bring his conviction before the United States Supreme Court for review.
Federal Judge W. T. Newman denied a petition for Frank's release on a habeas corpus writ and a petition for an appeal was immediately presented. It will be passed on by Judge Newman Monday.

There was some confusion regarding the appeal and at first it was announced that Judge Newman had granted the petition. The judge stated tonight, however, that his announcement that he was "inclined to grant the appeal." Under a federal statute a federal judge, in granting an appeal in habeas corpus proceedings must issue a certificate stating that in his opinion there is "probable cause for an appeal."

The habeas corpus writ was sought on grounds that Frank's constitutional rights were violated, in that he was "involuntarily absent" from the court room when the verdict was announced. The prisoner's attorneys argued that the Georgia state courts lost jurisdiction in the case when he was denied the right to face the jury at the culmination of his trial.

They declared therefore that Frank had been deprived of his liberty without due process of law.

A writ for a Supreme Court review of the case recently was denied by both state and federal courts in a proceeding based on practically the same contention, but not involving a habeas corpus petition.

man, his son-in-law, in Haverstraw on July 23, returned a verdict of not guilty in Justice Morschauer's court Saturday night. Cleary was at once discharged from custody.

The jurors looked solemn as they filed into court, and resumed their places. Cleary's eyes were directed appealingly towards the foreman, who rose after the names of the jurors had been called by the clerk and in answer to Justice Morschauer's question if a verdict had been reached, said:
"We have, Your Honor—not guilty."

The announcement had a galvanic effect upon Cleary, who sprang to his feet and advanced toward the jurors with beaming face and outstretched hands. "A merciful and rightful verdict," he said as he grasped the hands of the jurors, "and I thank you for it."

The meeting of Cleary with his wife in the county jail was pathetic. Mrs.
Cleary fell into her husband's arms with a cry of joy, and a few minutes later they were driven to the Cleary home in Haverstraw in an auto, where they spent the night. They will leave for the tropics within a few days.

News of her father's acquittal was sent to Mrs. Anna Cleary Newman by her mother a few minutes after the verdict was announced. She is in her home in New York.

tribution to the public, the purpose for which they were bought, we will pay for the distribution on receipt of bill, if it is properly made.

The West Virginian calendars are the largest made and have that striking picture, "A Honeymoon in Venice," as the subject. The calendars can all be

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered
Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. They are the result of Dr.
Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. His efforts to banish it brought out these little olive-colored tablets.

These pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums.
So do strong liquids.

It is best not to take calomel, but to let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.
Most headaches, "dizziness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "lumpy" and "heavy." Note how they "clear" clouded brain and how they "perk up" the spirits. At 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.
