

WHAT IS CATARRH?

Hymel Cures This Common and Disagreeable Disease.

Hymel cures catarrh by the simple method of breathing it into the air passages and lungs. It kills the germs of catarrhal poison, heals and soothes the irritated mucous membrane, enters the blood with the oxygen and kills the germs present there, effectually driving this disease from the system.

If you have any of the following symptoms, catarrhal germs are at work somewhere in the mucous membrane of the nose, throat, bronchial tubes or tissues of the lungs.

Offensive breath, Dryness of the nose, Pain across the eyes, Pain in back of the head, Pain in front of the head, Tendency to take cold, Burning pain in the throat, Hawking to clear the throat, Pain in the chest, A cough, Sneezing in side, Loss of flesh, Variable appetite, Low sprit at times, Raising of frothy mucus, Expectorating yellow matter, Difficulty in breathing, Frequent sneezing, Rhinorrhoea of voice,	Discharge from the nose, Stoppage of the mucus night, Aching of the body, Droppings in the throat, Mouth open white sleeping, Tickling back of the palate, Formation of crusts in the nose, Dryness of the throat in the morning, Loss of strength, Spasms or coughing, Cough short and hack- ing, Cough worse nights and mornings, Loss of vital force, A feeling of tightness across the upper part of the chest.

Hymel will cure the disease, destroy activity of all germ life in the respiratory organs, enrich and purify the blood with additional ozone, and after a few days' use of this treatment the majority of these symptoms will have disappeared. In a few weeks the cure will be complete.

Catarrh or catarrhal colds cannot exist when Hymel is used. This is a strong statement, but the Red Cross Pharmacy emphasizes it by agreeing to refund your money if Hymel does not cure.

THE KISHENEFF MASSACRE.

Horrors Reported Will Scarcely Bear Repetition.

St. Petersburg, May 14.—Additional details of the Kisheneff massacre of Jews are printed here daily. The correspondents give the number of victims thus far buried in the Jewish cemetery at forty-four and say that eighty-four persons seriously wounded are still in the Jewish hospital.

The horrors reported scarcely bear repetition. In one instance spikes were driven through a woman's head into the floor, and cases of bodily mutilation have been authenticated. About 800 to 1,000 persons were arrested, an energetic official having been sent from Odessa to deal with the situation. The apathy of the local authorities during the two days of rapine and murder appears to have been fully established.

Second Massacre Discredited.

St. Petersburg, May 14.—The report published in the United States that a massacre of Jews similar to the one which took place recently at Kisheneff, capital of Bessarabia, had occurred at Tropol, seven miles from Kisheneff, is officially denied and is universally discredited.

FORTY KILLED IN RIOTS.

Desperate State of Affairs in Valparaiso, Chile.

Buenos Ayres, May 14.—Advises received here from Valparaiso say martial law has been proclaimed there as a result of the rioting at that place.

Forty are said to have been killed, and many have been injured. When the offices of the Mercurio were attacked by the rioting dock laborers the staff of that paper defended themselves with firearms. The rioters have set fire to a number of warehouses, in addition to burning the premises of the Fourth American Steamship company.

Troops are patrolling the streets of Valparaiso.

Shipwrecked Immigrants in Port.

Washington, May 14.—The treasury department has received a dispatch from Newbern, N. C., announcing the arrival there of the immigrants taken from the wrecked barkentine Vera Cruz III. The immigration officials who were sent to make the inspection have not yet reached Newbern. Blank manifests have been sent, as the department assumes that the ship's papers were lost with the vessel. A telegram from Boston announces that the firm at New Bedford to which the ship was said to be consigned denies that it is the consignee and declines all responsibility for the vessel.

SENDER OF BOX KNOWN

Police Expect Soon to Catch the Umbria Dynamiter.

HIRED ROOM AS G. ROSSO.

Boarding House Keeper Tells Detectives About Him and From Her Story Driver of Express Wagon Is Promptly Located.

New York, May 14.—The arrest of the man who sent the box of dynamite to the Cunard pier last week is now supposed to be but a question of hours. Inspector McCluskey and nearly the whole headquarters staff are hot on his trail. They have a good description of him and have a large part of his belongings, including his trunk and some of his clothing, in their possession. The inspector has known, as a matter of fact, since Monday morning last that the man who sent the dynamite sent it from Mrs. Currie's boarding house, 336 West Thirty-first street, where he engaged a room on Thursday last under the name of G. Rosso, or G. Rosso, or G. Rousseau.

Patrick Rooney of 425 West Thirty-first street, who was once an election worker for Devery, was the expressman with whom the stranger made the bargain to take the box to the pier. Two of Rooney's men—Peter Barthe of 532 West Thirtieth street and Joseph McCormick of 425 Ninth avenue—called for the box at the Currie house and delivered it in the green wagon at the pier. With them went a young man of the name of Frank Carlton, who was out of work and who went along to take a free ride. Barthe drove the horse and McCormick and Carlton sat unconcernedly on the box all the way down to the pier.

From Mrs. Currie's story it was learned that the stranger went to her boarding house on Thursday morning and paid a week's rent in advance for a room on the second floor. He had with him a large trunk, in which it is believed the internal machine was concealed. Soon after arriving he removed the box from the trunk and went out to arrange for its transfer.

About 3 o'clock that afternoon the stranger approached Rooney, who, with Barthe and McCormick, was standing at the southeast corner of Ninth avenue and Thirtieth street.

Hires Expressman to Transfer Box.
"I have a box that I want taken from 366 West Thirty-first street, around the corner from here," he said, "to the Cunard steamship pier, No. 51 North river."

Rooney told him to give the order to Barthe and he would attend to it. The stranger explained that the box was not addressed, but that they were to leave it at the pier and say that it would be called for by a passenger sailing on the Umbria. He told where his room was in the house and said that the housekeeper would show where the box was.

Barthe took the twenty-five cent piece which was offered for the removal of the box and drove around to the house with the old green express wagon. Barthe and McCormick carried down the box. They drove around the corner before starting for the pier and say that the man who hired them was standing there and waved his hand to them as if to say that everything was all right. They did not see him again. It was then that Carlton jumped in the wagon and went along. The men say that while they were carrying the box from the wagon to the baggage pile on the pier it fell, and a piece was knocked off the bottom. They picked it up and carried it along.

Saw Story in Papers.
The first knowledge that the police had of this end of the dynamite story came from Mrs. Currie, who read of the scare in the newspapers and called up Inspector McCluskey on the telephone on Monday night. She said that she felt sure that the box came from her house and told of the actions of the mysterious stranger who had hired a room from her on Thursday and whom she has not seen since. Inspector McCluskey sent Detective Sergeant Arthur Carey around to investigate. From Mrs. Currie the detective learned of the express wagon and got the stories of the men who took the box to the pier.

Mrs. Currie said that she saw the man writing something with a lead pencil in his room on Saturday morning. This is evidently the letter of warning which was received at police headquarters at 12:15 o'clock of that day. From the time that Mrs. Currie told her story to Detective Carey detectives were stationed at or near the house to catch the stranger in case he should return. There was little reason to believe that he would, however, for he had evidently hired the room that he might send the box from it.

TETUAN HOLDS OUT

Trace to Allow Opposing Forces to Bury Three Hundred Dead.

Madrid, May 14.—A dispatch from Ceuta, Morocco, announces that the tribesmen who attacked Tetuan Monday were repulsed. They stubbornly fought their way through the suburbs to the foot of the walls, but the imperial troops eventually regained their lost positions and drove off the rebels with heavy losses on both sides.

A later dispatch from Ceuta says a courier who has arrived there by sea from Tetuan states that the battle was suspended in order to allow the opposing forces to bury their dead, numbering 300. Many heads are displayed on the walls of Tetuan, which still has three days' supply of ammunition.

Murder Mystery in Pittsburg.

Pittsburg, May 14.—The finding of the body of an unknown man floating in the Monongahela river at the foot of Short street will probably develop a murder mystery. A handkerchief had been forced into the man's mouth, and there were several wounds on the back of the head, which seem to have been inflicted by a blunt instrument. The body is that of a man about sixty years old, well dressed and has the appearance of being above the class of people that usually frequent the water front. There was nothing on the person that would in any way lead to identification.

Mr. Cavendish, in his appeal to the chancery court, charged Major Strutt and Mrs. Strutt with influencing him through table turning and claimed that Mrs. Strutt obtained the deed by pretending to be the ghost of the plaintiff's mother and by representing the latter as speaking from heaven and advising him to so dispose of his property.
