Baltimore, October 13, 1840. Sir, At a meeting of the committee heretofore appointed at a general meeting of the citizens of Baltimore, for promoting the diffusion of knowledge by the adoption of M. Vattemere's system of exchanges, it was determined to create an institution for that object to be called, “The Maryland Institution of literature, science and art.”

Baltimore, October 13, 1840.

To Jonathan Meredith Esquire,

Sir,

At a meeting of the committee heretofore appointed at a general meeting of the citizens of Baltimore, for promoting the diffusion of knowledge by the adoption of M. Vattemere's system of exchanges, it was determined to create an institution for that object — of said Institution, and it is hoped and requested that you will, at an early day, signify your acceptance of that office, by note addressed to John M. Sumner, Esq. Recording Secretary.

I am, Sir, Your ob't serv't, GEORGE W. DOBBIN, Secretary pro tem.

ROBERT GILMOR, President.

Vice-Presidents.

Hon. ROGER B. TANEY, Chief Justice of the United States,

Rt. Rev. Dr. ECCLESTON, Archbishop of Baltimore,

Rev. Dr. WILLIAM E. WYATT,

JONATHAN MEREDITH,

Dr. PATRICK MACAULAY,

JOHN V. L. McMAHON,

FIELDING LUCAS, Jr.
Baltimore, October 13, 1840. Sir, At a meeting of the committee heretofore appointed at a general meeting of the citizens of Baltimore, for promoting the diffusion of knowledge by the adoption of M. Vattemere's system of exchanges, it was determined to create an institution for that object to be called, “The Maryland Institution of literature, science and art.”

JOSEPH W. PATTERSON.

Directors.

Dr. AIKEN,
GEO. W. ANDREWS,
J. H. ALEXANDER,
Rev. G. W. BURNAP,
W. BOSE,
McH. BOYD,
JNO L. CAREY,
Dr. COHEN,
Dr. DUCATEL,
G. W. DOBBIN,
THOS. EDMONDSON, Jr.
W. FRICK,
Dr. FONERDEN,
D. GREEN,
J. GREEN,
DAVID HOFFMAN,
P. R. HOFFMAN
WM. HAMILTON,
Baltimore, October 13, 1840. Sir, At a meeting of the committee heretofore appointed at a general meeting of the citizens of Baltimore, for promoting the diffusion of knowledge by the adoption of M. Vattemere's system of exchanges, it was determined to create an institution for that object to be called, “The Maryland Institution of literature, science and art.” http://www.loc.gov/resource/rbpe.03001800

WM. G. HARRISON,
W. H. KEIGHLER,
JNO. P. KENNEDY,
Dr. KEENER,
SAMUEL KIRK,
Capt. R. LESLIE,
G. W. LURMAN,
J. H. B. LATROBE,
R. CAREY LONG,
C. F. MAYER,
Dr. McCULLOH,
Dr. MONKUR,
Rev. Dr. MORRIS,
THOS. SWAN, Jr.
GIDEON B. SMITH,
OSMOND TIFFANY,
ROSS WINANS,
THOS. WILSON.

Corresponding Secretary. JAMES MASON CAMPBELL.

Recording Secretary. JOHN M. SUMNER.
Secretary of Exchanges. BRANTZ MAYER.

Treasurer. ROBERT MICKLE.

Maryland Institution of Literature Science & Art Appointment as Vice Pres t

BALTIMORE OCT. 20

Jonathan Meredith, Esq, Baltimore.

30/18