Assessment No. 24 of the ladies' auxiliary to Clan Gordon is now due and must be paid on or before Tuesday, December 1.

Homer Pickard of Rock River, P. O., was a visitor in the city to-day while on his way to Westerville for a two weeks' visit with relatives.

We have for distribution a limited supply of proprietary revenue stamps in amounts of 1/2, 1/4, 1/8, and 1/16, which we will be glad to supply by calling at the People's National Bank.

Mrs. W. F. Shepard of Washington street, who has been detained at her home for several days as the result of a fall which she recently sustained, is able to be at her place of business.

Revenue stamps will be attached to shippers' receipt on parcel tags issued by the Barre & Montpelier Traction & Power Co. They will be cancelled, thus making the charge for a parcel 11 cents.—Adv.

The apples in car arriving Nov. 25 were a mixed lot from different growers and any that are not satisfactory can be returned to 15 Granite street at my expense and money refunded. Sidney E. Spafford.

Dec. 9 is the date of the annual dance under the auspices of the ladies' union. There is always a good program, the best of music and a pleasant evening is assured. Save the date, Wednesday evening, Highland hall, Pike's orchestra.

Regular meeting of Bright Star Rebekah lodge, No. 18, Wednesday evening, Dec. 2, at 7:30 o'clock. Important business and every member is requested to be present. The officers are asked to be present for practice.

Friends in Barre and Graniteville of Mrs. Norman Murray of the latter place will be interested to learn that she is making a good recovery from an operation for appendicitis, to which she recently submitted at the city hospital.

In city court yesterday afternoon the case of state vs. Robert Hafey, charged with a subsequent offense of intoxication, was not pressed and the respondent was discharged from custody. Hafey had been made that he was seen in an intoxicated condition at the city farm. Until recently Hafey was an inmate at the farm.

Edward Thompson of Landgrove returned to his home this morning, after having been the guest for a few days of his sister, Mrs. E. M. Lyon, of Highland avenue. Mr. Thompson is the representative-elect from Landgrove and came to Barre to make the preparations for his stay in this vicinity while the legislature is in session.

Peter Belanger, a Washington young man, was brought to the city hospital in an ambulance last night. Mr. Belanger was taken from the ambulance to the operating table, where he underwent an operation for acute appendicitis. This morning he was reported to be resting comfortably and indications pointed to a speedy recovery.

The young women's missionary society of the Baptist church will meet at the home of Mrs. Holt, 51 Hill street, on Wednesday evening at 7:30, to work for their Christmas box. All members are urged to be present, as this will be the only work meeting for the box. Please come prepared to make candy bags and bring pictures suitable for scrapbooks.

Every woman or girl in the city, who is interested in making their own clothes, is urged to attend the demonstration at the institute to-morrow by Miss Marshall on "Home Dressmaking." From 10 to 12 in the forenoon and from 2 to 4 in the afternoon she will demonstrate the cutting and making of a shirtwaist suit and will explain the steps in detail for the benefit of those attending. Howland hall, 10 to 12 a. m., 2 to 4 p. m., Wednesday.

Deputy Sheriff A. M. Morrison, who recently underwent an operation for the partial removal of his left leg, has discarded his crutches in favor of a deftly-fashioned artificial limb presented him by W. F. Bradford, a Park street artificer. The wooden leg is made of cherry with a copper band about the bottom. Mr. Bradford's experience in building artificial limbs dates back through many years. In former times he was often consulted by one-legged men with the result that several people living to-day are ambulating on artificial limbs which he constructed.

Mrs. Jacob Harder of Hayward, Cal., is passing several days in Barre as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur W. MacNeil of the Camp street extension. Mrs. Harder will be remembered by many people in Barre, although she has not visited here in a number of years. She was formerly Miss Abbie Webster, daughter of Hamilton Webster, who used to live just south of the postoffice.

Mrs. Harder has been traveling through the New England states, possessing acquaintances in Maine, New Hampshire and Massachusetts.

Preparations are nearly completed for the transfer of the Barre Drug store stock and fixtures from its present quarters into the new store apartments recently completed in the Zenith block. A portion of the store furnishings was moved this morning and by to-morrow night it is expected, the company will be encamped in its new quarters. No pains have been spared to make the new store as attractive as possible and since the day when responders started to renovate the store after the Prindle hardware business wound up its affairs, the owner has shaped every plan toward the fitting out of the new pharmaceutical parker. What disposition will be made of the drug company's present quarters remains to be seen. The new store has an attractive corner entrance and a side entrance near the Zenith building to the second floor of the building.

PICKING PIMPLE FATAL. Claremont, N. H., Girl Died Of Blood Poisoning. Claremont, N. H., Dec. 1.—Miss Margaret Bowker, aged 21, died at her home at midnight Sunday from blood poisoning brought on by recently picking a pimple on her upper lip.

Miss Bowker was a native of Ludlow, Vt. NOTICE. On and after Dec. 2 all shoe stores will be 10 cents. Lulu Colgate, Anna Mason, John Morrison, Marie Ross.

FARMERS' SCHOOL AT CHELSEA.

Preparations Being Made for Interesting Sessions.

The farmers of Chelsea, with the cooperation of the Orange County Farmers' association, have secured one of the extension schools in agriculture and home economics for Chelsea the week of Dec. 7. These schools are a part of the work of the agricultural extension service of the state university in bringing some of the principles and practices of progressive agriculture to those farmers who have been unable to get an agricultural school training. These schools were held successfully in 15 towns in the state last winter and it is expected to increase the number this year.

At this school, with farmers as the pupils, four men from the agricultural college will discuss such subjects as selection of feeds, the feeding of dairy cows, breeding and management of livestock, the raising of calves, farm butter making, the Babcock test, keeping dairy records, how to know soil needs, drainage, times and liming, commercial fertilizers, tillage, farm manure, maintaining soil fertility, corn, potatoes, rotation of crops, farm management, management of the farm apple orchard, management of a similar nature. These discussions will not be set talks delivered by one man, but real discussions with the farmers having ample opportunity to ask questions and give results of his own experiences. Laboratory demonstrations will be made in several cases and forenoon it is planned to have the farmers themselves go through some laboratory exercises to help familiarize themselves with the subjects in question. In the evening talks will be illustrated with lantern slides.

The ladies, in the church vestry hall, will discuss similarly home sanitation, selection of food, sewing and dressmaking. Mrs. Dimock, formerly a teacher of home economics at Pratt institute, New York, and the extension service of Massachusetts Agricultural college, will be their leader. Owing to the church fair this will not commence until Wednesday morning, Dec. 9.

These schools are free to the farmer and his wife except for rent of the hall and advertising, to be paid by subscription to the meetings. This is an opportunity for the farmers of Chelsea and neighboring towns to get together and learn some of the ways by which their farm incomes can be increased. The experience of those towns having these schools last winter justifies the statement that this is possible. Remember the time, beginning Monday, Dec. 7, at 1:30 p. m., and running until Friday afternoon, Dec. 11, three meetings a day, morning, afternoon, and evening, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and two on Friday. All are urged to be present as much of the time as they can and especially at 1:30 Monday afternoon, Dec. 7, when full programme will be given out and full details arranged. These meetings will be held in the grange hall.

George Vigeant and family, have moved into the Jane Dwinell tenement. Mr. Vigeant is our new blacksmith, and is having a heavy trade.

Wallace Gurnsey, Franklin, Harold and Oren, Dwinell and Ralph and Gladys Balestine, have returned to their school work, after having spent Thanksgiving in town.

Rev. George F. Fortier, state superintendent of Universalist churches, will preach at East Calais and Calais next Sunday, the sixth of December.

News has just been received from Hamilton, Ohio, of the marriage there Nov. 25, of Rev. C. C. Conner to Miss Mary Elizabeth Andrews. Mr. Conner supplied the Universalist pulpit here last summer, and has many friends in the community.

TALK OF THE TOWN

The Simonsville choir, after making a very successful trip through the northern part of Vermont, are to be in the vicinity of Barre again the last of the week. The ladies' union of the Universalist church have arranged for the choir to repeat their old folks' concert next Friday evening in the church vestry at 8 o'clock. The soloists, readers and the Cornish Flats male quartet are all going to be there. You can't afford to miss them.

A committee headed by John Black, the club president, is making arrangements for the annual banquet of the Meadow Brook Golf club, which will be held in this city on the evening of Thursday, Dec. 11. Elaborate preparations for the menu are engaging the attention of the committee and an attractive after-dinner program will be made the occasion for awarding the several trophies offered by the club as a unit and by individuals for the season's playing. Within a few days an exhibition of the cups, badges and other trophies to be awarded will be made in the window of a North Main street cigar store.

Captain Neil Hooker of the Spaulding basketball team issued his first call for candidates to-day and nearly 20 men signified their intention to try for the team. It was announced this forenoon that the first practice of the year would be held at the Church street gymnasium at 4 o'clock this afternoon. John Agnew of the high school faculty is to coach the team and for a nucleus he will have as members of last year's team, Hooker, Olliver, Tomasi and Levin. Every candidate will be given a fair chance to make the team and "cut" quintets will be organized for court skirmishes with the first five. Manager Frank McDonald is working on a schedule which will announce within a few days. Three two-day trips have been arranged, although none of the three will be made before Jan. 1.

Persons, firms and corporations affected by the stamp tax provisions of the new federal revenue act began to-day to adjust themselves to the new conditions. Banks are plentifully supplied with the stamps and mercantile dealers were buying their first supplies over the counter this morning. One dealer who makes a special display of chewing gum was astir early this morning pasting stamps on the packages. Stamping agencies report a number of bookings yesterday, people who contemplate sailing later in the month having decided to avoid the 85 cent tax attached to most steamship tickets by booking their passages before the new act becomes operative. In one agency alone no fewer than nine bookings were made, although the ticket-holders do not sail until the approach of the holiday season. Two bookers in Barre made payments of $100, one in $50 and one, by close shaves in its waiting capacity, comes in the $25 class.

Almost Bursting Prison Walls. The greatest number of prisoners to be taken care of at the Vermont house of correction and Rutland county jail at one time in some years is at present being housed in the dual institution. There are 199 in the jail and house of correction, and the attendants are sorely tried in making them comfortable and at the same time assuring the community that there shall be no escapes. By judiciously placing the jail inmates and short term house of correction men, or those whose terms are nearly expired, in the large rooms, where there is greater danger of escape, and by keeping the long-termers in the cells, room is made for all. Eden cloth 12 1/2c at Knight's. Handkerchiefs ready for Christmas shopping at Vaughan's.
