STATE NEWS

Underhill, July 14.—It is probable that the government will purchase several acres of land on the Cahill farm near the foot of Mt. Mansfield, to be used as a temporary camp ground for troops stationed at Fort Ethan Allen.

Joseph Reed and Frank Horan of East Dorset, driving in a business wagon, were struck by Dr. Seward Webb's private locomotive drawing his car, Eismore, at a crossing near here. Neither driver was seriously injured, but the wagon was smashed, and Dr. Webb gave the motor check which covered the value of the vehicle several times over.

Eben S. Willard, a well known citizen of East Montpelier, died this morning at his home in that place from the result of a fall from a staging last Thursday. His age was about seventy years.

Levi Sargent, of East Barre, a veteran of the civil war, aged seventy-one years, died at four o'clock on Sunday afternoon at 439 o'clock and left at once for Thompson's Point on the Chateaugay. Secretary Shaw will come to Burlington Monday and in the afternoon at 2 o'clock will go over the ground with a view of selecting a site for the old post-office building during the erection of the new federal building secured by Congressman Foster.

Charles Bernachi, an Italian stone-carrier, aged thirty-seven, married, who came from New York to Montpelier last Christmas, has shown signs of insanity for a few days past and Saturday afternoon was taken to the county jail. He imagines himself an officer in the Spanish war and is constantly threatening to kill somebody. Drs. Lindsay and McGuire examined him Sunday afternoon and both advised him insane but desire to wait a few days before recommending a commitment to the State hospital at Waterbury.

FIVE SUMMER SCHOOLS.

Vermont summer schools for teachers, in their eighth season, will be held from July 21 to August 2, at St. Albans, Bennington and Rutland; and from July 25 to August 7 at St. Johnsbury and Island Pond. Teachers in educational thought and work from Vermont and other states have been engaged as lecturers and instructors, among whom are the following: Dr. W. P. Beckwith, Salem, Mass.; E. Hon. G. F. Fletcher, Northampton, Mass.; A. D. Poland, Plantsville, Conn.; Miss Alice E. Neal, Brooklyn, N. Y.; Miss Della I. Griffin, Newton, Mass.; Miss Eliza C. Allen, Lynn, Mass.; Marion L. Webster, Cambridge, Mass.; Supt. F. A. Bagnall, Adams, Mass.; Dr. Charles S. Caverly, Rutland; Hon. H. D. Bolton, Brattleboro; Prof. J. H. Humphrey, Burlington; Prof. C. H. Morrill, Bakersfield; Supt. F. W. Freeman, St. Albans; Supt. Charles L. Simmons, Bennington; W. H. Taylor, Hardwick; Prin. H. K. Whitaker, Bartlettboro; Prin. J. L. Alger, Johnson; Supt. C. H. Dempsey, St. Johnsbury; Miss Edith G. Alger, Johnson; Miss Evelyn Darling, Hartland; Supt. F. A. Davison, Montague, Mass.; Prin. E. G. Baldwin, Bradford; Miss Ella K. Herrick, Burlington; Prof. L. L. Jones, Burlington.

These schools are under the general direction of the State department of education, and have won a recognized place among our people as important institutions for the improvement of teaching in our public schools. Last year 550 teachers attended them and this year promises a like large attendance.

THIEVES AT MARSHFIELD.

Marshfield, July 15.—The store owned by Judge Mark Meers was broken into Monday night. Entrance was effected by removing a pane of glass from a door in the rear of the store and reaching in and sliding the bolt with which the door was fastened. The cash drawer was torn from its fixtures, but there was only about twenty-five cents in pennies in this and they were not removed. The supposition is that the thief was disarmed in his work by some cause and took a hasty flight as the door through which he entered was left wide open and none of the jewelry, of which there was quite a quantity in the store, or any other goods is thought to be missing. Wesley Lambert, who slept in a room in the hall block, was suddenly awakened by some noise. In the night and jumping out of bed looked out of the window and saw quite a heavy built man passing between the store and hall building and out around the hall. With the thought that perhaps some one was trying to break into their building, he aroused his father, but as nothing more was seen or heard of him they dismissed the matter and returned to bed.

An unsuccessful attempt was also made the same night to break into S. Swerdfege's mill. A considerable quantity of burnt matches and a heavy piece of timber with which it was tried to force the collar door was found on the stairs leading to the wheel pit. An attempt was also made to force the front door.

being pleased with the work of the school.

Since the Consolidated Company have adopted a meter system instead of charging a fixed rate per month for its electric lighting service, many of its patrons find that the cost of their lights has increased over 100 per cent and are wondering if the new meters are working overtime.

George Hill, a Middlesex farmer, while under the influence of the "blue-joyful" on Sunday, was ejected from an electric car in the town of Berlin and later lodged in jail here by Constable Shepherd. He was unable to get a hearing in his case this morning and his mind has been distraught as to who would feed his cows and do the milking.

The committee on nominations of the Vermont Commandery, Military Order of Foreign Wars, has submitted the names of the following gentlemen from this city in their list to be acted upon in August: Arthur G. Eaton, for vice-commander; O. D. Clark, delegate to national commandery, A. G. Eaton, alternate.

William Hooper does not like electrical lighting within the town of lighting. He was on an electric car on his way from Barre to this city Monday evening when the storm was at its height. He pulled a probe from the main wire and in his explanation to the conductor he said, "I can put me in jail if you want to but I don't want to be struck by lightning."

Elders Fairbanks and Clark, Evangelists of the International Adventist Christian Conference, are conducting revival services at the church in Lower Cabot, service each evening at 7:45 p. m.; Sundays, 2:30 and 7:30 p. m. Let all the Christian forces rally to the work. Everyone is invited to these services; come and bring your friends. Outdoor service of song each evening by the gospel singer, F. W. Fairbanks.

J. G. Wing, an attorney for Mrs. Isabelle M. Briggs of East Montpelier, has brought suit against Fred Fuller of Northfield, on the charge of criminal assault. The damages set are $2,000 and half of the same amount is furnished by C. V. Kent of Northfield as attorney for Henry Warley of Barre who also brought suit against Isaac Johnson of this city on the charge of alienating the affections of Mrs. Warley. The suit is for $3,000 damages and E. B. Ellis is surety for bail in the same amount. Both cases are set for trial at the September term of County Court.

The Barre Granite and Paving Company was incorporated today and articles filed with the secretary of state. The capital stock will be $50,000. The incorporators are H. K. Bush, H. W. Scott, Harry Artemus Pentock, Brainree, Mass.; James D. Graves, D. Charles, Boston. The new company have leased offices in Wood's block in Barre. The officials state that it is the intention of the company to utilize all the waste granite in an artificial way by transforming it into paving blocks. They will employ quite a number of men and expect to start operations at once.

The Local Option League meeting on Friday evening at the Grand Hotel, will have funds for defraying of the expenses of its delegation to the mass Clement meeting in Burlington next week but the scheme fell through, with a result in sickening trial and not a shiner was dropped in the basket. After the fashion of "throwing out the life line" it was decided to pass a subscription paper among the faithful for the purchase of the churches. The churches may be called upon at the eleventh hour to take up a popular contribution for this cause. There is a wide difference between organization and demagoguery.

A STABBING AFFRAY.

A stabbing affray occurred on the highway near the village of Plainfield on Saturday evening and as a result David Charboneau, a French Canadian, is now confined in jail here.

Charboneau was seen at the jail Monday by a Journal reporter and his story of the affair follows: He has been employed as a farm hand, by Thomas Taylor, whose farm is about a mile from Plainfield village, with Arthur Murray and an elderly man, whose name he could not remember.

Charboneau said that last week Murray made himself so obnoxious that he was obliged to strike him. On Saturday evening, as Charboneau was getting his bicycle ready to make the trip to the village, he noticed a stranger in the yard in the back one of the following workmen and heard them tell the stranger, "he's in the corn barn." The men then disappeared and he thought nothing more of the occurrence.

When coasting down a hill about a half mile from the village, he saw a man step out into the road from behind a tree. He stopped and the man kept getting in front of him and as a result Charboneau went into the ditch. The man was the stranger he had seen at the house, and later proved to be Charles Murray, an elderly brother of the man he had chastized.

Charboneau said the man threatened him with violence and as the other two stepped on the scene he ran away but was overtaken. A scuffle ensued in which Charboneau says he was no match for Murray but he finally succeeded in getting out of his grasp. In the scuffle Charboneau's knife closed in Charboneau's hand cutting one of his fingers badly but after getting the knife open he gave Murray four cuts in the back of his head.

Murray called to the other for aid but Charboneau threatened them with the knife and both held back, the younger Murray saying to his brother, "I told you you would get into trouble if you pitched onto him." Charboneau then broke away from his opponent, went to the village and gave himself up.

The wounded man was able to walk to the nearest house and from there he was taken to Plainfield. Dr. Gale attended the wounded man and did not think his injuries serious although one cut in the back was an inch and a half deep and the cut on the arm was severe.

Charboneau claims these cuts were the result of the scuffle in which Murray tried to get the knife away. Deputy Sheriff Bailey and Constable Pitkin placed Charboneau under arrest and brought him to the city on Sunday morning. The hearing will be at Plainfield so soon as the wounded man is able to attend.

MRS HEATON RECEIVES

Mrs. C. H. Heaton received Saturday afternoon, introducing to Montpelier society Mrs. Clifton M. Heaton. The receiving party was Mrs. C. H. Heaton and Mrs. C. M. Heaton. The assistants in the functions were Miss Mary Dewey, Mrs. C. P. Pitkin and Mrs. F. W. Morse, introducing the guests: Miss Carrie Cross, Miss Clara Adams, Mrs. M. F. Atkins and Miss Lucy Jacobs, ushers to dining room, and members of the "Clay Club." Misses Julia Adams, May Deaning, Ruth Brooks and Ruby Heaton served refreshments. The rooms were decorated with roses, Canterbury bells and rhododendrons, and were in harmony with a delightfully festive occasion, to which were added the charms of music, by Wilder's orchestra behind a screen of asparagus boughs.

AFTERMATH.

Barre was treated to no end of excitement Monday in addition to the Pawnee Bill show.

The show brought hundreds of visitors to the city and many took the opportunity to take treatment for the parched condition of their throats with the result that a bunch was gathered in by the police.

William and James Rogers of the Granite City and F. E. and T. J. Simons of Orange were arrested during the afternoon by Chief Patrick Brown. They were engaged in a free-for-all fight in the yard of Mrs. Robinson on South Main street. Two of them, the Simons from Orange, were getting the worst of the encounter when Chief Brown arrived. William Rogers had just returned from Windsor where he served a sentence for assault on one McPhee. The Simons family, when interviewed in the police station by a Journal reporter Monday afternoon, seemed quite a bit concerned over seventeen cows which awaited milking at home.

Shortly after one o'clock this morning the police department were called upon for assistance again. Michael Grannels, about thirty-two years of age, employed some two years ago in Cutler's stable, Barre, recently returned to the city and again secured employment with the same place. Grannels changing his mind, he entered into a contract with the Pawnee Bill people. A few minutes after one o'clock this morning, having finished loading his cars, the show started its train and Grannels attempted to board it but fell beneath the wheels which passed over his left leg above the knee and his left arm was torn off at the shoulder. He was conveyed to the emergency hospital where he died in a few moments. The dead man has a brother William, in Manchester, N. H., and his mother, Mrs. Maggie Grannels, resides in Vergennes.

That the fair sex should not be slighted during the day's festivities Mrs. Emeline Ewing, who was convicted last week of keeping a house of assignation, was taken to Rutland to serve a sentence of sixty days at the house of correction.

Edward Raymo, in jumping from a team near the Central Vermont station, accidentally dropped a .32-calibre revolver from his hip pocket which was discharged, the ball entering one of his legs just above the knee. Dr. Deziel made the man comfortable.

This morning the Granite City Court was run under a forced draft and at two p. m. had disposed of twelve cases, the largest number ever handled in the same space of time.

The Rogers "boys" were dealt out justice by His Honor in no uncertain quantity. William, charged with breaking the peace, was taxed $30 and costs of $9.45; his brother James was taxed $20 in addition to breaking the peace and will have to ante $25 and costs of $10.76.

The Simons family of Orange faced His Honor who handed Mr. Simons, senior, an invitation to pay $5 and costs of $9.47 for breaking the peace, and his son was taxed a like figure as a drunk.

Charles Mitchell, transportation manager of the Pawnee Bill outfit, in a discussion with one of his employees, tapped the workman upon the head with a cudgel and fractured the roof of that gentleman's brain. Mr. Mitchell after sleeping in a cell over night decided to pay $10 and costs of $7.39 but said it was exorbitant.

Frank L. Cochran and E. F. Bergen as common drunks paid fines of $5 and costs of $8.42.

E. B. Jones of Essex Junction, drunk, was fined $5 and costs of $8.50 for an over-indulgence in the ardent.

MOONLIGHT EXCURSION

On Lake Champlain, Thursday, July 17.

Citizens of Barre, Montpelier, Waterbury and all intermediate stations between these points and Burlington will be given an opportunity on Thursday, July 17, to enjoy a moonlight and searchlight excursion on Lake Champlain. The Central Vermont railroad has completed arrangements for a first class time and the Montpelier Military band will accompany the party. Round trip tickets from Barre and Montpelier $1.25. Special train leaves Barre at 5:30 and Montpelier 5:55 p. m. Special train leaves Burlington after the ride on the lake at ten o'clock.

IN A DEADLOCK;

Chicago, July 15.—While the wholesale business of this city is almost completely paralyzed and while business men are suffering a loss of $1,000,000 per day the striking freight handlers and the railroads are in a deadlock and announce their determination to fight to the finish over the question of one-half a cent per hour or a total of about $500 for every twenty-four hours; this sum being divided on one side between twenty-four railroads and on the other between 10,000 men. The situation is more serious than at any time since the commencement of the trouble, and at no time since the walk out have the points at issue been so obstinately maintained. Three times today the freight handlers sent committees to meet the general managers, and each time they came back without result.

The officials of the roads have declared that no deputation will be received from employees who have gone on a strike and that they will maintain this position. When this was reported at the head quarters of the strikers, President Curran announced that the fight was on to a finish, and that hereafter when the railroads had any overtures to make, or wished to do any business with their employees they would be compelled to transact such business through the officers of the Freight Handlers' Union.

REASONS FOR INSURANCE.
 Expenses out of wages and salaries. Year after year the average man expects to build up an estate. The usual result is no provision or only a small one for wife and children. Life Insurance does the work by easy payments.
