DEFERRED TOWN CORRESPONDENCE

BERLIN.

F. V. Winslow returned from Boston Monday leaving his father to continue under treatment for awhile.

Dean Bancroft and his bride will make the Bancroft homestead their home for the present, at least.

George H. Crandall and A. E. Covell were in Northfield on business, Saturday.

Representative G. K. Perrin is again confined to the house with the asthma.

Dr C. N. Barber was called here last Monday to see a valuable young horse belonging to G. L. Willey.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh That Contain Mercury

As mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is tenfold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, man factured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Tole o, O., contains no mercury, and i taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.

Sold by Druggists, Price 75c per bottle.

Hall's Family Pills are the best.

CABOT.

A. W. Noys has bought the land owned by P. B. Elmore at Lower Cabot.

Mrs. Gates of Plainfield and her sister, Mrs. Millie Therlow, of Lee, Maine, spent Sunday in town.

Town meeting passed very quietly, only one ballot was had, except such as the law required should be voted by ballot. It was voted to buy another safe for the protection of the town's books and papers and voted to elect two road commissioners; voted to have the school directors have the school building wired for electric lights. These were all the votes taken outside of the regular routine of business and was all completed at 1:45. At 3 o'clock the license votes were counted, resulting yes, 71; no, 125.

Mrs. Judith Bellows, died at the home of her brother, Deacon M. S. Haines, February 23, after a short illness, aged seventy-five years. She was the eldest daughter of the late Horace and Lucinda Stone Haines: one of a family of nine children, five sons and four daughters, Deacon Leander of Waterbury, Deacon Edward, William S., Louisa and Fannie, all deceased; Deacon Ira F., Deacon Moses, and Mrs. Lelia Blodgett of Cabot, still survive her. Her grandfather Haines came from Deerfield, N. H., in 1791, and began to clear the land on the farm now occupied by Orville Barrett. His capital was very meagre, as may be inferred from the fact, that while he was the possessor of only two shirts and two pairs of pants, he exchanged one of each for a hoe and an axe, to begin work with. His son Horace, Mrs. Bellow's father, built the "woolen factory" at the Lower village, which is stil owned by Deacon I. F. Haines. Her maternal grandfather, Deacon Moses Stone, was one of the men whose names are handed down as among the foundation "Stones" of the town. He built the first sawmill on the site near where the woolen factory now stands. He was one of the strong pillars of the Congregational church, honest, upright, and fearless for the right. Mrs. Bellows became a worthy member of the Congregational church in girlhood. She was looked up to and greatly beloved in her home circle. She married Charles Bellows of Winsted, Conn., and went there to reside. One daughter, Fannie came as a blessing to their home, but at the age of eighteen she was suddenly taken from them by the "reaper" who gathers the young and beautiful alike with the "ripened sheaves." Her husband early followed her, and Mrs. Bellows came back to live among her friends, and die at the old homestead, as had been her great desire after her home was broken up. All the care that loving hands could bestow was given her and she was laid to rest in the family plot in the cemetery at Lower Cabot.

A SIMPLE QUESTION.

Montpelier People Are Requested to Honestly Answer This.

Is not the word of a representative citizen of Montpelier more convincing than the doubtful utterances of people living everywhere else in the Union? Read this:

Frank Nelson, machinist, Worcester Branch, four miles from Montpelier, says: "My occupation necessitates considerable heavy lifting causing more or less of a strain on the muscles of the back. For three or four years I knew from the aching across the loins that my kidneys were affected and it did not require the dead heavy aching feeling at the close of a day's work to tell me that they were either weakened or over excited. Sometimes the pain was so acute at night that it prevented sound refreshing sleep and I arose in the morning poorly prepared to tackle the next day's work. Added to this, always a sure sign of some disturbed action of the kidneys, there was an annoying weakness of the kidney secretions. A friend advised me to go to W. E. Poole's drug store for Doan's Kidney Pills and take a course of the treatment. I did so and used two boxes. The last attack positively ceased."

PLAINFIELD.

The funeral of Mrs. Warren was held at the late residence, Wednesday morning. Rev. L. F. Fortney conducted the services and Rev. Mr. Walz assisted. Relatives and friends were in attendance from Barre, Montpelier, Calais, Marshfield, Walden, Williston and Plainfield.

Rev. G. H. Wright is again confined to his bed with grip.

Mr. and Mrs. Ezekiel Skinner gave a very pleasant card party to about thirty of their friends, Wednesday evening. The highest score was made by Herbert Holt and Mrs. Fortney.

More Riots.

Disturbances of strikers are not nearly as grave as an individual disorder of the system. Overwork, loss of sleep, nervous tension, will be followed by utter collapse, unless a reliable remedy is immediately employed. There's nothing so efficient to cure disorders of the Liver or Kidneys as Electric Bitters. It's a wonderf l tonic, and effective nervine and the greatest all around medicine for run down systems. It dispels Nervousness, Rheumatism and Neuralgia and expels Malaria germs. Only 50c, and satisfaction guaranteed by C. Blakely, Druggist.

NEWBURY.

The discussion over the proposition to hold the town meetings hereafter at Newbury street was lively and resulted favorably by a majority of thirteen. This is s it should be as the greatest number of voters are better conv enienced than at the old place in the wilderness, where it has been held for fifty or sixty years.

A Remarkable Case.

One of the most remarkable cases of a cold, deep seated on the lungs, causing pneumonia, is that of Mrs. Gertrude E. Fenner, Marion, Ind., who was entirely cured by the use f One Minute Cough Cure. She says: "The coughing and straining so weakened me that I run down in weight from 148 to 92 pounds. I tried a number of remedies to no avail until I used One Minute Cough Care. Four bottles of this wonderful remedy cured me entirely of the cough, strengthened my lungs and restored me to my normal weight, health, and strength." Rivers Bros.

NORTHFIELD.

Tuesday afternoon W. A. Blake, the grocer, had occasion to go the rear of his store. He noted a considerable gathering of men in a horse stall and upon closer inspection found that they surrounded a barrel of cider which had been taken from his store cellar where he had it placed with open bung for the purpose of turningit into vinegar. The crowd gradually melted away and Mr. Blake got his barrel back minus about 45 gallons of its contents. He said that he should make a demand for payment and claims that he knows who removed it. Entrance to the cellar was apparently gained by passing through the store and down into the basement where the door could be readily unlocked from the inside.

Major F. L. Howe has received a favorable response from the United States Fish Commissioner George M. Bowers of Washington, D. C., granting the application for stocking Dog river with fish and states that an assignment of brook trout fry will be sent for that purpose during the spring months. The government requires that proper protection be afforded to the brood stock.

Complaint having been made that cattle belonging to Lewis Stevens in Bull Run were not receiving proper care and feed, J. A. Hutchinson, State Agent of the Vermont Humane society, made an investigation Sunday. It appeared to him that the animals were all suffering for want of food and exercise. Accordingly he notified Stevens that the cattle must be fed and watered at least twice a day and have proper care. If this order is not promptly complied with immediately and fully Officer Hutchinson will see that the law in such matters is enforced and it is stringent enough to cover any case of neglect of dumb animals.

"Fewer Gallons; Wears Longer."

The secret is out and Montpelier can go on living just as if the fiddle had never been asked.

No it can't, either Montpelier is not going to be what it was before. Its houses are going to be brighter; its people a little more prosperous—they are going to have some of their money left to buy other things with.

The answer to the riddle is this: you can paint a building with fewer gallons of Devoe Lead and Zinc paint than with mixed paints, and it will wear several times as long as a building painted with lead and oil mixed by hand. What will people do with the rest of their money? Sold by Abbott & Bailey.

IN COUNTY COURT.

Wednesday afternoon and Thursday forenoon in county court were used for the hearing of arguments on minor motions regarding cases set for trial. Leave to file a new declaration in the case of Herbert R. Sias v. Consolidated Lighting Co. was granted under certain conditions as to costs. The motion for a continuance in the case of Union Mutual Fire Insurance Co. v. A. B. Dugar was denied and the case assigned for trial on March 23. The case of R. C. Bowers Granite Co. v. C. T. Morley was set for April 1, for the convenience of the defendant who lives in the West. The Barre slander case of Harvey Hersey v. Frank E. Langley was continued.

The first jury case ready for trial was found to be Montpelier & Wells River Railroad v. Z. Macchi and this was assigned for 2 p. m., Thursday. This is a suit for the recovery of freight charges and has been tried once before and been to Supreme Court where it was reversed on exceptions. J. P. Lamson as attorney for the plaintiff and J. W. Gordon for the defendant. Following this case will come S. H. O. Bosworth v. C. DeF. Bancroft, collector of taxes.

At 2 o'clock on Thursday court came in and announced a decision on the motion for continuance in the case of McKinstry v. Collins & Lovell. The motion was overruled, the court believing that it would be injustice to the defendants to longer delay trial, even though there might be some weakening of the plaintiff's evidence through the absence of an important witness and consequent use of former testimony.

The case of Montpelier and Wells River Railroad v. Z. Macchi was at once called on and a jury empanelled. The jurors on the case are George N. Carpenter, John Folsom, William F. Gladding, G. C. Granfield, Horace Hill, A. S. Howe, George D. Joslin, Walter H. Little, Herbert H. Long, R. J. McMullen, Bemis Pike, E. M. Turner, C. N. White.

County court came in at nine o'clock as usual on Saturday but before proceeding with the case of the Montpelier and Wells River railroad v. Z. Macchi, announced decision on the demurrers heard Wednesday. There are six cases, in five of which Harvey Hersey of Barre is plaintiff, while the Union Mutual Fire Ins.Co., Northern Assurance Co. of London, Aetna Insturance Co., Insurance Co. of North America, and the Phoenix Co, are respectively defendants, while in the sixth Mattie Ford is plaintiff and the Fire Association of Philadelphia defendant. The court sustained the demurrer and held both counts of the declaration in each case insufficient. They are all suits for the recovery of insurance as a result of a fire in Barre last summer in which Mr. Hersey's buildings were burned. F. L. Laird for plaintiff and F. A. Howland and John W. Gordon for defendants The jury trial then proceeded, the defendant being first on the stand.

The evidence was closed about 11 o'clock and it being then too late to conclude the case today, the court ex cused the jury until two o'clock Monday.

After dismissing the jury, the court heard the auditor; querela case of Leonard Holden v. A. J Sibley, adm. A little testimony was taken and then the arguments made by John H. Senter and John W. Gordon for the plaintiff and H. C. Shurtleff for the defendant No decision was rendered.

ROBERTS OUT.

Barre, March 7.—At a special meeting of the city council Thursday evening the resignation of Rev. Brian C. Roberts as a member of the liquor commission was accepted and John E. Smith, of the granite firm of E. L. Smith & Co., was appointed in his stead. Mr. Roberts stated as his reason for resigning, that he felt that as a clergyman he could not perform the duties of the office. The one appointed was confirmed by the board of aldermen by a vote of 5 to 1.

The city council by a unanimous vote placed itself on record as in favor of a rigid enforcement of the license law and agreed to stand fi mly behind the police and city officials in its enactment.

The following appointments were made and confirmed: City attorney, ex-Mayor John W. Gordon; superintendent of streets, Alex Bruce; superintendent of water works, W. T. Campbell; secretary board of health, W. F. Gilman; chief of fire department, Charles H. Campbell; overseer of poor, L. H. Thurston; grand jurors, H. W. Scott, S. S. Williams, A. A. Sargent. Patrick Brown was re-appointed as chief of police and Frank Hamel and Kenneth Nicholson were appointed regular patrolmen. The two latter succeed E. E. Perry and L. N. Gauthier. Mr. Perry resigned to enter the insurance business and Mr. Gauthier was removed. Seventeen specials were sworn in.

The selectmen of Barre town have appointed the following as members of the license board for that town: George J. Towne, two years; C. R. Pittsley, four years; Robert O'Hearn, six years.

THE CHIEF OF POLICE.

Mayor Corry Justified in Not Reappointing. Ought to Dismiss the Entire Force and Abolish the Police Department.

Editor of Journal:—Judging from the comment heard in every part of the city relative to the retiring of Chief Reagan, there appears to be a screw loose somewhere, and I want to say a few words in d fense of the action.

Ever since the license law has been proposed the principal argument of those who favored it has been that its adoption would decrease drunkenness. They have argued that if a man can get liquor but occasionally, when he does succeed in getting it he will drink himself into a state of beastly intoxication; whereas, if it is kept constantly before him, he will merely take a little drink and then go away and let it alone. Their appetites will be satisfied and consequently there will be no drunkenness. In proof of this opinion they cite the statements of a score or more of men who, at some period in their lives, have spent forty-eight hours in some State where a license system prevails, and who failed to see a single case of intoxication. Whether this opinion be true or false remains to be seen. But it is certain, that, last Tuesday, nearly seventy per cent of the citizens of Vermont, and nearly eighty-five per cent of the citizens of Montpelier endorsed it, either directly by their ballot or indirectly by remaining away from the polls. Consequently we must assume that it is correct, and, if correct we must abide by it.

If we will turn to the report of Chief Reagan on page eighty-five we shall see that fifty per cent of the arrests last year were for drunkenness, and of the remainder, the liquor traffic played a very prominent part in over sixty per cent of the cases. Now, in a very short time, we shall have open saloons in sufficient number to keep an unlimited supply of liquor constantly before us. Consequently there will be no drunkenness, and since drunkenness and violations of the prohibitory law occasioned five-sixths of the work of the police force, it seems to me, that, under the new system, there will be very little need of any police force at all. In view of the vote cast last Tuesday, and the sentiments expressed prior to the casting of that vote, it seems to me that Mayor Corry did a very wise thing in dismissing Chief Reagan, and that he would be fully justified in discharging the entire force and abolishing the police department. If I am wrong I shall be glad to have my error shown me.

NECKLACE IN STOVE.

Chicago, March 6.—The pearl necklace reported to be lost or stolen by Mrs. R. R. Campbell of Dearborn avenue, and for which detectives have been searching for several days, has been found in an ash heap at her house yesterday, burned to a cinder. The necklace which was valued at $5,000 was thrown into the stove by the cook while preparing dinner.
