

BRITISH STORES WHICH COULD NOT BE REMOVED FROM GALLIPOLI
BURNING ON THE SHORES OF SUVLA BAY.
From a British Official Photograph Taken from the Deck of H. M. S. Cornwallis, the Last Ship to Leave the Dardanelles.

(Photo © by American Press Assn.)

CHILDREN OF CROWN PRINCE GUSTAVUS ADOLPHUS, SWEDEN.
They Are, Left to Right: Prince Bertil, the Youngest Child, Four Years Old Last Week; Princess Ingrid, and Princes Sigvard and Gustavus Adolphus.

(Photo from Press Illustrating Service.)

GENERAL COUSIN DECORATING HIS SON WITH
THE CROSS OF WAR IN THE COURTYARD
OF THE INVALIDES, PARIS.

(Photo
from Medem.)

(Photo © by International Film Service.)

Sergeant Slavika Tomitch, a Serbian Girl of 17 Who Enlisted in the Battalion of Major Wajo Tankositch, Named by the Austrian Government Among Those Responsible for the Assassination of Archduke Francis Ferdinand. She Was Promoted to the Sergency for Bravery on the Serbian Retreat.

BAVARIAN SKI RUNNERS ON SCOUT DUTY
IN THE VOSGES MOUNTAINS.

(Photo by Leipzig Press Bureau.)