Killed by Taxi in Aberdeen.

The following clipping from an Aberdeen clipping from an Aberdeen...

A taxicab accident, attended with fatal results, occurred in Aberdeen on Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. M'Pherson (74), widow, residing at 134 Holburn street, was crossing that thoroughfare about five o'clock in the afternoon, when she stepped in front of a taxicab belonging to the Aberdeen riding academy, and driven by Walter Cruickshank, taxi-cab driver, 13 Hartington road. She was knocked down and rendered unconscious.

From descriptions of the accident by witnesses, it seems that Mrs. M'Pherson came out of her house, and the driver of the taxi observing her intention to cross the street, slowed up, but went on again on seeing her stop. Unfortunately, however, she left the pavement suddenly, and stepped in front of the cab, with the lamentable result stated.
