

ABOUT THE STATE

HAPPENINGS OF INTEREST FROM DIFFERENT SECTIONS

The graded school in Hartford is closed because of eight cases of scarlet fever in the village.

The Vermont state Methodist conference is to be held this year in Brattleboro, opening April 21. Bishop R. J. Cooke of Portland, Ore., is to preside.

Miss Bernice Loughman, a student in the seventh grade in East Fairfield, became suddenly blind Tuesday. Her condition is no better and it is feared she will never be able to see again.

E. Ferguson of Claremont, employed on the new town hall in Hartford, jumped from an upper staging to the one below a few days ago, but the board broke, letting him fall 21 feet and breaking one arm badly. His face and head were also badly cut.

Burlington ice men are now figuring on how to secure the annual ice crop with the least expense. If the broad lake does not freeze over for some time, a plan may be carried out whereby at least a part of the harvest can be cut at Albany and shipped by rail to Burlington or they may cut some at Mallets bay. There is ample supply for some weeks to come.

Over 1,200 children participated in the community sleighride in Bennington Friday afternoon, when 53 sleigh loads, preceded by the band, had their annual winter outing. Merchants donated candy for the crowd and a happier bunch of youngsters could not be found. Lively stables, individuals and practically everyone who had teams donated one or more, Henry W. Tuttle alone furnishing 29 horses.

Smallpox Cases in Swanton.

Swanton, Feb. 15.—There are six or eight cases of smallpox in town and it has been decided to close the schools for two weeks, discontinue church services, close moving picture houses and, in fact, all public places. Every precaution is being taken to stamp out the disease and in all probability, it will not spread. All the cases are mild and few, if any, of the patients are confined to the beds. The disease has been running for several weeks however, and there have been many cases.

Lectures and Addresses at Norwich.

On the afternoon of Feb. 15, H. C. Poore, formerly of the Massachusetts highway commission, will address the cadet corps at Norwich university on "Practical Road Construction in Town and State." The lecture will be illustrated with lantern slides and motion pictures furnished by the Barrett Company. As a means of further instruction on modern road building the classes immediately will be presented with an illustrated lecture by Professor Carleton upon the uses of the steam roller. The illustration for this are furnished by J. F. Richardson, N. U. 1900, of the Buffalo Steam Roller company. On the morning of Feb. 18, the honorable Curtis Guild will address the student body on "The Diplomatic and Consular Service of the United States." The address will be at Dewey hall at 10 a. m.

Believe Boy's Story a Fairy Tale.

No trace has been found of the three thieves, who are alleged to have robbed Andrew Freimann, a stranger in Rutland, of $100 on Strong's avenue Thursday night and the police are beginning to believe that the young man manufactured the story with the hope of getting financial assistance from the city authorities or for some other reason. Freimann, who is a Russian-Pole, states that he has been in this country a year and eight months. He claims that he worked for a farmer but could not give the name of the town in the western state in which he had been. He said that he had written to his parents in the old country, but had given them no address except "Wisconsin" and in consequence had never heard from them. Freimann has been staying at police headquarters for two days. He is penniless.

Many at Rutland Clinic.

There was a steady stream of persons who have suffered from infantile paralysis entering the Rutland hospital for many hours Saturday to take advantage of the free clinic held by Dr. Robert W. Lovett, who came to Rutland under the direction of the state board of health and the Vermont state board of health. The patients ranged from babies in arms to adult young men and women. All were given a careful examination and in any case where the physician thought that there was the slightest hope for recovering the use of a paralyzed limb, or doing away with some other defect suggestions were made to the person accompanying the patient and the local physician in charge.

Miss Ross Known in St. Albans.

St. Albans, Feb. 12.—A report in Montreal papers yesterday morning to the effect that Miss Edith Elizabeth Ross of St. Albans was in a critical condition at the General hospital from the effects of taking bichloride of mercury, is of interest here from the fact that the young woman for the past few days had been at the Colonial inn, having returned from Montreal, while here she went to the Sherwood sanitarium and the St. Albans hospital and tried to secure work. A dispatch to this city from Montreal yesterday states that Miss Ross, who is said to be 28 years old, made an extraordinary statement blaming a doctor's delay in marrying her as the cause of her attempted suicide. The young woman left here Wednesday evening. It is said, for Montreal and she became violent in the Windsor station soon after arriving on a train in Montreal Thursday evening. It is said that while Miss Ross was in this city she received several telephone calls from Montreal and it was evident that she was troubled by some local ailment. She left her trunk at the inn when she went to her Montreal night.

NOTED MISSIONARIES.

Rev. and Mrs. C. N. Ransom and Prof. and Mrs. Bell Recent Visitors at Greenboro. St. Johnsbury, Feb. 15.—The town of Greenboro has been honored during the past summer and early winter months by a visit from noted missionaries from North Africa and Egypt. Rev. and Mrs. Charles N. Ransom of the American board of missions in North Africa were to camp at Chapin's lake. Mr. Ransom's health was impaired, so they came to America a few years ago. Mr. Ransom came from an old Connecticut county which has sent out many missionaries, having been born at Colchester, New London county. Mrs. Ransom directly all her life to the missionary life, being the daughter of Dr. Calhoun, missionary to Syria. She was born at Abie, Mount Lebanon. For a quarter of a century, Mr. and Mrs. Ransom have been witnesses of, and among the indefatigable laborers for, the marvelous transformation of conditions among the Zulus. They are now visiting friends and some of the churches in New England, and after a brief course in Bible study in New York will return to Natal. Their son, Howard, is a student at Peabody, N. Y. Prof. and Mrs. Bell, who with their little daughter, Margaret, and Mrs. Bell's mother, Mrs. Boyd, have also been passing a part of the winter in Greenboro, have returned to Egypt. Prof. Bell's original home was in Iowa, he being the son of a United Presbyterian minister. Mrs. Bell is the daughter of the late Dr. J. C. Royd, a United Presbyterian minister of Pittsburg.

A Mountain Out of a Molehill.

Editor, Times:—In connection with the many ringing editorials about our obstructing legislation Saturday morning, Feb. 6, and the following Monday afternoon by calling for a rising vote, I desire to state that the House records show that upon the Saturday forenoon referred to 20 bills were regularly entered and 16 other bills were acted upon. A rising vote was called for three times, once on account of an oversight of the speaker in neglecting to duly attend to the suggestion of lack of a quorum. Total length of the session was 90 minutes, with an average of about three and one-half minutes for each of the 16 bills acted upon including the time for the roll call in order to determine a quorum. There was no other business of any kind either in House or committee for the rest of the forenoon and the whole afternoon. Upon the Monday afternoon, 18 bills were entered and 16 others acted upon, several of an important nature. A rising vote was called for three times, the speaker himself having declared to me that the rising vote, as a whole, is preferable. Total length of the session was about 95 minutes—about four minutes each being taken upon the question of passage of each bill. Average length of sessions, so far, has been about 13 hours per week.

PARIS LACKS FUEL.

Paris, Sept. 15.—Paris is still feeling the lack of fuel. There is said to be plenty of English coal, but it comes in great blocks and there is not enough help to break it up at Rouen, the coal port of Paris, so as to make it available for the retail trade. To remedy the situation, the minister of commerce proposes to recruit miners to increase the output of French mines that are not in the hands of the Germans.

SCIENTIFIC COOKING.

Should Be Taught in Vocational Schools, Says Expert. Factory legislation, the eight-hour law, as well as some of the methods of modern industry are needed in many kitchens, according to Mrs. Iris Prouty O'Leary, whose bulletin on "Cooking as a Training for Home-making Vocational Schools," has just been issued by the United States bureau of education. "Housekeeping lacks the spirit and inspiration of teamwork," says Mrs. O'Leary. "The woman who has once been in industry misses the companionship with which she has been accustomed. She finds herself, therefore, without a tangible incentive to speed and quality of work."

MORE MALES INSANE.

In United States in 1910, According to U. S. Census. Of approximately every 500 persons in the United States in 1910, there was one inmate of an insane asylum. The exact figures expressed in a recent report of the census bureau, state that in a typical community of 200,000 persons, equally divided as to sex, 208 of the males and 200 of the females would be found in the insane asylums. In the course of a year, 72 males and 60 females would be admitted to the asylums. In 1880 the total number of inmates in insane asylums in the United States included 20,635 males and 20,507 females. Thirty years later the number of male inmates had increased to 98,095, and the number of female inmates to 98,096. The excess of men among admissions in 1910 indicated a still further increase in the proportion, namely, 128 males to 100 females. An analysis of these admissions as to the specific forms of insanity involved brings to light the fact that general paralysis is deducted, the proportion of the sexes is practically the same. The diseases mentioned, says the Journal of the American Medical Association, would seem to be those which, generally, are the result of dissipation. Alcohol and syphilis again established their superiority as man's most dangerous allies.

Does Smoking Bore You?

In the February Woman's Home Companion Rollin Lynde Hartt writes "The Confession of an ex-smoker." About a year ago he gave up the use of tobacco, and his experience is recorded in part as follows: "I found that smoking bored me. Like other confirmed smokers, I smoked to escape discomfort, not to gain enjoyment. "Now it is always a nuisance, smoking, and when the fun has gone out of it a man hates to carry a kit of tools—matches, tobacco box, pipe cleaners, or cigars and a cigar holder—everywhere he goes. He hates always having one hand busy managing the pipe or cigar and one side of his mouth busy smoking while he talks from between his teeth with the other side. He hates overcastly lighting matches, and more matches, and continually disposing of ashes or leaving them burn holes where they sit down, red-hot, on his clothes. He hates going to the dentist, frequently to recover his teeth."

HIS WARNING TRUE.

Celebrated French Violinist Died. He Would Notify Her of Death.

Paris, Feb. 15.—This story is going the round of the French papers. One of the most distinguished violinists of France, who was married only one month before the beginning of the war, said to his bride on leaving for the front that if any misfortune happened to him, he would arrange to let her know it in advance of the official notification. Weeks and months went by, without any bad news, and the bride almost had forgotten the singular statement made by her husband in the emotion of separation, when on an irresistible desire to play a certain melody that her husband, Remi, was particularly fond of. She opened the case, took out the violin and all color or left her cheeks. Two of the strings were broken, the "ri and the mi." "I understand," she stammered and staggered to a chair. The following day toward noon an official from the war department came to inform her that the Sergeant Remi had died upon the field of honor.

CAUGHT BY ELEVATOR.

Royal Slack of Vergennes Almost Instantly Killed. Holyoke, Mass., Feb. 15.—Royal Slack, aged 34, was almost instantly killed Saturday afternoon at the warehouse of the J. Russell Co. on Main street. Slack was going up on the elevator and nearing the top floor when a truck loaded with hardware got away from him and fell off. Slack apparently leaned over to see what had become of it and his chest was caught between the elevator and elevator door.

PAIGE AUTOMOBILES.

We exhibited the Paige six-cylinder, seven-passenger car that sells for only $1,395 at the food fair held in Burlington under the auspices of the commercial travelers from Feb. 1 to 6. A gentleman who makes the bodies for a noted automobile manufacturer whose car sells from $2,500 to $5,000 examined the body of the Paige. After looking it all over carefully, he said: "That is the most beautiful body I have ever seen, the workmanship is first-class, and the finish all that could be desired." Remember, this car is better than 50 horse power. If you are to purchase a new automobile, do not be separated from your money until you have seen this wonderful car. Send for catalogue giving full specifications. Agents wanted in every town. Address The Jarvis Palace Garage, Burlington, Vermont.—Adv.

100 HOGS

As we are overstocked with hogs and crowded for room, we will sell at public auction to the highest bidder, on WEDNESDAY, FEB. 17 at 1 o'clock in the afternoon, at H. M. Farnham's sale stables, at 96 Northfield street, Montpelier, Vt., 10 minutes walk from the Wells River railroad station, the following:

100 Head of Brood Sows and Shoats consisting of 30 young brood sows, due to farrow in March and early April; 20 head of older sows, due in March and early April. These sows show plainly that they are bred and in good condition for farrowing.

Also, 42 Slick Shoats ranging from 35 to 100 pounds in weight. A good, clean, healthy, hardy lot. One full-blood mule foot sow, bred for her third litter; 2 young full-blood mule foot sows, one of them bred; 2 young Berkshire boars, ready for service; 1 large full-blood Belted Hampshire boar, a dandy; also 1 Blue Mule Foot boar and sow. These are our own crossing and are probably the only Blue Mule Foots in the world. These hogs are mostly White Chester and Berkshire. You will find the whole bunch clean and healthy. Pigs and shoats are bound to be higher in the next 60 days, so this is a good opportunity to get what you want in that line that is slick and right in every way.
