,000,000, the department finds it necessary to economize. Four inspectors to one house is now the average, and the men find themselves hard worked, but the department may soon be able to systematize things so that two or three men can take care of a single house.
