GREAT OLD HIGH COST SHORT TRAIN SERVICE

Fellow Robbed Creamery Thursday Night of Big Amount Butter.

Two ways of getting even with the high cost of living is to steal food or go to jail, neither method being employed by the citizen with a reputation for sobriety and honesty. Not being constructed upon either of the latter, it was therefore very easy for some fellow to break into the refrigerator of the Eagle River creamery company's plant last Thursday night and carry off a large amount of print butter retailing at sixty cents per pound. The amount stolen was considerable.

The fellow who stole the butter might have been first cousin to the one who broke into Chris Basmsen's cottage on Dam Lake and purloined every portable article except the kitchen stove. This was done some time prior to Chris's return from the war. You can imagine what kind of an animal it must have been to steal from a soldier.

Comments on the Fair.

Said one visitor at the Vilas county fair last Wednesday: "Really, do you people raise such beautiful apples or do you have them sent in from a warmer climate for exhibiting purposes." Had to relate, the lady was informed that Vilas county orchards produced those same apples and they were grown in the town of Conover. Ask N. F. Niederlander of St. Louis, whether those apples were shipped in. He enjoyed the time of his life the following day after the fair closed by driving up to Charles Reed's fruit farm in Conover and just what Mr. Reed is doing in fruit culture. It is worth a reel movie to hear Mr. Niederlander tell of this county's future.

Northwestern Gives Twice a Week Service Until Sept. 17th—Sunday Only After That Date Until Oct. 5th.

The limited or "fish run" on the Monico-Watersmeet branch, which has been making a three-time-a-week schedule the past two months, has been reduced at follows:

From now until September 17, the limited will arrive on Wednesday and Sunday mornings, returning the same evenings.

After that date it will arrive on Sunday mornings only up to its discontinuance October 5th.

Tourist traffic on the limited at this late date is heavier than it has ever been before. This is due probably to the fact that the resorts of northern Wisconsin having been unable to take care of the untold thousands who have visited this section during the mid-summer outing season, has caused the overflow to return for the months of September and October—the two best months for the outer and health seeker.

A Long Crop of Blueberries.

Even the old timers who have inhabited this part of the state since the year One, have to admit that this year's crop of blueberries is the largest, and has lasted the longest of any since their day. It has now been over two months since the first berries were picked, and there are still thousands of bushels in good shape for picking and canning. Of course they are dead ripe, and while a few are being sent to the cities, shipment has about ended. Albert Budde shipped quite a consignment yesterday and the berries were in fine shape. Wild cranberries are now coming into market and this crop is said to be unusually large.

Phelps News.

Phelps day at the Vilas County Fair was a big one. In the first place it was a grand day. In the second place there were lots of Phelps people there and the entire Phelps band were there with their new uniforms. In the third place the Phelps farmers carried off their share of the prizes and honors. There was a wonderful exhibition of farm products in the show building and it was quite an honor to be a prize winner. Even our cheese maker, Ed Vanderberg carried away a premium in his line, though it was understood competition was not heavy. (Cheese up Ed, however that was very good cheese.)

The ball game in the afternoon was a close one but not overly exciting. A fine dance in the evening ended the day's performance and everyone was satisfied with the future outlook of Vilas county and a real fair.

Dr. H. M. Weed was called to Bonifas, Michigan last Saturday evening. Mrs. Gonian of that village was very sick.

Well that long looked for and much talked of event, "Tom's Grand Opening" occurred Monday evening. Phelps now has one of the neatest ice cream and candy parlors in the county. Extra help had to be called in to help wait on trade, but very good service was given on the occasion. Mr. McGregor is well liked by everybody and I am sure we all join in wishing him great success.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Covey left Saturday morning for the big State Fair at Milwaukee. Mr. Covey goes as a Vilas county representative and to assist in looking after Vilas county's exhibit and their interest. A very neat folder for Vilas county's advertising has been gotten out by Beebe of Milwaukee, written up finely and illustrated. This year's showing at the fair ought to be a booster for Vilas county.

Ed Anderson and family made an auto trip to Crystal Falls Sunday. Ed says the roads are a regular dream though the big trouble is, too many people are having the same dream at the same time.

L. G. Weed and friends made a "Ford" trip to Iron River Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Christiansen left Sunday for a trip up into Minnesota. C. M. will visit the home of his sister.

Oh say but it seems good to once more see the smiling faces of our teachers dear: Fred Kildow, Miss Leppla and Miss Reed. There is another one too boys, but up to the present writing the News reporter has not had an introduction. Will fill in in a later issue fellows so you'll have information necessary.

School at Phelps, it is needless to say after above announcement, commenced Monday.

Mary Pickford had a fine audience at the Happy Hour Theatre Saturday evening. Fatty made a big hit as usual with all present. Remember that October fourth, the big production, entitled "The Spoilers" will be presented. This is taken from Rex Beach's great novel and is as good a feature as will ever be presented here.

Back From Hospital.

Mrs. John Sisson of Little St. Germain lake came home yesterday from Rochester where she had been seeking treatment.

Watersmeet News.

Mrs. J. A. Pennington returned Monday from a week's visit with her son's family at Birnamwood.

C. L. Durkee and son Herbert visited last week at St. Paul.

W. W. Gray was at Iron River last week where he visited his wife who is in the hospital in that city.

Mrs. Martin Carney of Grimms, Wis., is visiting at the home of T. A. Kelly.

Mrs. Geo. Wentz who has been visiting at Antigo the past two weeks returned home.

Miss Emory of Broadhead, Wis., has arrived to teach in the village schools.

Thelma Durkee returned Friday from a visit with friends at Ashland.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd left Saturday for a visit at their old home in Detroit.

Violet Revoyr and Myrtle Rock were at Antigo last week.

Jack Grant, overseas veteran who has but lately returned home, is visiting at the home of J. D. Vantwoud.

Joe Pennington left last week for Birnamwood where he will join his brother Otis and family on a motor tour to Detroit, Iona, Grand Rapids and Traverse City.

Some guys who are nuts on the trout game, and who live at and below State Line, this state, finished up the tail end of the 1919 season in Michigan by casting their flies in the Ontonagon river. They were accompanied by J. A. Pennington, who is the champion "night crawler" catcher in the Upper Peninsula, and who agreed to furnish grasshoppers for John Frank of the above Michigan railroad station. S'all right, until Frank lost his bag of hoppers in the brush and thereby put himself out of commission for the day. Next day John Martin, walking over the same trail, and bent upon finishing up the bad job the other fellows fell down on, found Frank's bag of hoppers and his day's catch with the aforementioned grasshoppers netted him eight daddinged big trout.

Watersmeet made good on her ball game yesterday by a score of 16 to 12. As usual the reliable old lemon was passed to the other team. And by the way, Kellysmeet has been able to hand that l'il old lemon away several times the past few years—and it is still in good condition for the 1920 season.

BIRTHS

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Frankel of Milwaukee, last week—a son.

Bort to Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Pride—a daughter.
