COMMENTS.

DR. TANNER still lives on air.

A LETTER has recently been delivered in France after being detained in the postoffice for half a century.

PERE HYACINTHE is delivering a course of lectures in London on "Positive Christianity."

In the poorhouse in Milwaukee one Joseph Daws, who, before the war, was reported worth $3,000,000.

We who stay at home have just as much fun as they who kill time at the fashionable watering-place, and it doesn't cost near as much.

The shipment of gold from England to the United States, to pay on balance of trade account, is about to be resumed.

It is proposed to bottle and export the waters of the Nile, and it is conjectured that there's millions in it, the water is so healthful and delicious.

A COLORADO girl lost a leg, and her gallant lover had a pocketbook containing a piece of tanned skin from the amputated part.

GEN. HENRY S. HUDOKOPER, of Germantown, Pa., who commanded the famous "Bucktail Regiment" at the battle of Gettysburg, has been appointed postmaster of Philadelphia.

The indications now are—taking the census returns thus far received as a basis—that Wisconsin has a population of 1,300,000. In 1870 she had 1,054,670.

AN Enoch Arden, at Mount Vernon, Ohio, is likely to get his wife back, for he returns with a fortune of $90,000 while the Philip Ray is a shiftless fellow, and has led the Annie Lee a miserable life for fourteen years.

A WRITER in the Minneapolis Tribune says Dr. Tanner, the fasting man, has a divorced wife in Wisconsin; that the theory that people eat too much grew upon Tanner until it became a mania, making him very disagreeable to his family. He tried to impress his pet theory upon his wife, but she resisted and left him. Mrs. Tanner is said to be fond of good living, and was bound to eat three square meals a day.

It has been definitely ascertained that the name of the Spanish vessel that recently fired upon two American schooners while in Cuban waters is the Canto. Admiral Wyman, commander of the Tennessee, has been ordered to Havana to make further inquiry. The Spanish authorities claim the right to patrol the Cuban coast to the distance of one league from the shore.

The earthquake disaster on the Island of Luzon (in the Philippine Islands) has not ended at last accounts. The terrestrial commotion began on the 13th was very severe on the 20th, and had not ceased on 24th inst. There has been great destruction of life and property, and in some parts of the island great chasms had opened. In the meantime the volcanoes of the island are active.

The latest intelligence from Mexico is that General Gonzales has been elected President of that Republic by a large majority. An unsuccessful attempt was made to assassinate him on the 13th inst., while he was addressing a crowd at Guanajuato. "Revolutions" have broken out in the Sierras of Pueblo, and at Mazatlan. In the former General Negrete "pronounced," and in the latter the collector of the port seized the public funds and also "pronounced," but on the arrival of government troops fled with his booty to San Francisco.

A VERY novel description of a duel which is reported from France tends to show that the rage for fighting is attaining to inconvenient proportions. Two lads, each about 16 years of age, were, it seems, breakfasting together in a factory near the Rue Notre Dame de Nazareth, Paris, and having quarrelled, agreed to settle their dispute in what is now the prevailing fashion. They were not, however, in possession of foils, and as a consequence determined to fight with knives, throwing them at each other in the Spanish fashion. Standing three paces apart, they began the battle, and soon one of them fell covered with blood. There upon the victor descended to the basement of the building for medical aid, and brought a doctor upon the scene just in time to witness the death of the wounded lad. The survivor is now incarcerated at the police depot. It is noted that the whole affair is more than ordinarily sad, since the father of the boy who now awaits his trial has only just lost his wife and daughter, and has been deprived of his reason by this fresh misfortune.

VERY LATEST NEWS.

A Record of Important Events, Domestic and Foreign.

WASHINGTON.

THE president has appointed E. J. Philipp postmaster at Oberlin, O., vice Wm. O. Allen, deceased.

THE 135 battalions of Turkish regular troops in Europe have been increased to 800 men in each battalion.

THE president has appointed General Henry S. Hudokoper, of Germantown, postmaster at Philadelphia. General Hudokoper commanded the "Bucktail" regiment at Gettysburg, where he lost his right arm.

PROBABLY the highest elevator in the world is that just completed in the Washington monument, the first trial of which was made on 21st inst. It is 176 feet high, is capable of bearing ten tons, and was erected at a cost of $20,000.

SENATOR BRUCE, of Mississippi, is to take an active part in the Maine campaign, and will leave for Augusta in a few days. He will also make several speeches in Ohio and Indiana.

THE president has decided to remove Postmaster Forbes, at Richmond, Va. A number of applications have been filled for the position, among which was one from Miss Van Lew, who formerly held the office.

THE post office department has been advised by the Swiss Federal council that the republic of Santo Domingo has declared its adherence to the rules of the Universal Postal Union convention, to take effect on the 1st of October, 1880.

UP to this time the secret service agents of the treasury are as much in the dark as ever with respect to the capture of the plate from which dangerous counterfeiters of $100 national bank notes have been made, and no clue has been discovered which is likely to lead to the early arrest of the counterfeiters of these notes.

At a cabinet meeting the interior department submitted information that Spotted Tail, becoming dissatisfied, had removed his children from the training school, where, with seven hundred others, they had been sent to be educated, and that his course had led to serious disapproval, on the part of the rest of the tribe, who are anxious to be educated, and they have appealed to the president to depose Spotted Tail, and appoint a new chief over them.

The silver gorge is causing officers of the treasury a good deal of perplexity. Under the act of Feb. 28, 1878, coinage must go on until congress otherwise enacts. The law has been in force now nearly twenty-nine months, and over $3,000,000 standard silver dollars have been coined. But only $19,000,000 of this is in circulation, the remainder being locked up in the treasury vaults. All efforts to force this money into circulation have failed, and no sooner does the government pay out silver than it comes back into the treasury for duties or in exchange for silver certificates.

THE internal revenue department reports as rather curious thing the wonderful increase in the use of cigarettes. A few years ago this was considered a small matter, but now the smoking of cigarettes is becoming one of the prevailing habits of the American people. It is believed to show another thing no less significant, those cigarette smokers are mostly boys who are thus early becoming addicted to the use of tobacco, and the result will be, as the generation grows up, they will be some consumers of tobacco in other forms, so that a vast increase in the revenue will result and will mark Americans before long as the most inveterate smokers and chewers in the world. The cheapness of tobacco now is encouraging its consumption, also, it is thought.

LOUIS SCHIABE, a German citizen, has had an interview with Assistant Secretary of State Hay, to lay before him the peculiar action of the Prussian government in publishing two German-American citizens as fugitives from an evaded military law. The case as reported at the state department is as follows: A naturalized American citizen, A. C. Bosseler, of St. Louis, returned some years ago, with his two native American sons, to Germany, and there became again a Prussian subject. His sons, native Americans, before they became of age returned to the land of their birth, and are now living in St. Louis, where they exercise all the rights of American citizens. In November, 1878, both were published by the provincial government of Eckeneferde, in Schleswig, as fugitives from military duty. The provincial government afterward requested the royal circuit court of Schleswig to proceed, under paragraph 140 of the penal code, against the alleged fugitives. (That paragraph confiscates the property coming to them as heirs of the elder Bosseler). The circuit court, however, decided that the American Bosselers were not Prussian subjects, but American citizens, and that ended the difficulty.

CRIME.

THE suteries of the Richmond, Va., postmaster will make good the deficiency in his accounts, and there will be no criminal prosecution.

The United States commissioner, has now discharged Wilhelm Bach, the mother, and the eldest son; and held for extradition Hugo and Albert Bach.

An altercation arose near Indianapolis, between James Conrad and Douglas Mitchell, an employe of the Jeffersonville road. Conrad rode on the freight train from Seymour to Columbus, and Mitchell wanted to charge him $280, while Conrad only offered to pay the regular fare, seventy-five cents. There was considerable talk between the two men, resulting in Mitchell accepting the regular fare, and at Columbus Conrad reported Mitchell to the officers. Mitchell struck Conrad with knuckles, and then Conrad fired, followed by Mitchell, who put a bullet in the body of Conrad. Mitchell was arrested at noon and taken back to Columbus. Both men live at Indianapolis.
