WILL RECEIVE D. A. R. TOKEN.

The National Society, Daughters of the American Revolution, at the annual convention recently held at Washington, D. C., adopted a resolution to present a gold spoon suitably inscribed to every member of the society who is a "genuine" daughter, that is, whose father saw service in the Revolutionary War. There are only two of these real "Daughters of the Revolution" in Vermont. One of these is Mrs. Betsey Blanchard Kemp of this city, mother of Harlan W. Kemp, secretary and treasurer of the Union Mutual Fire Insurance Company.

Mrs. Kemp recently became a member of Margaret Lafayette Chapter, D. A. R., of this city, is eighty-two years of age and retains her faculties to a remarkable degree.

She was a daughter of Lemuel Blanchard, who was born in Slutesbury, Mass., June 23, 1763. On July 25, 1779, when only sixteen years of age, she married the late Capt. Elisha Porter's company of Col. Lyman's Hampshire Regiment. He served a month and sixteen days at New London, Conn., and was mustered out August 31, 1779. He died at Worcester, Vt., October 2, 1899, aged ninety-two years.

The only other "Daughter" in Vermont is Miss Lucy Skinner of Brookfield, now ninety-two years of age.

ATTEMPTED SUICIDE.

Harry H. Baxter, a well known young man of Barre, attempted suicide early Sunday morning by shooting himself in the left breast with a thirty-two calibre revolver.

It is supposed he committed the rash act sometime about three o'clock a. m., although it was not discovered until seven o'clock in the morning when Baxter called N. P. Hill, a boarder at the same house on Summer street. Baxter did not wish a physician to be called but Dr. F. C. Ligonri was summoned and found the wounded man lying partially dressed on the bed still conscious but suffering greatly from the wound. He was removed to the hospital and Dr. Newton called. They worked over him a long time trying to fix the bullet, but gave up the attempt, as the patient was in a weak condition. When questioned he said he was tired of life. "I made a mistake; I aimed for the heart, and only penetrated the lung." It is said he attempted suicide three weeks ago in a despondent fit by taking poison.

It is said that Baxter had been indulging heavily in liquor during the past week and Saturday night was informed by his employers, B. W. Hooker & Co., that he must mend his ways or leave their employ.

Baxter's home is at Barton where his sister, Mrs. Groves, and his father live. He came to Barre from St. Johnsbury three years ago and opened a carpet cleaning establishment. He was bought out by B. W. Hooker, by whom he had been employed since. He was a quiet, unassuming fellow, and popular with his associates. He was twenty-six years old, was in good health and had a good position. The act was a surprise to his friends, although he was known to have moody fits. No attempt was made during the day to probe for the ball as the physicians feared internal bleeding.

AT DEWEY PARK.

The Manhattan Stars, who are at Dewey Park this week gave a good performance on Monday evening. Supt. Andrus has wrought surprising changes at the Park and has his own men as attendants, so that not only cleanliness but the best of order is maintained. The company this week consisted of Winifred Stewart, contralto, Hart & Bessie, impersonators and illusionists, Eddie Clark, comedian, and Weston & Besley, in comedy and ballads. All are artists in their particular roles and give a good hour of fun and music which is devoid of any objectional features.

General orders have been received by Company H from Gen. W. H. Gilmore, relative to the annual muster of the First Vermont regiment, which will be held at Fort Ethan Allen, August 7-13, inclusive.

The Barre boy who exploded a fire-cracker in a bottle Friday with such serious results was not the only youth to combine glass with dynamite in celebrating. Teddy Roosevelt, Jr., attempted to explode a bottle of kerosene and received a deep gash in his forehead. They can sympathize with each other.

Rev. J. A. Ward, pastor of the Evangelical church of this city, is in Boston in connection with the annual meeting of the same has been awarded to James Ewing.

Frank Kingsley narrowly escaped serious injury on the night before the Fourth. One of the militia men was firing blank cartridges in his rifle. Kingsley stood near by and had his eye turned, his face just as the bullet was discharged his eyes would have been ruined by the burning powder. As it was his face was peppered with little flesh wounds.

Gov. W. W. Stickney of Ludlow was in the city over Monday night to give a hearing in the matter of a petition for the pardoning of Henry Lanctot, who was represented by J. P. Lamson, was convicted in Caledonia county court of burglarizing the store of Solomon Stearns of Lyndon and has already served six years in State prison.

Roy D. Cross, aged seventy years, was the victim of a partial stroke of paralysis while walking on Main street on Sunday evening. He was taken to his home at 97 Main street and a physician summoned. Mr. Cross is a son of the late Luther Cross of this city, but resided in Chicago until about two years ago when he came to reside with Mrs. M. A. Farwell, his sister. Today his condition was pronounced not wholly unfavorable.

The Sunday Herald of Boston, in its account of the race held at Concord, N. H., on Saturday, pays a tribute to J. Edward Bailey's horse, E. E. Knott and his trainer, E. A. Sunderlin. It states that in the race Knott paced the fastest mile, which has been paced on a half mile track in New England this season, pacing two heats in 2:13. That there was nothing in the race to force Knott but it was evident that under the steady hand of Mr. Sunderlin he could easily have beaten his track record of 2:11-1-4.

A disastrous blaze was narrowly averted today at the home of W. E. Hayford at 169 Berlin street by the prompt action of Mrs. Hayford. Some boys were throwing fire crackers on the air and one of them set fire to burlaps used to patch a broken pane in the window of the barn. Mrs. Hayford's timely discovery of the fire and presence of mind in extinguishing it prevented a serious conflagration as there was a quantity of kerosene and gasoline stored in the barn.

J. E. Leland has a motor bicycle of Columbia make, which is the first of the kind ever owned in this city. It weighs 115 pounds and it is equipped with a gasoline motor of two and a half horse power and under favorable conditions can attain a speed of 40 miles per hour. The spark plug battery is good for 1500 miles and the gasoline tank contains enough to run 100 miles without refilling. The machine is compact and the appliances for operating are arranged on the handle bar, which within easy reach of the operator. With this machine hills are not obstacles to the rider, for Mr. Leland makes the trip to his home in the upper end of Northfield street with ease.

Sidney P. Page, who has been book-keeper and office man for the Vermont Watchman Company for the year past, returns to his home in St. Albans to take a position in the office of the Swift Beef Company. "Sid" has been faithful and industrious in the discharge of duty. He has the confidence of his employers and the "boys" of the office like him, both regret his departure and wish him good fortune. Mr. Page's place will be taken by W. E. Page, at one time with the Swift company in this city.

About two weeks ago Chief Reagan was notified by Constable Williams of Lake Placid, N. Y., to be on the lookout for Simon Owen, formerly of this city, as he was wanted there for burglary. On Monday evening Chief Reagan received a similar notice from Sheriff Atkins of Essex county, Vt. Owen arrived in the city on Monday evening and was soon after placed under arrest. Owen will be kept in jail awaiting the action of the New York sheriff. Owen is the father of a few boys now with Mr. and Mrs. Oliver A. Bowen, his parents. The family occupied the tenement over the Chinese laundry company until they were involved in charges concerning contraband liquor.

SOCIETY OF THE CINCINNATI.

Rev. A. N. Lewis was re-elected chaplain and historian of the Connecticut State Society of the Cincinnati at the annual meeting held in Hartford, July 3, 1902.

The society of Cincinnati was instituted by the officers of the American army at their commentions on the Hudson, May 13, 1783. Membership descends from "soldat son to oldest son." There are thirty-two societies, New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, and Georgia. Lafayette, Marquis de Rochambeau, Comte de Estrapade, Comte de Grasse, and other French officers were members. Washington was the first President General, and held the office till his death. The society has about 600 members.

Each of the societies has a large charity fund, which is devoted to the relief of indigent members and their families. The motto of the society is "Omnia Reliquit Servare Republicam." ("He left all to serve the Republic.") The badge, or "jewel," is a gold eagle flecked with white enamel, bearing a shield on its breast and back, with appropriate emblems, suspended from a blue ribbon edged with white, signifying the alliance between the United States and France during the Revolution.

A SAD ACCIDENT.

A sad drowning accident occurred in this city on Sunday evening when the Winooski gathered its second victim within the year, the localities where the tragedies occurred being only a short distance apart.

Carleton C., the twelve years old son of Mr. and Mrs. Alex McMillan of Prospect street, got into a boat owned by Owen Murrher, which was moored on the Berlin street side of the stream about opposite the residence of Aaron Bancroft. As the boy drifted out into the stream, he was observed by a woman, who called out to him to come back. There were no oars in the boat and the boy began to pull on the rope, which was trailing in the water, evidently expecting to pull himself in shore. He has since his birth been subject to epilepsy and it is believed that becoming frightened he suffered an epileptic fit and fell into the water.

The accident occurred about six o'clock. The alarm was sounded and two searching parties in boats dragged the river. Chief Reagan and Alderman Rybe were present and gave all the aid they could while a large crowd gathered on Red Arch bridge and along the banks of the stream. The boat was soon recovered, but nothing was found in it save the lad's little cap, which the father later identified.

Mrs. McMillan and Miss Fountain, her sister, were on their way over town when they heard of the accident, and not then knowing how near home the tragedy was to come, they returned to the house and asked Mr. McMillan, who was lying on the sofa reading, where the boy was. He replied that the lad was all right as he had just left him sitting outside the door picking some daisies only a few minutes before and he laughed at the fears for the boy's safety expressed by the women but finally consented to go down to the river bank. Upon arriving at the shore Mr. McMillan learned that their suspicions were only too true and after about an hour's search the lad's body was brought to the surface by Nelson Gale at a point where the boy was last seen in the boat.

The funeral will be held from St. Augustine's church on Tuesday morning. The father is a granite cutter and the members of the local branch of the Granite Cutter's Union are showing their sympathy for the stricken family in a substantial way by a generous subscription. Mr. McMillan's family consisted of himself, wife and four children, the drowned boy being the eldest.

ADMIRAL CLARK.

Admiral Clark, Mrs. Clark, their daughter, Mrs. Hughes, with her child, expect to come to this city about the 21st of this month for a stay of some three or four weeks. They will stop at the Pavilion, and will be joined later by Mrs. Robison, another daughter, and by Miss Davis, a sister of Mrs. Clark. It is hoped that Lieut. Hughes and Robison may later join their wives here.

REASONS FOR INSURANCE.
Expenses eat up wages and salaries. Year after year the average man expects to build up an estate. The usual result is no provision or only a small one for wife and children. Life Insurance does the work by easy payments.

AT DEWEY PARK.

The Manhattan Stars, who are at Dewey Park this week gave a good performance on Monday evening. Supt. Andrus has wrought surprising changes at the Park and has his own men as attendants, so that not only cleanliness but the best of order is maintained. The company this week consisted of Winifred Stewart, contralto, Hart & Bessie, impersonators and illusionists, Eddie Clark, comedian, and Weston & Besley, in comedy and ballads. All are artists in their particular roles and give a good hour of fun and music which is devoid of any objectional features.

General orders have been received by Company H from Gen. W. H. Gilmore, relative to the annual muster of the First Vermont regiment, which will be held at Fort Ethan Allen, August 7-13, inclusive.

The Journal is asked to say that this statement is false, that the postmaster at Calais has not sent for a patent petition, is not a Clement man, and, further, that the Republicans of Calais are not in this class.

J. Edward Bailey's horses at the races at Concord, N. H., last week finished as follows: "E. E. Knott" won the 212 pace. "The Governess" came in third in the 210
