Vudor Porch Shades

Summer Pleasures without Summer Discomforts! Indoors it's sticky and moist. On the porch it's cool—when the Vudors are down.

Why not eat, sleep, live there this summer? Thousands do it. The cool air gives appetite and forces you to dreamless sleep because it bathes the nerves while you sleep. It cures them.

Vudor Porch Shades cost little. They give air but keep out glare. You can look out through Vudors, but not in through them. They last—they keep "that new look," for they're stained, not painted, nor dipped.

William Duff, the well known artist and decorator, has completed two attractive paintings of the Garble farms at Turriff, Aberdeenshire, Scotland. The pictures are exhibited in the window at Hooker & Co.'s store. Each canvas reveals a fine regard for detail and reflects the artist's fidelity to the picture which the mind's eye of an Aberdonian paints as he recalls the familiar scenes of other days. The colorings are remarkably well done and people who are acquainted with Scottish rural scenes are enthusiastic in pronouncing the pictures excellent.

Two views of the Garble farms at Turriff are reproduced by the artist's brush. Both are enclosed in harmonious frames and many people have stopped already to admire them. The paintings are to be sent to James B. Grant of Wells River, a former Barre man, who spent his boyhood at Garble farms. The work was done in Mr. Duff's studio in the Aldrich building.

Thirty-five members of the Philathea class of the First Baptist church were entertained last evening by Mrs. E. J. Batschler and Miss Henrietta Inglis at 7 Clark street. A short musical program was carried out, consisting of solos by Mrs. D. H. Cutler and Miss Inglis and singing by the entire company. Later in the evening, a $10 gold piece was presented Mrs. F. G. Rogers, as a slight testimonial from the ladies present in consideration of the 10 years of faithful service which she has just completed as teacher of the class. This came as a complete surprise to Mrs. Rogers, but she was equal to the occasion and feelingly responded. Refreshments of ice cream and cake were then served and after a social half hour, the company dispersed with the thought that the bonds of friendship between teacher and class had been strengthened by one more pleasant evening.

John W. Stewart, a former resident, who went to Portland, Me., last fall with L. Marshall Jackson is in town for a few days visit.

Memorial exercises at the grange hall May 30th were largely attended and the program arranged by the G. A. R. post was successfully carried out. There were interesting exercises by the school children, including a marching team from the primary room, illustrating varying events in the life of a soldier. A recitation, "The Challenge," was pleasingly rendered and Lincoln's Gettysburg address was given by Warren Waldo. The speaker of the day was Allen Martin, esq., of Essex Junction, a native of the town, and his address was listened to with much interest. Music was furnished by a mixed quartet, composed of Richard Jeffords, Mrs. Leon Poor, Mrs. Alden Jewett and W. B. Jones. The Williamstown cornet band, under the direction of Clinton W. Cram, led the march to the cemetery and return and also gave selections there and at the hall. The band boys were assisted by drum major J. W. Yaw of Brookfield, also by players A. B. Cram, now teaching in Windsor and L. A. Farrington of Chelsea. Dinner was furnished by the Relief corps at the hall to veterans and sons of veterans and the band.
